International Exhibition 1862 [Anonymus AC09764970],1862      Production Organizations in Japanese Economic Development Tetsuji Okazaki,2007-01-18 In this important new book the authors explore how production was organized in the context of the economic development of modern Japan Production organizations are taken to mean the long term relationships which economic agents create for production based on employment contracts or long term transactions This includes hierarchical organizations such as factories and corporations but also flexible arrangements such as subcontracting Modern Japanese economic development is characterized by the co evolution of these two types of production organizations while American economic development in the modern period is characterized by the development of a mass production system based on large hierarchical organizations The question is raised as to why and how a certain type of organization proliferated in a certain industry in a certain period and what the role of that organization was in coordinating production and giving incentives to the economic agents involved The result is a comparative institutional analysis of the organizational foundations of Japanese economic development in the modern period      Intra-Asian Trade and the World Market A.J.H.
Latham,Heita Kawakatsu,2006-04-18 Intra Asian trade is a major theme of recent writing on Asian economic history From the second half of the nineteenth century intra Asian trade flows linked Asia into an integrated economic system with reciprocal benefits for all participants But although this was a network from which all gained there was also considerable inter Asian competition between Asian producers for these Asian markets and those of the wider world This collection presents captivating snap shots of trade in specific commodities alongside chapters comprehensively covering the region The book covers China s relative backwardness Japanese copper exports Japan s fur trade Siam s luxury rice trade Korea Japanese shipbuilding the silk trade the refined sugar trade competition in the rice trade the Japanese cotton textile trade to Africa multilateral settlements in Asia the cotton textile trade to Britain and the growth of the palm oil industry in Malaysia and Indonesia The opening of Asia especially in Japan and China liberated the creative forces of the market within the new intra Asian economy Filling a particular gap in the literature on intra Asian trade prior to the twentieth century this is an insightful study that makes a considerable contribution to our knowledge of the Asian trade both prior to and after the arrival of colonial states It will be of great interest to historians and economists focusing on Asia      Official Catalogue of the Industrial Department Weltausstellung (1862, London),1862      Medals and Honourable Mentions Awarded by the International Juries International exhibition, 1862,1862      Medals and Honourable Mentions awarded by the International Juries Anonymous,2022-05-15 Reprint of the original first published in 1862      Official Descriptive and Illustrated Catalogue: Foreign states ,1851
