Halbwachs, 2024-05-31 How do we use our mental images of the present to reconstruct our past Maurice Halbwachs 1877 1945 addressed this question for the first time in his work on collective memory which established him as a major figure in the history of sociology This volume the first comprehensive English language translation of Halbwachs's writings on the social construction of memory fills a major gap in the literature on the sociology of knowledge Halbwachs's primary thesis is that human memory can only function within a collective context Collective memory Halbwachs asserts is always selective various groups of people have different collective memories which in turn give rise to different modes of behavior Halbwachs shows for example how pilgrims to the Holy Land over the centuries evoked very different images of the events of Jesus's life how wealthy old families in France have a memory of the past that diverges sharply from that of the nouveaux riches and how working class construction of reality differs from those of their middle class counterparts With a detailed introduction by Lewis A Coser this translation will be an indispensable source for new research in historical sociology and cultural memory Lewis A Coser is Distinguished Professor of Sociology Emeritus at the State University of New York and Adjunct Professor of Sociology at Boston College Handbook of Episodic Memory Ekrem Dere, Alexander Easton, Lynn Nadel, Joseph P

Cognitive Neuroscience of Memory Consolidation Nikolai Axmacher,Björn Rasch,2017-02-09 This edited volume provides an overview the state of the art in the field of cognitive neuroscience of memory consolidation In a number of sections the editors collect contributions of leading researchers The topical focus lies on current issues of interest such as memory consolidation including working and long term memory In particular the role of sleep in relation to memory consolidation will be addressed The target audience primarily comprises research experts in the field of cognitive neuroscience but the book may also be beneficial for graduate students Autobiographical Memory Charles P. Thompson,Douglas J.

Herrmann,Darryl Bruce,J. Don Read,David G. Payne,2014-10-10 The organization of the first Society for Applied Research in Memory and Cognition SARMAC conference centered around two specifically identifiable research topics autobiographical memory and eyewitness memory These two areas long time staples on the menu of investigators of memory in more natural settings differ on a variety of dimensions perhaps most notably in their specific goals for scientific inquiry and application For many questions about memory and cognition that are of interest to scientific psychology there have been historical as well as rather arbitrary reasons for their assignment to the autobiographical or eyewitness memory fields Perhaps as a result of differing historical orientations the first volume s seven autobiographical memory chapters focus upon the qualities or types of recall from research participants whereas the seven chapters in the eyewitness memory volume generally focus upon the quantity a concern for completeness and accuracy of recall This interest in the ultimate end product and its application within the legal process in general encourages eyewitness memory investigators to modify their testing procedures continually in an attempt to gain even more information from participants about an event Indeed several of the eyewitness memory chapters reflect such attempts Beyond the specific contributions of each chapter to the literature on autobiographical and eyewitness memory the editors hope that the reader will come away with some general observations the autobiographical and eyewitness memory fields are thriving these two fields are likely to remain center stage in the further investigation of memory in natural contexts although the autobiographical and eyewitness memory chapters have been segregated in these two volumes the separation is often more arbitrary than real and connections between the two areas abound the two research traditions are entirely mindful of fundamental laboratory methods research and theory sometimes drawing their research inspirations from that quarter and the two fields though driven largely by everyday memory concerns can contribute to a more basic understanding of memory at both an empirical and a theoretical level
