space.time.narrative Frank den Ouden,2016-12-05 Making exhibitions is a collaborative art producing is a multi layered unity of ideas and objects of invention and manifestation of content and form However there is an antagonistic dimension to it because content and form are traditionally represented by the entirely different realms of curator and designer Future successful developments in exhibition making are dependent on whether this gap of antagonism can be bridged space time narrative calls for a paradigmatic shift of focus It puts forward a unique approach breaking down traditional barriers and offering a wide ranging theoretical context redefining and expanding the parameters and the dynamics of the exhibition format in terms of an open narrative environment which at its roots displays deep similarities with performance on stage or installation in urban and rural space The book breaks new ground by looking at the exhibition as a cultural format firstly within a great sweep of the arts in general weaving a web of philosophical museological linguistic and media theoretical references which expands the contextual field of the profession It then offers unique and important insights from within in extreme close up by bringing together interviews with six of the leading exhibition designers who discuss the dynamics of the medium its interactive dimensions the soft parameters of the exhibition and how to get to grips with the format as a complex narrative space in which the public takes part Curator and designer should reposition themselves professionally at the heart of the axis which divides or connects content and form In Contact With the Gods? Maria M. Delgado,Paul

Heritage,1996 Rarely has the private world of the director in the rehearsal room been so frankly and entertainingly opened In addition to the art and craft of directing they discuss multiculturalism the classical repertoire theatre companies and institutions working in a foreign language opera Shakespeare new technologies the art of acting design international festivals politics and aesthetics the audience theatre and society Artists' SoHo Richard Kostelanetz,2015-01-02 During the 1960s and 1970s in New York City young artists exploited an industrial wasteland to create spacious studios where they lived and worked redefining the Manhattan area just south of Houston Street Its use fueled not by city planning schemes but by word of mouth recommendations the area soon grew to become a world class center for artistic creation indeed the largest urban artists colony ever in America let alone the world Richard Kostelanetz s Artists SoHo not only examines why the artists came and how they accomplished what they did but also delves into the lives and works of some of the most creative personalities who lived there during that period including Nam June Paik Robert Wilson Meredith Monk Richard Foreman Hannah Wilke George MacQuinn and Alan Suicini Gallerists followed the artists in fashioning themselves their homes their buildings and even their streets into transiently prominent exhibition and performance spaces SoHo pioneer Richard Kostelanetz's extensively researched intimate history is framed within a personal memoir that unearths myriad perspectives social and cultural history the changing rules for residency and ownership the ethos of the community the physical layouts of the lofts the types of art produced venues that opened and closed the daily rhythm and the gradual invasion of new people Artists SoHo also explores how and why this fertile bohemia couldn't last forever As wealthier people paid higher prices galleries left younger artists settled elsewhere and the neighborhood became a SoHo Mall of trendy stores and restaurants Compelling and often humorous Artists SoHo provides an analysis of a remarkable neighborhood that transformed the art and culture of New York City over the past five decades Land/scape/theater Elinor Fuchs,Una Chaudhuri,2002 Essays by leading theater scholars and theorists exploring the turn to landscape in modern and contemporary theater A Dictionary of the Avant-gardes Richard Kostelanetz,H. Robert Oppenheimer Michael A Day,2015-09-15 Michael Day's insightful philosophical biography of J Robert Oppenheimer stands out from other works on the so called father of the atomic bomb by its focus on the post war period and by the depth of its philosophical engagement with his humanistic thought on science and culture Centaurus ReviewIncorporating elements from history science philosophy and international relations theory this book takes a fresh look at the life and thought of Robert Oppenheimer The author argues that not only are Oppenheimer's ideas important engaging and relevant but also more coherent than generally assumed He makes a convincing case that Oppenheimer has much to say about 21st century issues and his voice should be brought back into the public forum The book recovers and reconstructs what Oppenheimer said and wrote during the 1940s 50s and 60s i e his hope and vision with the goal of identifying what might be of general philosophical interest today It considers not only Oppenheimer's thought but also his life using philosophical ideas developed by contemporary philosophers In addition to deepen and broaden the discussion and demonstrate the relevance of Oppenheimer's vision for the present the author analyzes his views using contemporary international relations theory with a special emphasis on nuclear nonproliferation and disarmament This examination reveals ways in which Oppenheimer's reasoning was prescient of current work being carried out to control and possibly move beyond the nuclear revolution Hamlet in Pieces Andy Lavender,2003-02-12 Within the space of a year between 1995 and 1996 three highly unusual shows were produced by three celebrated figures in world theatre Qui Est La directed by Peter Brook Elsinore directed by Robert Lepage and Hamlet a monologue directed by Robert Wilson Each was a version at least in part of Shakespeare's Hamlet although none of them treated the show in anything like an orthodox manner
