Seeing Is Believing Approaches To Visual Research:

Seeing is Believing Christopher Pole, 2004-12-14 Rather than providing a step by step guide to the use of visual methods the authors draw on their experience of visual research to provide critical accounts of its use in the field its potential for unlocking otherwise unseen places spaces and social action and as a basis for the generation of conceptual and theoretical insight

Doing Visual Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2007 Those already proficient in ethnographic methods will find Doing Visual Ethnography a foray into what should be an increasingly normative terrain and what is certainly a much needed addition to the literature They will be challenged to simultaneously take on new methodological conceits and their application beyond traditional boundaries Library Information Science Research Following on from the success of Doing Visual Ethnography this fully revised and updated second edition explores the use and potential of photography video and hypermedia in ethnographic and social research It offers a reflexive approach to theoretical methodological practical and ethical issues of using these media now that they are increasingly being incorporated into field research Sarah Pink adopts the viewpoint that visual research methods should be rooted in a critical understanding of local and academic visual cultures the visual media and technologies being used and the ethical issues they raise The book demonstrates that these new challenges that shape ethnographic knowledge can be met by understanding the reflexivity and experience through which visual and ethnographic materials are produced and interpreted New to the Second Edition General updating of figures terminology and literature to bring the book up to date with recent innovations in theory practice and technology Annotated reading lists added to each chapter to guide the reader to further literature Completely rewritten chapter on digital technology to ensure the text is in line with the latest developments in technology and methodological thinking Drawing from her own experiences of using photography video and hypermedia in research as well as the work of others the author follows the research process from project design planning and implementing and practising fieldwork to analysis and representation suggesting how visual images and technologies can be combined to form an integrated process throughout the different stages of research The Second Edition of Doing Visual Ethnography is an excellent resource for students of sociology anthropology cultural studies media studies and those doing ethnographic and qualitative research It also provides valuable reading for researchers and postgraduates

SAGE Visual Methods Jason Hughes, 2012-07-23 In contemporary Western societies the visual domain has come to assume a hitherto unprecedented cultural centrality Daily life is replete with a potentially endless stream of images and other visual messages from the electronic and paper based billboards of the street to the TV and Internet feeds of the home The visual has become imbued with a symbolic potency a signifying power that seemingly eclipses that of all other sensory data The central aim of this four volume collection is to explore key approaches to visual research methods and to consider some of the core principles issues debates and controversies surrounding the use of visual techniques in relation to three key enterprises 1 documentation and representation 2 interpretation and classification and 3 elicitation and collaboration Volume One Principles Issues Debates and Controversies in Visual Research serves as a theoretical backdrop to the field as a whole It introduces core epistemological ethical and methodological debates that effectively cut across the four volume collection as a whole Volume Two Documentation and Representation illustrates approaches to visual documentation and representation from classical documentaries to contemporary state of the art modes of visual anthropology and ethnography Volume Three Interpretation and Classification examines core debates surrounding and approaches to visual analysis Volume Four Elicitation and Collaboration explores participative approaches to visual inquiry
