1492-1992 René Jara, Nicholas Spadaccini, 1989 1492-1992 René Jara Cuadra, 1989 A Twice-told Tale Santiago Juan-Navarro, Theodore Robert Young, 2001 Essays on Iberian views of the age of conquest through literature and cinema

Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl and His Legacy Galen Brokaw, Jongsoo Lee, 2016-05-12 Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl and His Legacy provides a much needed overview of the life work and contribution of an important seventeenth century historian The volume explores the complexities of Alva Ixtlilxochitl's life and works revising and broadening our understanding of his racial and cultural identity and his contribution to Mexican history Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions in Latin America Jerónimo Arellano, 2015-05-21 Iconoclastic in spirit Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions in Latin America is the first study of affect and emotion in magical realist literature Against the grain of a vast body of scholarship it argues that magical realism is neither exotic commodity nor postcolonial resistance but an art form fueled by a search for spaces of wonder in a disenchanted world Linking the rise and fall of magical realism and kindred narrative forms to the shifting value of wonder as an emotional experience this thought provoking study proposes a radical new approach to canonical novels such as One Hundred Years of Solitude Received as one of the most convincing manifestations of the turn to affect in contemporary Latin American critical thought Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions draws on affect theory the history of emotions and new materialism to reframe key questions in Latin American literature and culture Reading North by South Neil Larsen, 1995 Rethinking the Baroque Helen Hills, 2017-07-05 Rethinking the Baroque explores a tension In recent years the idea of baroque or the baroque has been seized upon by scholars from a range of disciplines and the term baroque has consequently been much in evidence in writings on contemporary culture especially architecture and entertainment Most of the scholars concerned have little knowledge of the art literature and history of the period usually associated with the baroque A gulf has arisen On the one hand there are scholars who are deeply immersed in historical period who shy away from abstraction and who have remained often oblivious to the convulsions surrounding the term baroque on the other there are theorists and scholars of contemporary theory who have largely ignored baroque art and architecture This book explores what happens when these worlds mesh In this book scholars from a range of disciplines retrieve the term baroque from the margins of art history where it has been sidelined as anachronistic to reconsider the usefulness of the term baroque while avoiding simply rehearsing familiar policing of periodization stylistic boundaries categories or essence Baroque emerges as a vital and productive way to rethink problems in art history visual culture and architectural theory Rather than attempting to provide a survey of baroque as a chronological or geographical conception the essays here attempt critical re engagement with the term baroque its promise its limits and its overlooked potential in relation to the visual arts Thus the book is posited on the idea that tension is not only inevitable but even desirable since it not only encapsulates intellectual divergence which is always as useful as much as it is feared but helps to push scholars and therefore readers outside their usual runnels

Same-Sex Marriage in Renaissance Rome Gary Ferguson, 2016-07-09 From the tenor of contemporary discussions it would be easy to conclude that the idea of marriage between two people of the same sex is a uniquely contemporary phenomenon Not so argues Gary Ferguson in Same Sex Marriage in Renaissance Rome Making use of substantial fragments of trial transcripts Gary Ferguson brings the story of a same sex marriage to life in striking detail He unearths an incredible amount of detail about the men their sex lives and how others responded to this information which allows him to explore attitudes toward marriage sex and gender at the time Emphasizing the instability of marriage in premodern Europe Ferguson argues that same sex unions should be considered part of the institution s complex and contested history

Inventing America José Rabasa, 1993 In Inventing America José Rabasa presents the view that Columbus s historic act was not a discovery and still less an encounter Rather he considers it the beginning of a process of inventing a New World in the sixteenth century European consciousness The notion of America as a European invention challenges the popular conception of the New World as a natural entity to be discovered or understood however imperfectly This book aims to debunk complacency with the historic geographic and cartographic rudiments underlying our present picture of the world

Literacy and Literacies James Collins, Richard Blot, 2003-05-08 Literacy and Literacies is an engaging account of literacy and its relation to power The book develops a synthesis of literacy studies moving beyond received categories and exploring the domain of power through questions of colonialism modern state formation educational systems and official versus popular literacies Collins and Blot offer in depth critical discussion of particular cases and discuss the role of literacies in the formation of class gender and ethnic identity Through their analysis of two domains those of literacies and power and of literacies and subjectivity they challenge received assumptions about literacy intellectual development and social progress and argue that neither universalist nor particularist accounts offer satisfactory approaches to the phenomenon This is a sustained exploration of the domain of power in relation to literacy It will be welcomed by students and researchers in anthropology linguistics literacy studies and history

The Conquest All Over Again Susan Schroeder, 2011-03-23 The Spaniards typically portrayed the conquest and fall of Mexico Tenochtitlan as Armageddon while native people in colonial Mesoamerica continued to write and paint their histories and lives often without any mention of the foreigners in their midst This title addresses key aspects of indigenous perspectives of the conquest

Testimonio John Beverley, 2004 These four germinal essays by John Beverley sparked the widespread discussion and debate surrounding testimonio the socially and politically charged Latin American narrative of witnessing that culminated with David Stoll s highly publicized attack on Rigoberta Menchu s celebrated testimonial text Challenging Hardt and Negri s Empire Beverley s extensive new introduction examines the broader historical political and ethical issues that this literature raises tracing the development of testimonio from its emergence in the Cold War era to the rise of a globalized economy and of U S political hegemony Informed by postcolonial studies and the current debate over multiculturalism and identity politics Testimonio reaches across disciplinary boundaries to show how this particular literature at once represents and enacts new forms of agency on the part of previously repressed social subjects as well as its potential as a new form of alliance politics between those subjects and artists scientists teachers and intellectuals in a variety of local national and international contexts

Latin American Novels of the Conquest Kimberle S. López, 2002 The fictionalized explorers and conquistadors represented in this corpus all identify with certain aspects of Amerindian culture significantly those elements that are most distinct from European culture such as cannibalism and human sacrifice but also feel the need to distance themselves from these others in order to protect their own European cultural identity In most cases the conquistadors themselves are represented as outsiders within the enterprise of imperialism due to ethnic religious or sexual differences from the norm This representation turns the gaze inward toward the other within European culture underscoring the complex origins of Latin American cultures in the violent encounter between the Amerindians and the conquistadors By examining these issues Lopez s Latin American Novels of the Conquest illuminates the ways in which Latin American novelists used their literary imaginations to embody their ambivalence regarding their own transcultural heritage as children of both the colonized and the colonizer

The Early Modern Global South in Print Sandra Young, 2016-03-23 Early modern geographers and compilers of travel narratives drew on a lexicon derived from cartography s seemingly unchanging coordinates to explain human diversity Sandra Young s inquiry into the partisan knowledge practices of early modernity brings to light the emergence of the early modern global south Young proposes a new set of terms with which to understand the racialized imaginary inscribed in the scholarly texts that presented the peoples of the south as objects of an inquiring gaze from the north Through maps images and even textual formatting equivalences were established between new worlds many of them long known to European explorers she argues in terms that made explicit the divide between north and south This book takes seriously the role of form in shaping meaning and its ideological consequences Young examines in turn the representational methodologies or artes deployed in mapping the whole world illustrating creating charts for navigation noting down observations collecting and cataloguing curiosities reporting events formatting materials and editing and translating old sources By tracking these methodologies in the lines of beauty and evidence on the page we can see how early modern producers of knowledge were able to attribute alterity to the southern climes of an increasingly complex world while securing their own place within it The Unconverted Self

Jonathan Boyarin, 2011-05-14 The Unconverted Self proposes that questions of difference inside Christian Europe not only are inseparable from the painful legacy of colonialism but also reveal Christian domination to be a fragile construct Boyarin compares the Christian efforts aimed toward European Jews and toward indigenous peoples of the New World bringing into focus the intersection of colonial expansion with the Inquisition and adding significant nuance to the entire question of the colonial encounter Publisher description
