Making Inclusion Work Frank Bowe, 2005 For the Inclusion Mainstreaming course Born of the author's extensive experience in preparing teachers this accessible categorical inclusion text offers a practical perspective on inclusion in today's multicultural multilingual and broadly diverse classrooms The author offers this perspective while simultaneously challenging pre-service and in-service teachers with a relatively new way of thinking about teaching universal design in education A thorough discussion of the foundations of inclusion and of the law at the beginning of the text is followed by specific disability chapters methods chapters and content area chapters Each of the chapters except for the foundational chapters in Part I contain practical strategies and methods for the preservice teacher in all age groups

Literacy S. N. Colamery, 2000 Literacy is defined as the ability to read and write One would expect that as the world enters the 21st century of the Third Millennium we wouldn't even need to discuss such a topic But alas that is not the case Even in the United States the only so-called superpower left standing at the moment the rate of illiteracy is astonishing Some cynics say that there is no cause for alarm since the rich elite class needs millions of workers for low-paid jobs and the less educated the better Others say that the lack of literacy is the fault of the schools and that if we double the pay of the teachers they will somehow suddenly be interested in teaching Still others say that with television and VCRs everywhere who needs to read and write anyway In this book we have collected citations sorted and indexed them in a way which we hope will be useful for those seeking further information on this topic At the beginning we offer excerpts from some of the fundamental reports summarising the dismal situation
