The Anti-Racist Writing Workshop Felicia Rose Chavez, 2021-01-05 The Antiracist Writing Workshop is a call to create healthy sustainable and empowering artistic communities for a new millennium of writers Inspired by June Jordan s 1995 Poetry for the People here is a blueprint for a 21st century workshop model that protects and platforms writers of color Instead of earmarking dusty anthologies imagine workshop participants Skyping with contemporary writers of difference Instead of tolerating bigoted criticism imagine workshop participants moderating their own feedback sessions Instead of yielding to the red penned judgement of instructors imagine workshop participants citing their own text in dialogue The Antiracist Writing Workshop is essential reading for anyone looking to revolutionize the old workshop model into an enlightened democratic counterculture

Reading Desire Debra A. Modellmog, 2018-09-05 Whether revered for his masculinity condemned as an icon of machismo or perceived as possessing complex androgynous characteristics Ernest Hemingway is acknowledged to be one of the most important twentieth century American novelists For Debra A Modellmog the intense debate about the nature of his identity reveals how critics desires give shape to an author s many guises In her provocative book Modellmog interrogates Hemingway s persona and work to show how our perception of the writer is influenced by society s views on knowledge power and sexuality She believes that recent attempts to reinvent Hemingway as man and as artist have been circumscribed by their authors investment in heterosexist ideology she seeks instead to situate Hemingway s sexual identity in the interface between homosexuality and heterosexuality Modellmog looks at how sexual orientation gender race nationality able bodiedness and the intersections of these elements contribute to the formation of desire Ultimately she makes a far reaching and suggestive argument about multiculturalism and the canons of American letters asserting that those who teach literature must be aware of the politics and ethics of the authorial constructions they promote

The Broadview Anthology of Social and Political Thought: Essential Readings Andrew Bailey, Samantha Brennan, Will Kymlicka, Jacob T. Levy, Alex Sager, Clark Wolf, 2012-02-17 This volume features a careful selection of major works in political and social philosophy from ancient times through to the present Every reading has been painstakingly annotated and each figure is given a substantial introduction highlighting his or her major contribution to the tradition The anthology offers both depth and breadth in its selection of material by central figures while also representing other currents of political thought Thirty two authors are represented including fourteen from the 20th century The editors have made every effort to include translations that are both readable and reliable In order to ensure the highest standards of accuracy and accessibility the editors have consulted dozens of leading academics during the course of the volume s development many of whom have contributed introductory material as well as advice The result is an anthology with unparalleled pedagogical benefits The Broadview Anthology of Social and Political Thought sets the new standard for social and political philosophy instruction

Identity in Latin American and Latina Literature Kathryn Quinn-Sánchez, 2014-12-18 This study demonstrates the ways that Latina authors contest how power and space exploit women while simultaneously subverting the Nation State through reimagining a counter space where new definitions of the self lie beyond Power s reach Moreover this book delves into how both Power and Space collude to uphold the out of date sexist racist and classist societal norms that Eurocentrism and history continue to cleave to as the defining qualities of the nation and its citizens With the proliferation of Latin literature within the United States an ideological readjustment is taking place whereby several late twentieth and early twenty first century authors contest the State s role in defining its citizens by exposing the unjust role that Space and Power play With this in mind the author examines several literary versions of identity to explore how certain authors reject and subvert the social mores against which present day citizens are measured especially within government or State institutions but also within families and neighborhoods The literary works that are analyzed cover a period of twenty five years ending in 2010 Several of these texts rewrite the national allegory from the point of view of the marginalized while others demonstrate how an individual successfully renegotiates her identity gender social class or ethnicity from being a disadvantage to being an identity marker to celebrate The authors defy the place that women are still relegated to by representing several characters who consciously decide that it is time to battle the forces that would keep them powerless in the public arena Above all these texts are anti Power the protagonists refuse to accept the societal forces which constantly barrage them defining them as worthless These authors and their characters challenge everything that historically has kept women relegated to a space of weakness

Teaching Culturally Sustaining and Inclusive Young Adult Literature

R. Joseph Rodríguez, 2018-07-11 In this book Rodríguez uses theories of critical literacy and culturally responsive teaching to argue that our schools and our culture need sustaining and inclusive young adult YA literature s to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse readers and all students This book provides an outline for the study of literature through cultural and literary criticism via essays that analyze selected YA literature drama fiction nonfiction and poetry in four areas scribal identities and the self affirmation of adolescents gender and sexualities schooling and education of young adult characters and teachers roles and influences in characters coming of age Applying critical literacy theories and a youth studies lens this book shines a light on the need for culturally sustaining and inclusive pedagogies to read adolescent worlds Complementing these essays are critical conversations with seven key contemporary YA literature writers adding biographical perspectives to further expand the critical scholarship and merits of YA literature

Reader Response in Secondary and College Classrooms Nicholas J. Karolides, 2013-04-15 This text based on Louise M Rosenblatt s transactional model of literature focuses on the application of transactional reader response theory in the classroom It grows from frequent requests from secondary school and college teachers for teaching suggestions on how to put theory into practice This is not a What should I do on Monday cookbook but an expression of the practice of theory in college and secondary school classrooms The chapters portray a spectrum of strategies including biopoems expressive and imaginative writing journal writing readers theater role playing and unsent letters using as examples individual works from several genres Recognizing that teachers who may have been trained in other theories and methodologies may be hesitant about their quite different role and expectations in the reader centered classroom the authors provide stepping stones to develop readiness and confidence suggestions and insights to ease the transition to the transactional model of teaching and learning

Pedagogical features An explanatory introduction to each section defines its orientation and describes the content and direction of the chapters it contains Invitations elicit engagement of readers with concepts attitudes or strategies presented in the chapters they invite readers as individuals or members of a small group to consider ideas or to practice a strategy among other activities in order to enhance understandings A glossary defines key concepts and strategies discussed in the text A bibliography provides an extensive list of resources books and journal articles both theoretical and applied New in the second edition Six new chapters three deal with the roles of film as literature in the English classroom and three with enhancing multicultural understandings Updates and revisions to several chapters that appeared in the first edition Invitations new in this edition have been added to focus and expand readers thinking

Reading, Writing, and the Rhetorics of Whiteness Wendy Ryden,Ian Marshall,2013-03 In this volume Ryden and Marshall bring together the field of composition and rhetoric with critical whiteness studies to show that in our post race era whiteness and racism not only survive but actually thrive in higher education As they examine the effects of racism on contemporary literacy practices and the rhetoric by which white privilege maintains and reproduces itself Ryden and Marshall consider topics ranging from the emotional investment in whiteness to the role of personal narrative in reconstituting racist identities to critiques of the foundational premises of writing programs steeped in repudiation of despised discourses Marshall and Ryden alternate chapters to sustain a multi layered dialogue that traces the rhetorical complexities and contradictions of teaching English and writing in a university setting Their lived experiences as faculty and administrators serve to underscore the complex code of whiteness even as they push to decode it and demonstrate how their own pedagogical practices are raced and racialized in multiple ways Collectively the essays ask instructors and administrators to consider more carefully the pernicious nature of whiteness in their professional activities and how it informs our practices Publisher s note

Repetition and Race Amy Cynthia Tang,2016 Repetition and Race explores the literary forms and critical frameworks occasioned by the widespread institutionalization of liberal multiculturalism by turning to the exemplary case of Asian American literature Whether beheld as model minorities or objects of racist love Asian Americans have long inhabited the uneasy terrain of institutional embrace that characterizes the official antiracism of our contemporary moment Repetition and Race argues that Asian American literature registers and responds to this historical context through formal structures of repetition Forwarding a new dialectical conception of repetition that draws together progress and return motion and stasis agency and subjection creativity and compulsion this book reinterprets the political grammar of four forms of repetition central to minority discourse trauma pastiche intertextuality and self reflexivity Working against narratives of multicultural triumph the book shows how texts by Theresa Cha Susan Choi Karen Tei Yamashita Chang rae Lee and Maxine Hong Kingston use structures of repetition to foreground moments of social and aesthetic impasse suspension or hesitation rather than instances of reversal or resolution Reading Asian American texts for the way they allegorize and negotiate rather than

resolve key tensions animating Asian American culture Repetition and Race maps both the penetrating reach of liberal multiculturalism s disciplinary formations and an expanded field of cultural politics for minority literature Women and Narrative Identity Mary Jean Matthews Green,2001 Women writers have made significant contributions to Quebec s ongoing process of cultural self definition Because the novel has traditionally played a central role in the construction of national identity Quebec literary history has seen the continued production of identity narratives which Jacques Godbout calls the national text Using the tools of contemporary feminist criticism and building on a tradition of work on Quebec women s writing Mary Jean Green considers issues of national and cultural self definition situating the literary texts of Quebec women within a unique political and historical context while also relating them to the work of women writing in other cultural situations from nineteenth century Europe to the postcolonial francophone world Teaching Cultural Dexterity in Creative Writing Micah McCrary,2023-04-20 Aimed toward graduate student instructors and other creative writing educators Teaching Cultural Dexterity in Creative Writing offers a formula for important changes in creative writing instruction especially in literary creative nonfiction probing how instruction might become more inclusive and accessible for minoritized marginalized student authors The book chapters use antiracist trauma informed and anticolonial frameworks toward exploring the 21st century professional theoretical and institutional concerns surrounding creative writing practices in North American higher education As a result the book explores ways creative writing pedagogies and theories might be adapted for racially and linguistically marginalized by English student authors who often inhabit minoritized positions within North American colleges and universities Applying as a frame the notion of cultural dexterity as it is taught to medical professionals to allow them to engage effectively with patients from all backgrounds ethnics groups and with all sensitivities Teaching Cultural Dexterity in Creative Writing examines why and how creative writing instruction needs to be urgently renegotiated In this essential text for all creative writing instructors McCray provides all the tools necessary to take positive action with discussions of potential readings writing prompts and sample course materials Race, Identity, and Representation in Education Cameron McCarthy,1993 Despite differing orientations the contributors here all share a common concern for stressing the importance of social context nuance and language in understanding the dynamics of race relations
