J. Barry Jones,2013-11-07 Globalisation and Interdependence in the International Political Economy addresses central developments within the contemporary international system The notions of interdependence and globalisation that have accompanied the political discourse of a new world disorder are replete with definitional ambiguities theoretical difficulties and empirical complexities Barry Jones offers a critical review and analysis of these concepts their significance and place within the wider debates of international political economy He argues that contemporary conditions are complex with regionalising tendencies cross cutting those of increasing globalisation and national impulses surviving even in the face of powerful internationalising forces Future developments it is concluded may also be far more uncertain and turbulent than is widely anticipated Written by a leading authority this volume is an effective and compelling introduction to the complex study of international political economy Military Power, Conflict, and Trade Michael P. Gerace,2004 This is a book about how military spending and international trade interact among great powers about their peacetime patterns of conflict and about the peacetime roles played by military power The Oxford Handbook of Peaceful Change in International Relations T. V. Paul, Deborah Welch Larson, Harold A. Trinkunas, Anders Wivel, Ralf Emmers,2021 Abstract With the rapid rise of China and the relative decline of the United States the topic of power transition conflicts is back in popular and scholarly attention The discipline of International Relations offers much on why violent power transition conflicts occur yet very few substantive treatments exist on why and how peaceful changes happen in world politics This Handbook is the first comprehensive treatment of the subject of peaceful change in International Relations It contains some 41 chapters all written by scholars from different theoretical and conceptual backgrounds examining the multi faceted dimensions of this subject In the first part key conceptual and definitional clarifications are offered and in the second part papers address the historical origins of peaceful change as an International Relations subject matter during the Inter War Cold War and Post Cold War eras In the third part each of the IR theoretical traditions and paradigms in particular Realism liberalism constructivism and critical perspectives and their distinct views on peaceful change are analyzed In the fourth part papers tackle the key material ideational and social sources of change In the fifth part the papers explore selected great and middle powers and their foreign policy contributions to peaceful change realizing that many of these states have violent past or tend not to pursue peaceful policies consistently In part six the contributors evaluate the peaceful change that occurred in the world's key regions In the final part the editors address prospective research agenda and trajectories on this important subject matter Keywords Peaceful Change War Security International Relations Theory Sources of Change Systemic Theory Realism Liberalism Constructivism Critical Theories Final Report ,1975 Along the Domestic-Foreign Frontier James N.
