New Life For Joanna:

"Women, Manuscripts and Identity in Northern Europe, 1350-1550" Joni M. Hand, 2017-07-05 Author Joni M Hand sheds light on the reasons women of the Valois courts from the mid fourteenth to the mid sixteenth century commissioned devotional manuscripts Visually interpreting the non text elements portraits coats of arms and marginalia as well as the texts Hand explores how the manuscripts were used to express the women's religious political and or genealogical concerns This study is arranged thematically according to the method in which the owner is represented Recognizing the considerable influence these women had on the appearance of their books Hand interrogates how the manuscripts became a means of self expression beyond the realm of devotional practice She reveals how noblewomen used their private devotional manuscripts as vehicles for self definition to reflect familial political and social concerns and to preserve the devotional and cultural traditions of their families Drawing on documentation of women's book collections that has been buried within the inventories of their fathers husbands or sons Hand explores how these women contributed to the cultural and spiritual character of the courts and played an integral role in the formation and evolution of the royal libraries in Northern Europe
