

THE NEW DIALECTIC CONVERSATIONAL CONTEXTS OF ARGUMENT

Because developments in informal logic have been based, for the most part, on idealized and abstract models, the tools available for argument analysis are not easily adapted to the needs of everyday argumentation. In this book Douglas Walton proposes a new and practical approach to argument analysis based on his theory that different standards for argument must apply in the case of different types of dialogue.

By refining and extending the existing formal classifications of dialogue, Walton shows that each dialogue type, be it inquiry, negotiation, or critical discussion, has its own set of goals. He goes on to demonstrate that an argument can best be evaluated in terms of its contribution, positive or negative, to the goals of the particular dialogue it is meant to further. In this way he illustrates how argument can be brought into the service of many types of dialogue, and thus has valuable uses that go well beyond the mere settling of disputes and differences.

By reaching back to the Aristotelian roots of logic as an applied, practical discipline and by formulating a new framework of rationality for evaluating arguments, Douglas Walton restores a much-needed balance to argument analysis. This book complements and extends his Argument Structure: A Pragmatic Theory.

(Toronto Studies in Philosophy)

DOUGLAS WALTON is Professor in the Department of Philosophy, University of Winnipeg.

New Dialectic Conversational Contexts Of Argument:

The New Dialectic Douglas N. Walton, 1998-01-01 Because developments in informal logic have been based for the most part on idealized and abstract models the tools available for argument analysis are not easily adapted to the needs of everyday argumentation In this book Douglas Walton proposes a new and practical approach to argument analysis based on his theory that different standards for argument must apply in the case of different types of dialogue By refining and extending the existing formal classifications of dialogue Walton shows that each dialogue type be it inquiry negotiation or critical discussion has its own set of goals He goes on to demonstrate that an argument can best be evaluated in terms of its contribution positive or negative to the goals of the particular dialogue it is meant to further In this way he illustrates how argument can be brought into the service of many types of dialogue and thus has valuable uses that go well beyond the mere settling of disputes and differences By reaching back to the Aristotelian roots of logic as an applied practical discipline and by formulating a new framework of rationality for evaluating arguments Douglas Walton restores a much needed balance to argument analysis This book complements and extends his Argument Structure A Pragmatic Theory University of Toronto Press 1996

Argument Evaluation and Evidence Douglas Walton, 2015-08-04 This monograph poses a series of key problems of evidential reasoning and argumentation It then offers solutions achieved by applying recently developed computational models of argumentation made available in artificial intelligence Each problem is posed in such a way that the solution is easily understood The book progresses from confronting these problems and offering solutions to them building a useful general method for evaluating arguments along the way It provides a hands on survey explaining to the reader how to use current argumentation methods and concepts that are increasingly being implemented in more precise ways for the application of software tools in computational argumentation systems It shows how the use of these tools and methods requires a new approach to the concepts of knowledge and explanation suitable for diverse settings such as issues of public safety and health debate legal argumentation forensic evidence science education and the use of expert opinion evidence in personal and public deliberations

Contextualizing Pragma-Dialectics Frans H. van Eemeren, Wu Peng, 2017-12-12 Contextualizing Pragma Dialectics contains a selection of 18 article reporting on research conducted in the past decade in which the institutional context in which argumentative discourse takes place is systematically taken into account Some articles provide relevant theoretical backgrounds other articles make clear how the extended pragma dialectical theory can be used to analyse and evaluate argumentative discourse in specific institutional contexts Next to argumentative discourse in the legal domain and the medical context of health communication a great deal of attention is paid to various argumentative practices in the political domain or dealing with specific social issues A contribution on multimodal argumentation is also included All contributing authors are actively engaged in the International Learned Institute for Argumentation Studies ILIAS

Dialog Theory for Critical Argumentation Douglas N. Walton, 2007 Because of the need to devise systems for electronic communication on the internet multi agent computing is moving to a model of communication as a structured conversation between rational agents For example in multi agent systems an electronic agent searches around the internet and collects certain kinds of information by asking questions to other agents Such agents also reason with each other when they engage in negotiation and persuasion It is shown in this book that critical argumentation is best represented in this framework by the model of reasoned argument called a dialog in which two or more parties engage in a polite and orderly exchange with each other according to rules governed by conversation policies In such dialog argumentation the two parties reason together by taking turns asking questions offering replies and offering reasons to support a claim They try to settle their disagreements by an orderly conversational exchange that is partly adversarial and partly collaborative The Oxford Handbook of Thinking and Reasoning Keith J. Holyoak, Robert G. Morrison, 2013-05-23 The Oxford Handbook of Thinking and Reasoning brings together the contributions of many of the leading researchers in thinking and reasoning to create the most comprehensive overview of research on thinking and reasoning that has ever been available From Argument Schemes to Argumentative Relations in the Wild Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2019-10-23 This volume comprises a selection of contributions to the theorizing about argumentation that have been presented at the 9th conference of the International Society for the Study of Argumentation ISSA held in Amsterdam in July 2018 The chapters included provide a general theoretical perspective on central topics in argumentation theory such as argument schemes and the fallacies Some contributions concentrate on the treatment of the concept of conductive argument Other contributions are dedicated to specific issues such as the justification of questions the occurrence of mining relations the role of exclamatives argumentative abduction eudaimonistic argumentation and a typology of logical ways to counter an argument In a number of cases the theoretical problems addressed are related to a specific type of context such as the burden of proof in philosophical argumentation the charge of committing a genetic fallacy in strategic manoeuvring in philosophy the necessity of community argument and connection adequacy for arguments with institutional warrants The volume offers a great deal of diversity in its breadth of coverage of argumentation theory and wide geographic representation from North and South America to Europe and China The Argument of Mathematics Andrew Aberdein, Ian J Dove, 2013-07-01 Written by experts in the field this volume presents a comprehensive investigation into the relationship between argumentation theory and the philosophy of mathematical practice Argumentation theory studies reasoning and argument and especially those aspects not addressed or not addressed well by formal deduction The philosophy of mathematical practice diverges from mainstream philosophy of mathematics in the emphasis it places on what the majority of working mathematicians actually do rather than on mathematical foundations The book begins by first challenging the assumption that there is no role for informal logic in mathematics Next it details the usefulness of argumentation theory in the understanding of mathematical practice offering an impressively diverse set of examples covering the history of mathematics mathematics education and perhaps surprisingly formal proof verification From there the book demonstrates that mathematics also offers a valuable testbed for argumentation theory Coverage concludes by defending attention to mathematical argumentation as the basis for new perspectives on the philosophy of mathematics Inquiries in Philosophical Pragmatics Fabrizio Macagno,Alessandro Capone,2021-01-11 Together with the volume Inquiries in philosophical pragmatics Linguistic and theoretical issues this book provides a journey through the more recent developments of pragmatics considering both its philosophical and linguistic nature This first volume is devoted to the theoretical models developed from a philosophical perspective including both the newest advances of the classical theories and approaches and pioneering and interdisciplinary ideas proposed to face the challenges of the fields and areas of practice and analysis The topics investigated which include implicatures reference presupposition speech acts metaphor relevance and common ground represent the core of the state of the art in philosophical pragmatics Research on these matters have been continuously changing the way that we can look at them This book serves as a collection of works from the most eminent authors who represent the theoretical developments of the approaches that defined this field together with the new philosophical insights coming from more applied disciplines such as argumentation discourse analysis or linguistics The combination of these two perspectives provides a unique outline of the current research in pragmatics Strategic Maneuvering in Argumentative Discourse Frans H. van Eemeren,2010-05-19 In Strategic Maneuvering in Argumentative Discourse Frans H van Eemeren brings together the dialectical and the rhetorical dimensions of argumentation by introducing the concept of strategic maneuvering Strategic maneuvering refers to the arguer s continual efforts to reconcile aiming for effectiveness with being reasonable It takes place in all stages of argumentative discourse and manifests itself simultaneously in the choices that are made from the topical potential available at a particular stage in adaptation to audience demand and in the use of specific presentational devices Strategic maneuvering derails when in the specific context in which the discourse takes place a rule for critical discussion has been violated so that a fallacy has been committed Van Eemeren makes clear that extending the pragma dialectical approach to argumentation by taking account of strategic maneuvering leads to a richer and more precise method for analyzing and evaluating argumentative discourse Essays on Argumentation in Antiquity Joseph Andrew Bjelde,David Merry,Christopher Roser,2021-07-12 This book provides a collection of essays representing the state of the art in the research into argumentation in classical antiquity It contains essays from leading and up and coming scholars on figures as diverse as Parmenides Gorgias Seneca and Classical Chinese wandering persuaders The book includes contributions from specialists in the history of philosophy as well as specialists in contemporary argumentation theory and stimulates the dialogue between scholars studying issues relating to argumentation theory in ancient philosophy and contemporary argumentation theorists Furthermore the book sets the direction for research into argumentation in antiquity by encouraging an engagement with a broader range of historical figures and closer collaboration between contemporary concerns and the
