The Memoir of the Brief Life and Death of An Anonymous Son of the Indian Diaspora Rahul Sooknanan, 2023-04-29. Rahul Sooknanan is a pen name. The story of Mudgar and all the characters are largely true. Names have been changed to protect Mudgar from further retribution. Mudgar is a descendant of Phoolmatie and Chandanand, two indentured labourers who crossed the Kala Pani to forge a new life in Trinidad. Mudgar lived on the precipice of both excess and success. His life became a journey towards greater opportunities as he worked his way through an education at New York University and Cambridge toward great professional success as a sought-after business consultant and university professor. And then, in a single year, several acts of violence shattered his home, his family, and indeed his life. Unable to work or even maintain his concentration, his downward spiral culminated in losing everything through a series of frauds committed against him. Only at the end did he truly know what he had loved and lost. In his own words: "I have never done things in halves. I have loved and failed severally. Hated and loved in equal measure. Sex and alcohol were choices I accept all consequences and blame none for my troubles."

"River City": Memoirs of a Combat Chief Information Officer LTC Martin D. Hunt, 2017-09-19. In July 2006, Martin Hunt was a successful software sales professional with a wife, two sons, a happy life in Seattle, and a commitment to the U.S. Army that he was not sure he'd ever be called on to fulfill. A year later, he was a resident of Camp Ramadi, a dusty outpost at the epicenter of Operation Iraqi Freedom. A senior officer surrounded by young men charged with the highly dangerous task of clearing improvised explosive devices from supply routes, Hunt soon grew to dread the call "River City," the code for incoming casualties. Trapped between his real life in Seattle, visited through Skype, and a furlough that seemed over before it began, and the hell of River City, Hunt provides a window into the paradigm-shifting experience of deployment in the War on Terror, a story of faith, love, and life interrupted.

By the Rivers of Water Erskine Clarke, 2013-10-08. In early November 1834, an aristocratic young couple from Savannah and South Carolina sailed from New York and began a strange seventeen-year odyssey in West Africa. Leighton and Jane Wilson sailed along what was for them an exotic coastline, visited cities and villages, and sometimes ventured up great rivers and followed ancient paths. Along the way, they encountered not only many diverse landscapes, peoples, and cultures but also many individuals on their own odysseys, including Paul Sansay, a former slave from Savannah; Mworeh Mah, a brilliant Grebo leader and his beautiful daughter Mary Clealand at Cape Palmas; and King Glass, and the wise and humorous Toko in Gabon. Leighton and Jane Wilson had freed their inherited slaves and were to become the most influential American missionaries in West Africa during the first half of the nineteenth century.

While Jane established schools Leighton fought the international slave trade and the imperialism of colonization He translated portions of the Bible into Grebo and Mpongwe and thereby helped to lay the foundation for the emergence of an indigenous African Christianity The Wilsons returned to New York because of ill health but their odyssey was not over Living in the booming American metropolis the Wilsons welcomed into their handsome home visitors from around the world as they worked for the rapidly expanding Protestant mission movement As the Civil War approached however they heard the siren voice of their Southern homeland calling from deep within their memories They sought to resist its seductions but the call became more insistent and finally irresistible In spite of their years of fighting slavery they gave themselves to a history and a people committed to maintaining slavery and its deep oppression both an act of deep love for a place and people and the desertion of a moral vision A sweeping transatlantic story of good intentions and bitter consequences By the Rivers of Water reveals two distant worlds linked by deep faiths Historic Homes and Institutions and Genealogical and Personal Memoirs of Berkshire County, Massachusetts Rollin Hillyer Cooke,1906 Biographical and Historical Memoirs of Muskingum County, Ohio ,1892 Excerpt from Biographical and Historical Memoir of Muskingum County Ohio Embracing an Authentic and Comprehensive Account of the Chief Events in the History of the County and a Record of the Lives of Many of the Most Worthy Families and Individuals Amazon com The Pictorial Field-book of the War of 1812 Benson John Lossing,1869

Three Generations in One: My Memoirs Sundar A. Shetty,2019-07-26 This is an incredible story about my childhood and adolescence the one revealing the graphic and disheartening dynamics of growing up and fighting for survival in an unsafe and toxic environment Lived in a cramped home with 18 members of an extended family used a dimly lit kerosene lamp for studies often attended classes hungry and lived with fear in the presence of a ruthless and overly strict father At times I thought that life was worth not living by the absence of fatherly love and lack of basic needs in my life This is a compelling tale of my survival my determination to study and succeed in life and eventual redemption as my destiny took me to Bombay and from there to the United States where I found love peace and happiness and an undying desire to live and succeed

Memoirs of a German Boyhood Wolfgang Schueller,2012-10-17 Another Time Another Place Once in a dream I saw my mother and my father waltzing She wore a long pink gown with a lace overskirt of white apple blossoms She was smiling and my father wore a dark green tunic like a Prussian prince red and gold braid adorned his collar The cuffs of his sleeves were trimmed with red and gold braid There was a dark gold stripe on his gray trousers His black boots had fur at the top My sister was playing in the garden where the apple trees were in bloom she was laughing and running with her dog My brother and I were climbing the mountain in our shorts and when we ran back down the trail we giggled because there were pretty girls sitting near the lake When we walked in the sandy shallow water it sparkled like diamonds as the sun warmed our feet and our legs But it was only a boy s dream of my Fatherland now I see clearly the way it really was because now I am a man The grace and beauty of the Fatherland did not betray us the truth did Memoirs ,1914 Historic Homes and Institutions and Genealogical and Personal Memoirs of Worcester County, Massachusetts, with a History of Worcester Society of Antiquity Ellery Bicknell Crane,1907
