Henry Mayr-Harting

Ottonian Illumination:

Ottonian Book Illumination: Themes Henry Mayr-Harting, 1991 It explains historically and with illustrations many of them in colour the origins and momentum of a movement of German art and shows through art how religion and political ideology were intertwined in Ottonian culture from about 950 to 1050 Dr Mayr Harting well known as a medieval historian was Slade Professor of Fine Art at Oxford during Michaelmas Term 1987 and the present work is an expanded version of his Slade Lectures In this volume the author traces the relationship between Ottonian society and its artistic expression through a comparative examination of the major illuminated manuscripts of the period including the two great imperial books the Gospel Book of Otto III and the Pericopes Book of Henry II as well as other liturgical manuscripts He concentrates on the significance of the themes represented in these manuscripts and the extent to which they reflect the religious thought ritual and devotional attitudes of the imperial court as well as Ottonian society in general German Illumination: Ottonian period Adolph Goldschmidt, 1928 The Illuminated Alphabet Timothy Noad, Patricia Seligman, 2017-12-12 An inspirational introduction to creating decorative calligraphy Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Patton, 2025-01-07 This volume addresses a vital point of intersection between images in the Middle Ages and those in the modern world the potential of medieval works of art to convey messages of power and resistance Provoked by the misuse of medieval imagery in modern discussions the contributors to this volume assess how medieval images connect to discourses of power in both the past and the present The contributors each began with a single question In the eyes of their makers and viewers how were medieval images understood to assert or to resist forces of power Their case studies come from a wide range of cultural geographic and historical contexts the Byzantine Ottonian and Valois courts the Umayyad and Castilian regimes of the Iberian Peninsula the pluralistic military and commercial zones of the eastern Mediterranean and the metaphorical as well as personal battlegrounds linked to medieval courtly love culture Over eight chapters the authors highlight patterns of visual rhetoric still evident in art today They invite readers to contemplate how modern priorities and sensibilities might amplify mute or transform the discourses related to power and resistance that were threaded through the visual culture of the Middle Ages This insightful book should be of value to anyone interested in medieval art history and art's relationship to power and authority in society In addition to the editor the contributors include Heather A Badamo Elena N Boeck Thomas E A Dale Martha Easton Eliza Garrison Anne D Hedeman Tom Nickson and Avinoam Shalem Library of Congress Subject Headings: F-O Library of Congress. Routledge Revivals: The Illuminations of the Stavelot Bible (1978) Wayne Dynes, 2017-11-22 First published in 1978 this book offers a comprehensive study of the illuminations of the Stavelot Bible The illuminations themselves have been recognized as occupying an important place in the incipient stage of the Romanesque style in the Meuse valley The two volumes of the Bible contain no less than ninety seven illuminated initials almost half of them containing figures Wayne Dynes's study brings this into context by giving the historical background of the abbey of Stavelot and the manuscript itself and then the exegetical and illustrative tradition shaping earlier illuminated Bibles A third chapter examines the question of the assignment of the hands providing at the same time a survey of the contents This clears the way for discussions of areas of importance including the famous full page composition of Christ in Majesty and analyses key miniatures and groups of miniatures This procedure serves to clarify the overall scheme of illumination and permit a comparison with earlier achievements in the history of Bible illumination

Colour and Light in Ancient and Medieval Art Chloë N. Duckworth, Anne E. Sassin, 2017-12-15 The myriad ways in which colour and light have been adapted and applied in the art architecture and material culture of past societies is the focus of this interdisciplinary volume Light and colour's iconographic economic and socio cultural implications are considered by established and emerging scholars including art historians archaeologists and conservators who address the variety of human experience of these sensory phenomena In today's world it is the norm for humans to be surrounded by strong artificial colours and even to see colour as perhaps an inessential or surface property of the objects around us Similarly electric lighting has provided the power and ability to illuminate and manipulate environments in increasingly unprecedented ways In the context of such a saturated experience it becomes difficult to identify what is universal and what is culturally specific about the human experience of light and colour Failing to do so however hinders the capacity to approach how they were experienced by people of centuries past By means of case studies spanning a broad historical and geographical context and covering such diverse themes as architecture cave art the invention of metallurgy and medieval manuscript illumination the contributors to this volume provide an up to date discussion of these themes from a uniquely interdisciplinary perspective The papers range in scope from the meaning of colour in European prehistoric art to the technical art of the glazed tiles of the Shah mosque in Isfahan Their aim is to explore a multifarious range of evidence and to evaluate and illuminate what is a truly enigmatic topic in the history of art and visual culture

The Apocalyptic Year 1000 Richard Landes, Andrew Gow, David Van Meter, 2003-06-05 The essays in this book challenge prevailing views on the way in which apocalyptic concerns contributed to larger processes of social change at the first millennium Several basic questions unify the essays What chronological and theological assumptions underlay apocalyptic and millennial speculations around the Year 1000 How broadly disseminated were those speculations Can we speak of a mentality of apocalyptic hopes and anxieties on the eve of the millennium If so how did authorities respond to or even contribute to the formation of this mentality What were the social ramifications of apocalyptic hopes and anxieties and of any efforts to suppress or redirect the more radical impulses that bred them How did contemporaries conceptualize and then historicize the passing of the millennial date of 1000 Including the work of British French German Dutch and American scholars this book will be the definitive resource on this fascinating topic and should at the same time provoke new interest in and debate on the nature and causes of social change in early medieval Europe
