Beasts of the Forest Jon Hackett, Seán Harrington, 2019-12-02 An interdisciplinary engagement with the forest and its monsters through critical readings of folklore, fiction, film, music, video, and animation. Within the text, there are a multitude of convergent critical perspectives used to engage and explore fictional and real monsters of the forest in media and folklore. The collection features chapters from a variety of academic perspectives: film and media studies, cultural studies, queer theory, Tolkien studies, mythology, and popular music are featured. Under examination are a wide range of narratives and media forms that represent, reimagine, and create the werewolves, witches, and weird apparitions that inhabit the forest along with the forest as a monstrous entity in itself. Whether they be our shelter and safe haven or the domain of malevolent spirits and sprites, forests have the capacity to horrify and threaten those that venture into them without permission. Human interference has continually threatened forests across the world, yet this threat is reversed in myth, folklore, and more recent cultural forms. This collection ranges widely to analyze how forests figure in contemporary culture as well as the wider contexts in which such representations are inserted.

The Medieval North and Its Afterlife Siân Grønlie, Carl Phelpstead, 2023-12-04 This book showcases the variety and vitality of contemporary scholarship on Old Norse and related medieval literatures and their modern afterlives. The volume features original new work on Old Norse poetry and saga, other languages and literatures of medieval north-western Europe, and the afterlife of Old Norse in modern English literature. Demonstrating the lively state of contemporary research on Old Norse and related subjects, this collection celebrates Heather O'Donoghue's extraordinary and enduring influence on the field as manifested in the wide-ranging and innovative research of her former students and colleagues.
