lived and died Far away in the good State of Virginia an old gray stone house with tall piazza and peaked roof and overlooking cupola stands on an elevated bank which is beautifully shaded by many different trees while the broad river Potomac flows grandly below this is Mount Vernon Good men love their homes General Washington loved Mount Vernon very dearly About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Mount Vernon, a letter to the Children of America. expansive philosophy that includes familial patriotic and humanitarian stewardships thus embracing the human element as well as the environmental Dr Kurth s research on the life and works of Cooper dates back to the early 1970s during which time she discovered nineteen of Cooper s works and as a result in 1977 published the first extensive annotated bibliography of her writings In her engaging book Dr Kurth not only meaningfully and relevantly brings to her work other nineteenth century writers including Thoreau but also nineteenth century women novelists both English and American Dr Kurth also intertwines the results of her lifelong interest in fine art and artistic inclinations as she demonstrates in instances the results of Cooper s remarkable artistic tendencies as manifested in some of her writings Included in this work are Cooper s impassioned series of articles never before treated and with extensive documentation that deal largely with the displacement of the Oneida Indians and their subsequent plight and on related land issues representing in essence the plight of the entire race Comprehensively treated Susan Fenimore Cooper s literary works reveal not only a learned talented cultivated and creative woman writer but also the observant concerned and enlightened mind of a woman expressing herself timelessly on momentous issues not only of man in relation to the natural world around him but of man in relation to his fellow man

Domesticating History Patricia West, 2013-09-03 Celebrating the lives of famous men and women historic house museums showcase restored rooms and period furnishings and portray in detail their former occupants daily lives But behind the gilded molding and curtain brocade lie the largely unknown politically charged stories of how the homes were first established as museums Focusing on George Washington s Mount Vernon Louisa May Alcott s Orchard House Thomas Jefferson s Monticello and the Booker T Washington National Monument Patricia West shows how historic houses reflect less the lives and times of their famous inhabitants than the political pressures of the eras during which they were transformed into museums

Susan Fenimore Cooper Rochelle Johnson, Daniel Patterson, 2001 Collected here are detailed and diverse essays some that examine Rural Hours Susan Fenimore Cooper s most famous work and others that help establish Cooper as a major practitioner and theorist of American nature writing and as a socially engaged artist in many other genres These essays discuss Cooper s uses and manipulations of various literary conventions such as the picturesque the literary village sketch and domestic fiction and illuminate her positions on conservation religion and woman s place in society The engaging collection is divided into four sections The first features essays examining Cooper s work in light of her relationship with her famous literary father James Fenimore Cooper and their devotion to and cultivation of each other s careers The second focuses on Cooper s fascination with landscape and its relation to her environmental philosophies Rural Hours is the subject of the third section which presents new readings on its subtly crafted authorial stance its two complementary conceptions of time and its re valuation of rural and scientific ways of knowing The collection concludes with four works whose insights into Cooper s views on gender domesticity and environmental philosophy grow out of comparisons with several contemporary women writers These remarkable essays by both established and emerging scholars of nineteenth century literature present new findings and insights into a writer who is being reintroduced to the fields of eco criticism and American literature

Lives Out of Letters Robert N. Hudspeth, 2004 Though the efficacy of literary biography has been widely contested by academic theorists attention to the lives of authors remains an enduring fact of our literary history Dedicated to Robert N Hudspeth editor of the Letters of Margaret Fuller and the Correspondence of Henry David Thoreau the eleven essays in this collection address from a practitioner's perspective the relationship between American literary biography documentation and interpretation American Publishers' Circular and Literary Gazette, 1859 Nineteenth-century Studies, 1997

Remodeling the Nation Duncan Faherty, 2007 In this interdisciplinary study Faherty argues that throughout the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Americans conceptualized their still unsettled political and social states through metaphors of home building During this period a pervasive concern with the design and furnishing of houses helped writers to manage previous encounters with settlements both native and European and to imagine and remodel a new national ideal By aligning the period's architectural concerns registered in both the interior and exterior of houses with concurrent debates about the need to create a national identity in the wake of the American Revolution Faherty registers how representations of the house were a crucial locus for debating broadly shared concerns about the anxieties of nation building Topics include Abraham Lincoln's use of architectural motifs in his 1858 senatorial campaign the house divided against itself speech the arguments about domestic identity embodied in the designs of Mount Vernon and Monticello the lingering import of colonial and indigenous settlements on post revolutionary culture as registered in the work of William Bartram and Lewis and Clark Charles Brockden Brown's representations of the multivalent legacies of Pennsylvania's architectural landscapes Washington Irving's attempts to preserve and remodel national architectural and literary practices by underscoring the manufactured nature of European cultural production the shifting importance of the house and American attitudes toward nature in the work of three generations of the Cooper family and the gendering of domestic space in the work of Edgar Allen Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne and Herman Melville Richly informed by contemporary work in literary studies history art history and cultural criticism Remodeling the Nation ranges incisively across the work of political theorists social critics novelists poets natural historians landscape artists travel writers and authors of architectural and domestic treatises Confederate Veteran, 1926
