Language, Culture, Art and Politics in the Changing World Muhlis COŞGUN ÖGEYİK, Kutay UZUN, 2024-02-20 Life in the 21st century has already been marked by a changing world in many aspects The Internet has reached virtually the whole world neoliberal marketing policies have become more aggressive than ever and alternative economies such as cryptocurrencies have emerged within the first quarter of this century Adding to the equation the ever increasing population of the world and the much increased connectedness of its residents novel definitions of what have already been known have emerged reflecting the changing life in our time The changes to life as observed in our century has also made it explicit that the concepts we tend to define continually are far from being stable and static Instead the current status of the world we live in prove time and again that those changes are instable dynamic non linear and coadaptive signifying the difficulty of achieving predictability In a world that is best defined as dynamic and unpredictable management becomes a key term for the harmony in life that every person tends to strive for Efficiency in managing harmony among people cities industries politics education arts organizations or countries stands out as the utmost necessity regardless of the context one might be in Without the endeavor to manage efficiently the harmony that we all look for would become even more difficult to achieve Such a harmony through efficient management perhaps naturally necessitates the coadaptation of academic disciplines just as it does the same in other fields in life For this reason multidisciplinary academic studies are now more important than ever because the instable non linear and dynamic nature of life and its changes are highly unlikely to be explained by a single discipline in isolation The efficient management of the planet earth undoubtedly requires the efficient coexistence of societies industries education politics and countries All those structures forming human life in the world should coexist and academic studies are no exception to ensure a proper scientific understanding of the worldly phenomena In that respect this book aims to present multidisciplinary perspectives in respect of the management of the societies politics arts industries international relations and education We hope that the chapters within distinguished works of the mentioned disciplines will inform the readers regarding the interplay among various branches of science and contribute to the knowledge base of the world regarding language culture arts and politics in an ever changing world

The Changing Languages of Guangxi, Southern China Yang Huang,2023-05-30 Based on a case study of the evolution of finish morphemes in Yue and Zhuang Tai Kadai this book examines how an internal factor grammaticalization and an external factor language contact interacted to produce the polyfunctionality of the specific finish morphemes in the languages of Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region Southern China Arguing that the Central Southern Guangxi Region is a micro linguistic area Huang also introduces five unique areal features shared by many of its languages

The Changing Languages of Europe Bernd Heine,Tania Kuteva,2006-06-22 The languages and dialects of Europe this book shows are becoming increasingly alike Furthermore this unifying process goes at least as far back as the Roman empire is accelerating and affects every one of Europe's 150 or so languages including those of different families such as Basque and Finnish. The changes are by no means restricted to lexical borrowing but involve every grammatical aspect of the language. They are usually so minute that neither native speakers nor trained linguists notice them. But they accumulate and give rise to new grammatical structures that lead in turn to new patterns of areal relationship. Professor Heine and Professor Kuteva look for the causes of linguistic change in cultural and economic exchanges across national and regional boundaries and in the processes that occur when speakers learn or are in close contact with another language. Testing their data and conclusions against findings from elsewhere in the world, the authors reconstruct and reveal when, how, and why common grammatical structures have evolved and continue to evolve in processes of change that will, they argue, transform the linguistic landscape of Europe. The book is written in clear, non-technical language. It will appeal to scholars and students of language change and variation in Europe and elsewhere. It will also interest everyone concerned to understand the nature of language and language change.
