Vicarious Dreaming Ernest Hunter, 2019-05-01 Millions of years in the making sustaining human voyagers and societies for millennia a couple of centuries of that by Europeans the Great Barrier Reef in maybe five or six decades the largest living structure visible from space will have become the largest dead one Vicarious Dreaming documents a series of personal voyages between Cooktown and the Torres Strait that are interwoven with accounts of exploration exploitation and escape The travels and tales coalesce around the works of Ion Idriess and the lives of solitary men at the edge of the world drawn to the wild by folly and obsession and to an island in the Howick Group that Idriess knew well and which was the site of his first book Madman s Island And as with the slow motion ecological catastrophe that is the Reef s agonal decline there are players and bystanders stories of people and places of life and death of arrivals and departures and of journeys that involve even the most remote uninhabited spaces the necklace of islands scattered along more than two thousand kilometres of Queensland's Coral Sea coast At once a journey into the far north of Australia and into the furthest depths of the human mind A tale of Cape York's past and a new chapter in the exploration of its present A dream narrative maybe a case study perhaps literary art yes absolutely in its purest and most ambitious form Nicholas Rothwell American Book Publishing Record ,2002 Rough Guide Australië Margo Daly,2016-01-08

ONTDEK elk deel van Australië en maak daarbij gebruik van de heldere plattegronden en kaartjes BEPAAL wat je wilt zien en laat je daarbij inspireren door de mooie fotos LEES de deskundige achtergrondinformatie van de rotskunst van de Aboriginals tot het duiken bij het Great Barrier Reef VERTROUW op onze selectie van de beste plekken om te overnachten en te eten Brave Mark Whittaker,2011-08-01 Would you squeeze your way into a shoulder width pitch dark stormwater drain to rescue a kid as it flooded Would you knowingly cop a 20 000 volt electric shock to save a friend and his child Would you swim out from the beach to rescue a man bitten by a five metre white pointer while the shark is still circling him Would you run into the carnage of a burning Bali nightclub to save people when anyone who can still walk is running the other way These are decisions made in a split second by ordinary people placed in extraordinary circumstances Yet those decisions can and usually do have an impact that lasts a lifetime So what happens to these ordinary heroes once the newspaper headlines have disappeared and the medal award ceremony is a distant memory Mark Whittaker Walkley Award winning journalist and author has written a unique account that follows men and women in amazing acts of bravery and then the long aftermath as they deal with an array of issues from guilt to post traumatic stress that were the furthest things from their minds when they made that split second decision to risk their own life for someone else's Brave is in every sense of the word extraordinary both in its approach the people it describes and honours and in the effect it has on the reader It is compelling complex heart breaking and uplifting Bomber Mark Whittaker,Tony Bower-Miles,2009-10-01 Tony Bomber Bower Miles was a young sapper in the Australian Army when he first went to Vietnam in the late 1960s Land mines were one of the biggest threats faced by troops on both sides and much of Bomber's work involved laying or clearing these terrible devices He saw mates and colleagues killed and horribly injured around him in a war that was confusing terrifying and devastating to everyone that it touched He returned to Australia scarred battered and unable to relate to a peacetime world Alcohol became his way of escaping and his life spiralled down into addiction and violence He could easily have been lost another vet unable to cope another grim statistic put down to the tragedy of Vietnam But Bomber wasn't ready to let the war beat him after all these years In 2001 he returned to South East Asia putting his old skills to work in the dangerous job of clearing the millions of forgotten land mines that litter Cambodia Starting from scratch with makeshift equipment Bomber established the Vietnam Veterans Mine Clearing Team an NGO with a difference as those who fought now help others still suffering the consequences of the conflict Bomber is his story Tough and uncompromising it reveals the true face of war in all its brutality But it also tells of redemption and humanity a tale of real Australian heroism Sins of the Brother Les Kennedy, Mark Whittaker, 2007-11-10 Like the Beaumont children and the Azaria Chamberlain cases before it the backpacker murder case in Belanglo State Forest has entered Australian criminal folklore Seven young people most of them foreigners backpacking around Australia brutally murdered their remains uncovered in 1992 and 1993 It would take scores of police over three years countless hours of forensic investigation thousands of false leads and a few precious clues to charge and convict Ivan Milat for their horrific deaths Sins of the Brother is the definitive work on Ivan Milat his family and the murders Almost four years in the making informed by exclusive interviews with members of the Milat family key police investigators and Crown lawyers this book reveals a family culture so bizarre it would lead inexorably to murder It also scrutinises the police investigation its remarkable success and failures the dramatic turning point and the backbiting and bitterness that followed Milat's arrest Thought provoking totally unsalacious an exploration of the darker side of Australian life as a whole Sins of the Brother is a detailed and gripping read a psychological thriller come to life Bomber Tony Bower-Miles, Mark Whittaker, 2011 Tony Bomber Bower Miles was a young sapper in the Australian Army when he first went to Vietnam in 1969 Landmines were one of the biggest threats faced by troops on both sides and Bomber's work involved the dangerous task of clearing them He saw mates killed and horribly injured leaving him with a deep rooted hatred of these deadly weapons He returned to Australia scarred and unable to relate to a peacetime world Alcohol became his way of escaping and his life spiralled down into addiction and violence But Bomber wasn't ready to let the war beat him In 2001 he returned to South East Asia putting his old skills to work in clearing the millions of forgotten land mines that litter Cambodia Starting from scratch Bomber established the Vietnam Veterans Mine Clearing Team an NGO with a difference as those who fought now help others still suffering the consequences of the conflict Bomber is his story Tough and uncompromising it reveals the brutal face of war but also tells of redemption and humanity in the most challenging of circumstances Making the Most of Your Journey Reader's Digest Australia Staff, 2009 This carefully researched and beautifully illustrated guide is the ultimate companion for anyone planning a road trip in Australia Every significant route from Broome to Tasmania is detailed in strip maps covering more than 30 000 km of highways that show motorists what they can see nearby and how they can get there For those with a little more time there are recommendations for longer side trips and special features on cities and larger tourist destinations This detailed and indispensable volume covering tranquil beaches historic sites charming country hotels and everything in between will transform any Australian road journey into an unforgettable experience A Journey Through Australia Elspeth Huxley, 1967 One for the Road Tony Horwitz, 1999-10-05 A high spirited comic ramble into the savage Outback populated by irreverent beer guzzling frontiersmen Chicago Tribune A fascinating insight into what we're all about on the highways and byways along the outback track The Telegraph Sydney Swept off to live in Sydney by his Australian bride American writer Tony Horwitz longs to explore the exotic reaches of his adopted land So one day armed only with a backpack and fantasies of the open road he hitchhikes off into the awesome emptiness of Australia's outback. What follows is a hilarious hair-raising ride into the hot red center of a continent so desolate that civilization dwindles to a gas pump and a pub. While the outback's terrain is inhospitable, its scattered inhabitants are anything but. Horwitz entrusts himself to Aborigines, opal diggers, jackeroos, card sharks, and sunstruck wanderers who measure distance in the number of beers consumed en route. Along the way, Horwitz discovers that the outback is as treacherous as it is colorful. Bug-bitten, sunblasted, dust-choked, and bloodied by a near-fatal accident, Horwitz endures seven thousand miles of the world's most forbidding real estate and some very bizarre personal encounters as he winds his way to Queensland, Alice Springs, Perth, Darwin, and a hundred bush pubs in between. Horwitz, the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of two national bestsellers, Confederates in the Attic and Baghdad Without a Map, is the ideal tour guide for anyone who has ever dreamed of a genuine Australian adventure. Lively, fast-paced, and amusing, a consistently interesting and entertaining account. Kirkus Reviews: Ironical, perceptive, and subtle, will have readers getting out their maps and itching to follow Horwitz's tracks. The internal journey is his finest achievement; he allows the reader into his heart to go travelling with him, there sharing his adventures of the spirit. Sunday Times, London.
