turning points serving as touchstones for the collection's central themes The Sin of Writing and the Rise of Modern Hebrew Literature Iris Parush, 2022-03-21 The Sin of Writing and the Rise of Modern Hebrew Literature contends that the processes of enlightenment, modernization and secularization in nineteenth century Eastern European Jewish society were marked not by a reading revolution but rather by a writing revolution that is by a revolutionary change in this society's attitude toward writing. Combining socio-cultural history and literary studies and drawing on a large corpus of autobiographies, memoirs and literary works of the period, the book sets out to explain the curious absence of writing skills and Hebrew grammar from the curriculum of the traditional Jewish education system in Eastern Europe. It shows that traditional Jewish society maintained a conspicuously oral literacy culture colored by fears of writing and suspicions toward publication. It is against this background that the young yeshiva students undergoing enlightenment started to sin by writing, turning writing and publication in Hebrew into the cornerstone of their constitution as autonomous, enlightened male Jewish subjects and setting the foundations for the rise of modern Hebrew literature.
