Film, a Modern Art Aaron Sultanik, 1986      Film Scripts George Garrett, O. B. Hardison, Jane R. It features essays presenting a range of generational and cultural perspectives.      It's Only a Movie! Raymond J. Haberski Jr., 2021-10-21 Once derided as senseless entertainment movies have gradually assumed a place among the arts. Raymond Haberski's provocative and insightful book traces the trajectory of this evolution throughout the twentieth century from nickelodeon amusements to the age of the financial blockbuster. Haberski begins by looking at the barriers to film's acceptance as an art form including the Chicago Motion Picture Commission hearings of 1918-1920, one of the most revealing confrontations over the use of censorship in the motion picture industry. He then examines how movies overcame the stigma attached to popular entertainment through such watershed events as the creation of the Museum of Modern Art's Film Library in the 1920s. The arguments between Pauline Kael and Andrew Sarris heralded a golden age of criticism, and Haberski focuses on the roles of Kael, Sarris, James Agee, Roger Ebert, and others in the creation of cinephilia. Described by Susan Sontag as born of the conviction that cinema was an art unlike any other, this love of cinema centered on coffee houses, universities, art theaters, film festivals, and of course foreign films. The lively debates over the place of movies in American culture began to wane in the 1970s. Haberski places the blame on the loss of cultural authority and on the increasing irrelevance of the meaning of art. He concludes with a persuasive call for the re-emergence of a middle ground between art and entertainment, something more complex, ambiguous, and vexing, something worth thought.

education theory cinema studies literary and aesthetic theory and historical studies The aim of this collection is to use the critical interventions Rancière's writing makes on current topics and themes as a way of offering new critical perspectives on his thought Wielding their individual expertise each contributor assesses his perspectives and positions on thinkers and topics of contemporary importance The edition includes a new essay by Jacques Rancière which charts the different problems and motivations that have shaped his work     Vanity Fair ,1927     The Hollywood Brand Peter Catapano,2018-01-31 The Hollywood Brand traces the development of the moving picture from its humble roots as an object of mass amusement to its transformation into an art form worthy of exhibition in museums and academic study in leading universities This book provides historical context to the ideas that coalesce to create the iconic Hollywood brand that comes to define American identity     The Thought of Stanley Cavell and Cinema David LaRocca,2020-01-23 Stanley Cavell was by many accounts America's greatest philosophical thinker of film Like Bazin in France and Perkins in England Cavell did not just transform the American capacity to take film as a subject for philosophical criticism he had to first invent that legitimacy Part of that effort involved the creation of several key now canonical texts in film studies among them the seminal The World Viewed along with Pursuits of Happiness and Contesting Tears The present collection offers for the first time anywhere a concerted effort mounted by some of today's most compelling writers on film to take careful account of Cavell's legacy The contributors think anew about what precisely Cavell contributed what holds up what is in need of revision or updating and how his writing continues to be of vital significance and relevance for any contemporary approach to the philosophy of film     Film Study Frank Manichal,1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities     The Film Experience Timothy Corrigan,Patricia White,2012-01-03 A comprehensive introduction to film that recognizes students as movie fans and helps them understand the art form's full scope The authors situate their strong coverage of the medium's formal elements within the larger cultural contexts that inform the ways we watch film from economics and exhibition to marketing and the star system Blackwells

Cinema 16 Scott MacDonald,2010-06-10 The history of Cinema 16 the nation's first film society through letters programs interviews and the society's own documents     Educational Films ,1973     A Cinema Without Walls Timothy Corrigan,1991 Corrigan argues that in the past 25 years the increased conglomerization of film production distribution companies and the rise of VCR satellite and cable television technologies have altered the way films are made and how we view them The result is a growing internationalization of national cinema cultures and an increasing fragmentation of the audience Video has reduced the movie to private and domestic performance At the same time audiences are bombarded with a surfeit of images that leaves them with a battered sense of their place in history and culture Corrigan notes that combined with what many critics have recognized as the growing incoherence in film texts these facts make it more meaningful to discuss films not as texts but as multiple cultural and commercial processes constructed by increasingly specialized audiences ISBN 0 8135 1667 6 36 00 LIFE, 1949-05-16 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today s people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use
