Past Present And Promise:

Story and Promise Robert W. Jenson, 2014-12-02 The respected American theologian Robert Jenson here in brief compass presents his uncluttered understanding of the Christian message in a form ideal for beginning students laypeople and clergy Professor Jenson sees the heart of the gospel as the unconditional promise of the ultimate triumph of the love of Jesus of Nazareth This gospel is based on the story of Jesus and is worked out in the lives of men and of nations as the promise it brings moves towards fulfillment Story and Promise we dare to call it a one volume dogmatics leaves no element of the Christian faith untouched the classical doctrines concerning God Christ the Holy Spirit man the church the clearly radical implications of these doctrines for personal and social transformation the focus of Christian vision on the future as the time when God comes and man becomes what God intends This book clarifies the traditional problems of faith and also raises the revolutionary issues marking the end of this century It is a thoughtful and satisfying piece of systematic theology in a time of shattered understandings of the faith

Gift and Promise Peter Schmiechen, 2016-12-09 What would happen if the liturgy for the Lord's Supper started with the images in the New Testament rather than the divisions of our past It would be like going through an open door into a new world There we would find a new Passover celebration a new covenant and remembrance and proclamation of Jesus death and resurrection all in the context of the kingdom of God It would be an evangelical Lord's Supper This is a high risk operation given the reliance by many on transactional sacrifice and the tendency to reduce the Supper to a sacrament of penance for individuals Ideas rejected by Luther and Calvin now reappear even among Protestants The goal cannot be reached by subtracting a few things and adding references to eschatology and joy The good news is that many churches have already taken steps to reform their liturgies To support that process here is a clear and consistent evangelical perspective based on the theology and biblical considerations that have formed our faith and practice
