Macroeconomic Analysis in the Classical Tradition James C W Ahlpor,2021-03-23 Macroeconomic Analysis in the Classical Tradition explains how the influence of Keynes's macroeconomics including his changed definitions of some key macroeconomic concepts has impeded many analysts' ability to readily resolve disputes in modern macroeconomics. Expanding on his earlier work Macroeconomics without the Errors of Keynes 2019 the author delves into more aspects of macroeconomic theory and argues for a revision of Keynes's contribution to the field. Attention is given to theories and concepts such as Say's Law, the quantity theory of money, the liquidity trap, the permanent income hypothesis, 100% money, and the Phillips curve analysis. The chapters work to build a careful critique of Keynes's economics and make the case that the classical macroeconomics of Smith, Say, Ricardo, Mill, and others could help resolve present-day policy disagreements and redefine macroeconomic priorities. This book provides essential reading for advanced students and scholars with an interest in the foundations of Keynes's theories and current debates within macroeconomic policy.

Handbook of Forest Resource Economics Shashi Kant, Janaki Alavalapati, 2014-04-03 It is increasingly recognized that the economic value of forests is not merely the production of timber. Forests provide other key ecosystem services such as being sinks for greenhouse gases, hotspots of biodiversity, tourism, and recreation. They are also vitally important in preventing soil erosion and controlling water supplies, as well as providing non-timber forest products and supporting the livelihoods of many local people. This handbook provides a detailed, comprehensive, and broad coverage of forest economics, including traditional forest economics, timber production, economics of environmental role of forests, and recent developments in forest economics. The chapters are grouped into six parts: fundamental topics in forest resource economics, economics of forest ecosystems, economics of forests, climate change and bioenergy, economics of risk, uncertainty, and natural disturbances, economics of forest property rights and certification, and emerging issues and developments. Written by leading environmental, forest, and natural resource economists, the book represents a definitive reference volume for students of economics, environment, forestry, and natural resource economics and management.
