Exploring Environmental Issues David D. Kemp, 2004-07-31 Global warming ozone depletion drought acid rain their causes are viewed as extraordinarily complex their effects are assumed catastrophic Exploring Environmental Issues provides a key to understanding our potential crisis The concise introductory text presents a review of current environmental issues using a geographical approach that stresses the interrelationships between environment and societies This user friendly volume is an essential book for students and all who are concerned with the nature of contemporary environmental issues Information is presented in a refreshing manner utilising over 170 figures and 50 photographs Global boxed case studies are used throughout to highlight and explore issues in more detail The text also contains discussion points annotated further reading and an extensive glossary

Writing Geographical Exploration Wayne Kenneth David Davies, Arctic Institute of North America, 2004 His tale of adventure should occupy a more prominent place in the study of exploration literature and history not only in Canada but also in his homeland of Wales Jacket

The Geography of the Canadian North Robert M. Bone, 2003 This text looks at the dual relationship of the Canadian north as both resource frontier and homeland of many Aboriginal groups Since the last edition of this text many changes have occurred raising the possibility that both the frontier and homeland concepts can become a northern reality These concepts are coherently presented throughout the book and brought to the fore in the concluding chapter

Presenting and Representing Environments Graham Humphrys, Michael Williams, 2006-01-27 The presentation and representation of the environment occurs throughout academia and across all news media The strict protocols of science often clash with environmental information available from sources that dwell on subjective aesthetic emotional and personal sensitivities This book challenge the reader as student teacher researcher or policy maker to reflect critically on the ways that environments are studied interpreted presented and represented in education and public policy Taking Stands Maureen Gail Reed, 2003 Environmental activism in rural places frequently pits residents whose livelihood depends on resource extraction against those who seek to protect natural spaces and species While many studies have focused on women who seek to protect the natural environment few have explored the perspectives of women who seek to maintain resource use This book goes beyond the dichotomies of pro and anti environmentalism to tell the stories of these women Maureen Reed uses participatory action research to explain the experiences of women who seek to protect forestry as an industry a livelihood a community and a culture She links their experiences to policy making by considering the effects of environmental policy changes on the social dynamics of workplaces households and communities in forestry towns of British Columbia s temperate rainforest The result is a critical commentary about the social dimensions of sustainability in rural communities A powerful and challenging book Taking Stands provides a crucial understanding of community change in resource dependent regions and helps us to better tackle the complexities of gender and activism as they relate to rural sustainability Social and environmental geographers feminist scholars and those engaged in rural studies environmental sustainability and community planning will find it invaluable Canada Brett McGillivray, 2006 Canada A Nation of Regions is a comprehensive survey of the regional geography of Canada Explaining the processes physical and human that have shaped and continue to modify this country Brett McGillivray tells the stories of the interactions between Canada s peoples and landscapes At the same time he draws attention to Canada s place in the global context and the international factors that have so much power to influence the direction of economic development here Designed to be accessible to students without any previous background while offering enough complexity for geography majors Canada A Nation of Regions provides a lively and engaging introduction to the discipline The Forestry Chronicle ,2003 Natural Resource Conservation Daniel D. Chiras, John P. Reganold, 2010 Intended for those interested in gaining a basic knowledge of natural resources and conservation Peace Research Abstracts Journal ,2003 The Writers Directory ,2013 Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02 Canadian Books in Print ,2003 Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 The Routledge Handbook of Tourism Impacts Dogan Gursoy, Robin Nunkoo, 2019-04-29 This handbook explores and critically examines both positive and negative impacts of tourism development focusing on the past present and future issues challenges and trends from a multidisciplinary global perspective Through a comparative approach involving international case studies this book explores our understanding of tourism impacts and contributes to the theoretical development on relationships between tourism impacts and community support for tourism development This handbook focuses on a variety of geographical locations drawing from the knowledge and expertise of highly regarded academics from around the world Specifically it explores the adoption and implementation of various tourism development and impact management approaches in a wide range of global contexts while identifying their trends issues and challenges It addresses strategies relating to innovation sustainability and social responsibility and critically reviews the economic sociocultural environmental political and technological impacts of tourism The text also identifies future trends and issues as well as exploring the methods used to study tourism impacts Conveying the latest thinking and research this handbook will be a key reference for students researchers and academics of tourism as well as development studies geography cultural studies sustainability and business encouraging dialogue across disciplinary boundaries and areas of study

Citizenship, Democracy and Higher Education in Europe, Canada and the USA J. Laker, C. Naval, K. Mrnjaus, 2014-06-23 Citizenship democracy and human rights have always been central to higher education and increasing globalization has amplified their urgency and complexity This volume explores conceptual theoretical and policy implications for post secondary education engaging with these topics comparing the USA Canada Eastern Europe and Western Europe

Resource & Environmental Management Bruce Mitchell, 2013-12-16 This book does an exceptional job in giving an understanding of change complexity uncertainty and conflict as well as their linkages including awareness of strategies methods and techniques to handle them relative to resource and environmental management The text enhances the reader s capacity to conduct practice and conduct research in resource and environmental management
