The Modern American Pistol and Revolver Arthur Corbin Gould, 2015-08-04. Excerpt from The Modern American Pistol and Revolver Including a Description of Modern Pistols and Revolvers of American Make, Ammunition Used in These Arms, Results Accomplished, and Shooting Rules Followed by American Marksmen. For many years, the author was among the great number of persons who believed it was impossible to do fine shooting with a pistol beyond a few yards and out of the question to secure much accuracy from a revolver. With the object of learning the limit of accuracy, these arms possessed a great many experiments were arranged and exhibitions given by the most skilful marksmen to be found. The spirit of rivalry soon became apparent and without doubt has considerably aided in determining the possibilities of the pistol and revolver. The author feels that his labors have not been in vain as he has the testimony of manufacturers of these arms as well as cartridge makers that the results obtained within a period of three years are finer than it was thought possible. foreign target and duelling pistols of recent manufacture are made breechloading and loaded in the manner described The expert pistol shot is well aware that he can secure a great advantage by preparing ammunition for certain purposes in a manner different from the way the manufacturer makes it for the trade but this point will
