Against Storytelling Amit Chaudhuri, 2024 A unique collection of essays about the meaning and significance of storytelling in our time At what point did we begin to say We are all storytellers Far from being a timeless idea the statement seems to go back to no further than the 1980s coterminous with the dawning of a new kind of epic novel an unprecedented supremacy for the English language and the era of economic liberalisation Who was it who made storytelling synonymous with cultures outside the West And could it just be conceivable that much of what s most worthwhile about writing and creativity occur on the fringes of the story The essays in this book delivered originally as talks at a Literary Activism symposium look again at the assumptions that underlie the way we think of storytelling and storytellers The contributors include novelists academics and translators including Anjum Hasan Arvind Krishna Mehrotra Charles Bernstein Geoffrey O Brien Gurvinder Singh Jeremy Harding Jean Fr d ric Chevallier and Tiffany Atkinson Indian Writing in English and the Global Literary Market O. Rest in Peace Kiran Nagarkar, 2015 Ordinary Springboks Neil Roos, 2018-02-06 Springbok was a term used to describe the 200 000 white South African men who volunteered to serve during the Second World War. Volunteers developed bonds of comradeship and rites of passage were expressed in the idiom of the front. Without exception, volunteers nurtured hopes for some form of post-war social justice. Neil Roos provides a fresh approach in considering comradeship and social justice ethnographically as a way of focusing on ordinary Springboks' expectations and experiences during and after the war. As troops were demobilized, the contradictions of social justice in a colonial society were exposed. The majority of white veterans used the memory of service to stake their claim as white men who had served their country and to negotiate a better position for themselves within the context of segregated colonial society. However, social justice amongst white veterans did not necessarily assume a racist character. A small group of radical white veterans invoked their war experience and traditions of anti-fascism to challenge the very precepts of racialized South African society. These veterans featured in the struggle against apartheid during the 1950s and were especially prominent in the shift towards armed resistance to apartheid in 1961. Drawing heavily on the testimony of veterans, the book includes previously unreferenced documentary and visual material on the history of white servicemen, including official responses such as military intelligence reports on the political mood of serving soldiers as well as material produced by veterans' organisations such as the Springbok Legion, the War Veterans Torch Commando and the Memorable Order of Tin Hats. MOOTH Roos offers a new framework for examining the social, cultural and political history of whites and whiteness in South Africa. The book will appeal to those interested in the elaboration of apartheid society and the types of acceptance and resistance that it engendered and will also co-
The Contemporary Novel and the City S. Khanna, 2015-12-04 This book examines the deeply divided terrain of the twentieth-century city and its formative impact on narrative fiction. It focuses on two major world authors at the two ends of the twentieth century who write systematically about the colonial and postcolonial cities they were born in: James Joyce and Dublin and Salman Rushdie and Bombay. Bombay Novels Mamta Mantri, 2019-01-15 Mumbai Bombay. How do we explain this city and ourselves within it? How do the city and the city dweller together allow for representations of urban life to arise in literature and the fine arts? This book is an understanding of Mumbai both as an architectural and literary space through the lens of spatial criticism and the technique of flânerie. As an icon of experiences, Mumbai is felt through the simultaneous acts of walking, observing, remembering and articulating. In analyzing four novels, namely Baumgartner's Bombay Ravan and Eddie Shantaram and Baluta, the book claims that the characters and their authors offer an alternative vision of the city as they also construct a transient place for themselves. This act of flânerie is an act of transgression as it turns the outside into the inside, changing public space into private space. As the characters serve to disrupt meaning, uncover hidden histories and expose power relations involved in the representation of place, they actualize many possibilities and meanings. Using the novel as a literary device, the authors have told stories not only of the protagonist flâneur but also of people around them sometimes in detail sometimes in passing In contesting claiming and owning the lives the stories and the city the humane aspect is never forgotten The Novel Cure Ella Berthoud, Susan Elderkin, Indrajit Hazra, 2014-08-01 Whether you have a stubbed toe or a stubborn case of the blues within these pages you ll find a cure in the form of a novel or a combination of novels to help ease your pain You ll also find advice on how to tackle common reading ailments such as what to do when you feel overwhelmed by the number of books in the world or if you have a tendency to give up halfway through When read at the right moment in your life a novel can quite literally change it and The Novel Cure is a reminder of that power Written with authority passion and wit here is a fresh approach to finding new books to read and an enchanting way to revisit the books on your shelves Another Canon Makarand R. Paranjape, 2009-07-01 Another Canon Indian Texts and Traditions in English traces the development of Indian English literary and textual practice over a period of seven decades focussing on classic texts which have fallen beyond the scope of the established canon The Political Economy of the Southern African Periphery Betty J. Harris, 1992-12-09 General Labour History of Africa Stefano Bellucci, Andreas Eckert, 2019 The first comprehensive and authoritative history of work and labour in Africa a key text for all working on African Studies and Labour History worldwide Predicaments of Knowledge Suren Pillay, 2024-09-01 Predicaments of Knowledge explores the difficult questions South African universities face after apartheid Is there a difference between Africanising a university and decolonising a university What about differences between deracialising and decolonising the curricula taught at universities across disciplines Through a range of reflections on race language colonial postcolonial and decolonial knowledge projects from Africa and Latin America this book explores the pitfalls and possibilities that face a post apartheid generation inventing the future of knowledge The distinctions between Africanisation decolonisation and deracialisation are often conflated in the political demands put to universities Suren Pillay emphasises all three as important but distinct imperatives If an intervention is undertaken with the aim of decolonising the university while actually addressing deracialisation it can undermine the effort to decolonise Similarly if an initiative to Africanise the university does not address decolonisation both processes can be undermined Drawing on more than two and a half decades of the author s participation in these debates these essays aim to intervene in and elucidate questions and predicaments rather than offering blue prints they are dialogical in spirit even when polemical in tone In conversation with existing continental African and Latin American experiences they offer incisive reflections on current South African debates City Fictions of the New India Alex Tickell, 2025-04-24 How does Indian fiction imagine urban transformation India s cities were once maligned as places of economic stasis and deprivation but in the era of the so called New India 2000 present centres like Delhi and Mumbai have been recast as engines of economic growth and reshaped by prestige infrastructure Yet the provision of core infrastructures for all remains a major challenge for urban governance City Fictions is the first study of its kind to read anglophone Indian writing infrastructurally by taking account of the centrality of water utilities waste processing residential architecture and road rail and telephonic networks in contemporary representations of urban citizenship In a detailed historicized account of India s changing cities City Fictions analyses selected literary works in relation to key governmental and political discourses from early nationalist ideas of command economy infrastructure and mid century town planning to futuristic visions of the Heritage Cities Smart Cities and new urban satellite developments It also plots changing ideas about civic identity shaped by the rise of a consumerist middle class and the consolidation of a popular Hindu majoritarian politics In the process City Fictions develops an interdisciplinary literary critical approach that draws on eco criticism urbanism and new materialism Covering key fictions by Arundhati Roy Aravind Adiga Vikram Chandra Raj Kamal Jha and Githa Hariharan as well as literary journalism by Katherine Boo and Saumya Roy graphic fiction by Sarnath Banerjee and television drama by Richie Mehta this book shows how fiction discloses vital issues of collective rights equality and resourcing that are immanent in the infrastructure of India s cities
