Babits Mihály összegyűjtött versei Babits Mihály, Összegyűjtött versei Dezső Kosztolányi, 1980 Összegyűjtött versei Mihály Babits, 2005 Kosztolányi Dezső összegyűjtött versei Dezső Kosztolányi, 1962 The Garden and the Workshop Péter Hanák, 2014-07-14 A century ago Vienna and Budapest were the capital cities of the western and eastern halves of the increasingly unstable Austro Hungarian empire and scenes of intense cultural activity Vienna was home to such figures as Sigmund Freud Gustav Klimt and Hugo von Hofmannsthal Budapest produced such luminaries as Bertolt Brecht and Michael and Karl Polanyi However as Peter Hanák shows in these vignettes of Fin de Siècle life the intellectual and artistic vibrancy common to the two cities emerged from deeply different civic cultures Hanák surveys the urban development of the two cities and reviews the effects of modernization on various aspects of their cultures He examines the process of physical change as rapid population growth industrialization and the rising middle class ushered in a new age of tenements suburbs and town planning He investigates how death and its rituals once the domain of church family and local community were transformed by the commercialization of burials and the growing bureaucratic control of graveyards He explores the mentality of common soldiers and their families mostly of peasant origin during World War I detecting in letters to and from the front a shift toward a revolutionary mood among Hungarians in particular He presents snapshots of such subjects as the mentality of the nobility operettas and musical life and attitudes toward Germans and Jews and also reveals the striking relationship between social marginality and cultural creativity In comparing the two cities Hanák notes that Vienna famed for its spacious parks and gardens was often characterized as a garden of esoteric culture Budapest however was a dense city surrounded by factories whose cultural leaders referred to the offices and cafés where they met as workshops These differences were reflected he argues in the contrast between Vienna's aesthetic and individualistic culture and Budapest's more moralistic and socially engaged approach Like Carl Schorske's famous Fin de Siècle Vienna Hanák's book paints a remarkable portrait of turn of the century life in Central Europe Its particular focus on mass culture and everyday life offers important new insights into cultural currents that shaped the course of the twentieth century Originally published in 1998 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Faludy György összegyűjtött versei György Faludy, 1980 Nagy László összegyűjtött versei László Nagy, 1988 Áprily Lajos összegyűjtött versei és drámái Lajos Áprily, 1985 Poetic Images, Presence, and the Theater of Kenotic Rituals Enikő Sepsi, 2021-09-29 This book explores the interrelation of contemporary French theatre and poetry Using the pictorial turn in the various branches of art and science its observable features and the theoretical framework of the conceptual metaphor this study seeks to gather together the divergent manners in which French poetry and theatre address this turn Poetry in space and theatricality of poetry are studied alongside theatre especially to the performative aspect of the originally theological concept of kenosis In doing so the author attempts to make use of the theological concept of kenosis of central importance in Novarina's oeuvre for theatrical and dramaturgical purposes Within poetic rituals kenotic rituals are also examined in the book in a few theatrical practices János Pilinszky and Robert Wilson Jerzy Grotowski and Eugenio Barba facilitating a better understanding of Novarina's works Accompanied by new English translations in the appendices this is the first English language monograph related to the French essayist dramaturg and director Valère Novarina's theatre and will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and literature studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Bela Bartok and Turn-of-the-Century Budapest Judit Frigyesi, 1998-03-23 Bartók's music is greatly prized by concertgoers yet we know little about the intellectual milieu that gave rise to his artistry Bartók is often seen as a lonely genius emerging from a gray background of an underdeveloped country Now Judit Frigyesi offers a broader perspective on Bartók's art by grounding it in the social and cultural life of turn of the century Hungary and the intense creativity of its modernist movement Bartók spent most of his life in Budapest an exceptional man living in a remarkable milieu Frigyesi argues that Hungarian modernism in general and Bartók's aesthetic in particular should be understood in terms of a collective search for wholeness in life and art and for a definition of identity in a rapidly changing world Is it still possible Bartók's generation of artists asked to create coherent art in a world that is no longer whole Bartók and others were preoccupied with this question and developed their aesthetics in response to it In a discussion of Bartók and of Endre Ady the most influential Hungarian poet of the time Frigyesi demonstrates how different branches of art and different personalities responded to the same set of problems creating oeuvres that appear as reflections of one another She also examines Bartók's Bluebeard's Castle exploring philosophical and poetic ideas of Hungarian modernism and linking Bartók's stylistic innovations to these concepts
