

Character Analysis

Read the story. Then, answer the questions.

Neighbors Need Neighbors

There was an old lady who lived on the edge of town. Everyone referred to her as Granny. Because she kept to herself, she seemed a little different to some. She asked nothing of anyone and did nothing for anyone, except her many dogs. The number of dogs varied daily. Some only came when they were hungry and then left until they returned to eat again. Some knew a good home and stayed.

One day the paper boy noticed Granny's papers had not been picked up for three or four days. The dogs in her yard were thin and moved about slowly. He had not seen Granny for about a week. He wondered if she was all right.

He got off his bike and walked up the steps onto the front porch. He walked around and peered in the windows, but he did not see anything. He opened the front door slightly and called, "Hello! Anyone here?" He listened for a minute. He thought he heard a whimpering sound, so he quickly rode to the closest neighbor's house and called 9-1-1.

When the police arrived they found Granny had fallen and had not been able to move to call for help. The paramedics said Granny needed to go to the hospital where she stayed a few days.

While she was in the hospital, the paper boy came to feed her dogs every day. When Granny came home, neighbors brought food and flowers. Granny was sorry she had not gotten to know her new friends sooner, but was glad she had now "found" them.

1. Circle what Granny's behavior said about her character at the beginning of the story.

She liked to be alone. She did not like people. She was mean.

2. How did Granny's behavior change?

3. How did the neighbors' feelings for Granny change?
