Seeing Through The Media:

Seeing Through the Media Susan Jeffords, Lauren Rabinovitz, 1994 An eye opening look at the effect of the media on public perception of The Persian Gulf War Music, Electronic Media and Culture Simon Emmerson, 2016-04-29 Technology revolutionised the ways that music was produced in the twentieth century As that century drew to a close and a new century begins a new revolution in roles is underway The separate categories of composer performer distributor and listener are being challenged while the sounds of the world itself become available for musical use All kinds of sounds are now brought into the remit of composition enabling the music of others to be sampled or plundered including that of unwitting musicians from non western cultures This sound world may appear contradictory stimulating and invigorating as well as exploitative and destructive This book addresses some of the issues now posed by the brave new world of music produced with technology Media & Performance Johannes H. Birringer, 1998 The author discusses the performance aspects of such political events as the breaching of the Berlin wall and the destruction of Sarajevo and examines the use of video and agitprop performance in political activity including protests by the gay activist group ACT UP and the disquieting performances of the former pornography actress and sex worker Annie Sprinkle Birringer ends with a discussion of the continuing incursions of business into digital media including the imperialism of technological enhancements as experienced in the culture of constant upgrades and the omnipresence of Bill Gates AIDS TV Alexandra Juhasz, Catherine Gund, 1995 Camcorder AIDS activism is a prime example of a new form of political expression an outburst of committed low budget community produced political video work made possible by new accessible technologies As Alexandra Juhasz looks at this phenomenon why and how video has become the medium for so much AIDS activism she also tries to make sense of the bigger picture How is this work different from mainstream television How does it alter what we think of the media s form and function The result is an eloquent and vital assessment of the role media activism plays in the development of community identity and self empowerment An AIDS videomaker herself Juhasz writes from the standpoint of an AIDS activist and blends feminist film critique with her own experience She offers a detailed description of alternative AIDS video including her own work on the Women s AIDS Video Enterprise WAVE Along with WAVE Juhasz discusses amateur video tapes of ACT UP demonstrations safer sex videos produced by Gay Men s Health Crisis public access programming and PBS documentaries as well as network television productions From its close up look at camcorder AIDS activism to its critical account of mainstream representations AIDS TV offers a better understanding of the media politics identity and community in the face of AIDS It will challenge and encourage those who hope to change the course of this crisis both in the real world and in the world of representation A Companion to Media Studies Angharad N. Valdivia, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Media Studies is a comprehensive collection that brings together new writings by an international team to provide an overview of the theories and methodologies that have produced this most interdisciplinary of fields Tackles a variety of central concepts and

Digital Media Schafer, Stephen Brock, 2016-01-28 For decades we have witnessed the emergence of a media age of illusion that is based on the principles of physics the multidimensionality immateriality and non locality of the unified field of energy and information as a virtual reality As a result a new paradigm shift has reframed the cognitive unconscious of individuals and collectives and generated a worldview in which mediated illusion prevails Exploring the Collective Unconscious in a Digital Age investigates the cognitive significance of an altered mediated reality that appears to have all the dimensions of a dreamscape This book presents the idea that if the digital media sphere proves to be structurally and functionally analogous to a dreamscape the Collective Unconscious researched by Carl Jung and the Cognitive Unconscious researched by George Lakoff are susceptible to research according to the parameters of hard science This pivotal research based publication is ideally designed for use by psychologists theorists researchers and graduate level students studying human cognition and the influence of the digital media revolution Handbook of Journalism and Media: India, Bharat, Hindustan Reddy,

Kovuuri G., 2015 The aim of this book is to familiarize the readers with topics that make news with the subjects that invariably draw the attention of the journalists because they may matter to the audience and with the themes that are newsworthy and recurring The book explains those words that could be confusing and which are utterly Indian or may not echo all over the country The book is useful for student journalists and media professionals for those whose interests or careers are closely related with journalism media and public relations and for those who want to know and report on India or from Bharat or out of Hindustan KEY FEATURES Highly useful and informative Covers all platforms of journalism and media newspapers magazines radio television and Internet A Journalism and Media Calendar at the end Reference to news items published in real newspapers websites The Screen Media Reader Stephen Monteiro, 2017-01-12 As mobile communication social media wireless networks and flexible user interfaces become prominent topics in the study of media and culture the screen emerges as a critical research area This reader brings together insightful and influential texts from a variety of sources theorists researchers critics inventors and artists that explore the screen as a fundamental element not only in popular culture but also in our very understanding of society and the world The Screen Media Reader is a foundational resource for studying the screen and its cultural impact Through key contemporary and historical texts addressing the screen's development and role in communications and the social sphere it considers how the screen functions as an idea an object and an everyday experience Reflecting a number of descriptive and analytical approaches these essays illustrate the astonishing range and depth of the screen's introduction and application in multiple media configurations and contexts Together they demonstrate the long standing influence of the screen as a cultural concept and communication tool that extends well beyond contemporary debates over screen saturation and addiction
