Robber Bride Canadian 1st Edition:

The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1929 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1901 Contemporary Canadian Women's Fiction C. Howells,2003-08-22 This book charts the significant changes in contemporary Canada's literary profile since the mid 1990s within a context of the new national rhetoric of multiculturalism By looking closely at a representative range of fictions in English by women from a variety of ethnocultural backgrounds Howells examines the complexities embedded within Canadian identity What does Refiguring Identities mean for these writers given their individual agendas and the multiple affiliation of any woman's identity construction All these writers are engaged in rewriting history across generation and Howells argues that woman's fiction negotiates new possibilities for cultural change introducing more heterogeneous narratives of identity in multi cultural Canada The Broadview Anthology of Short Fiction - Third Edition Sara Levine,Don LePan,Marjorie Mather,2013-03-14 This selection of 45 stories from Nathaniel Hawthorne to Shaun Tan shows the range of short fiction in the past 150 years This third edition includes more works from the past 20 years and a greater representation of American authors new to this edition are works by Katherine Anne Porter Grace Paley Donald Barthelme Edward P Jones Gish Jen and George Saunders among others Stories are organized chronologically annotated and prefaced by engaging short introductions Also included is a glossary of basic critical terms The Settlers in Canada ... New Edition, with Illustrations by Gilbert and Dalziel Frederick Marryat,1869 Writing with Intent Margaret Atwood,2009-04-21 From one of the world's most passionately engaged and acclaimed literary citizens comes Writing with Intent the largest collection to date of Margaret Atwood's nonfiction ranging from 1983 to 2005 Composed of autobiographical essays cultural commentary book reviews and introductory pieces to great works of literature this is the award winning author's first book length nonfiction publication in twenty years Arranged chronologically these writings display the development of Atwood's worldview as the world around her changes Included are the Booker Prize winning author's reviews of books by John Updike Italo Calvino Toni Morrison and others as well as essays in which she remembers herself reading Virginia Woolf's To the Lighthouse at age nineteen and discusses the influence of George Orwell's 1984 on the writing of The Handmaid's Tale Atwood's New York Times Book Review piece that helped make Orhan Pamuk's Snow a bestseller can be found here as well as a look back on a family trip to Afghanistan just before the Soviet invasion and her Letter to America written after September 11 2001 The insightful and memorable pieces in this book serve as a testament to Atwood's career reminding readers why she is one of the most esteemed writers of our time The Prestige of Violence Sally Bachner,2011 In The Prestige of Violence Sally Bachner argues that starting in the 1960s American fiction laid claim to the status of serious literature by placing violence at the heart of its mission and then insisting that this violence could not be represented Bachner demonstrates how many of the most influential novels of this period are united by the dramatic opposition they draw between a debased and untrustworthy conventional language on the one hand and a violence that appears to be prelinguistic and unquestionable on the other. Genocide, terrorism, war, torture, slavery, rape, and murder are major themes, yet the writers insist that such events are unspeakable. Bachner takes issue with the claim made within trauma studies that history is the site of violent trauma inaccessible to ordinary representation. Instead, she argues both trauma studies and the fiction to which it responds institutionalize an inability to address violence. Examining such works as Vladimir Nabokov's Pale Fire, Thomas Pynchon's The Crying of Lot 49, Norman Mailer's Armies of the Night, Margaret Atwood's Surfacing, and Philip Roth's The Plot Against America, Bachner locates the postwar prestige of violence in the disjunction between the privileged security of wealthier Americans and the violence perpetrated by the United States abroad. The literary investment in the unspeakable and often immaterial violence emerges in Bachner's readings as a complex and ideologically varied literary solution to the political geography of violence in our time.

A New Anthology of Canadian Literature in English Donna Bennett, Russell Brown, 2002. This second edition of Oxford's popular one-volume Anthology of Canadian Literature in English provides the essential texts for students, balancing the canon as it has traditionally been presented with the broader perspectives that have emerged in recent years. It highlights the connections between various texts, setting tradition and innovation in dialogue.

The Handbook of the Gothic Marie Mulvey-Roberts, 2016-11-09. This revised new edition of The Handbook of the Gothic contains over one hundred entries on Gothic writers, themes, terms, concepts, contexts, and locations, featuring new entries on writers including Stephen King and Wilkie Collins, new genres, and a new Preface which situates the handbook within current studies of the Gothic.

Contemporary Women's Gothic Fiction Gina Wisker, 2016-11-04. This book revives and revitalises the literary Gothic in the hands of contemporary women writers. It makes a scholarly, lively, and convincing case that the Gothic makes horror respectable and establishes contemporary women's Gothic fictions in and against traditional Gothic. The book provides new, engaging perspectives on established contemporary women's Gothic writers, with a particular focus on Angela Carter, Margaret Atwood, and Toni Morrison. It explores how the Gothic is malleable in their hands and is used to demythologise oppressions based on difference in gender and ethnicity. The study presents new Gothic work and new nuances, critiques of dangerous complacency, and radical questionings of what is safe and conformist in works as diverse as Twilight, Stephenie Meyer's A Girl Walks Home Alone at Night, Ana Lily Amirpur's As Well as by Anne Rice and Poppy Brite. It also introduces and critically explores postcolonial vampire and neohistorical Gothic and women's ghost stories.

Wilderness Tips Margaret Atwood, 2010-12-22. An award-winning collection of ten stories that charts the complexities of modern life and explores the strange and secret places of the heart. The gruesome discoveries of an archaeological dig in Britain find parallels in a contemporary love affair; a girl disappears without a trace and returns to haunt a collection of landscape paintings; a nineteenth-century case of mass poisoning on the famous Franklin Expedition stirs memories of a dead friend; a woman exacts a fittingly wicked revenge on her ex-lover; a well-known journalist is betrayed by a former mentor and friend. Brilliantly rendered disturbing poignant at times scathingly humorous at others Wilderness Tips imbues the familiar world in which we live with indelible truths British Books ,1903 Cultural Circulation Waldemar Zacharasiewicz, Christoph Irmscher,2013 The present volume is based on an international colloquium convened in 2010 to which scholars from North America and Europe contributed papers dealing with the historical cultural and literary connections between Canada and the American South The essays on this broad but under researched topic are arranged in four sections reflecting the multiple ties and the cultural circulation between the two large North American regions They illuminate demographic facts and developments and their literary representations such as the enforced displacement of the 18th century Acadiens who later reassembled in Louisiana Cajun culture and the flight of thousands of fugitive African American slaves to the safe haven of Canada Special attention is focused on the intertextual links between Southern writers and their Canadian counterparts with William Faulkner and Eudora Welty especially providing inspiration for Canadian authors such as Alice Munro Jack Hodgins and Margaret Atwood Traces of Aging Marta Cerezo Moreno,Nieves Pascual Soler,2016-05-15 This collection consists of eight essays that examine the way narratives determine our understanding of old age and condition how the experience is lived Contributors to this volume have based their analysis on the concept of narrative identity developed by Paul Ricoeur built upon the idea that fiction makes life and on his definition of trace as the mark of time By investigating the traces of aging imprinted in a series of literary and filmic works they dismantle the narrative of old age as decline and foreclosure to assemble one of transformation and growth Transnational Women's Fiction S. Strehle,2008-04-01 This study argues that the private homes in transnational women s fiction reflect public legacies of colonialism Published in Australia Canada India Nigeria Puerto Rico and the United States between 1995 and 2005 the novels use fictional houses to criticize and unsettle home and homeland depicting their linked oppressions and exclusions Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico,1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women s studies Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors
