Rediscoveries In Art Some Aspects Of Tastes Fashion And Collecting In England And France:

Rediscoveries in Art Francis Haskell, 1976 Critical Readings in Impressionism and Post-Impressionism Mary Tompkins Lewis, 2023-12-22 The essays in this wide ranging beautifully illustrated volume capture the theoretical range and scholarly rigor of recent criticism that has fundamentally transformed the study of French Impressionist and Post Impressionist art Readers are invited to consider the profound issues and penetrating questions that lie beneath this perennially popular body of work as the contributors examine the art world of late nineteenth century France including detailed looks at Monet Manet Pissarro Degas C zanne Morisot Seurat Van Gogh and Gauguin The authors offer fascinating new perspectives placing the artworks from this period in wider social and historical contexts They explore these painters pictorial and market strategies the critical reception and modern criteria the paintings engendered and the movement s historic role in the formation of an avant garde tradition Their research reflects the wealth of new documents critical approaches and scholarly exhibitions that have fundamentally altered our understanding of Impressionism and Post Impressionism These essays several of which have previously been familiar only to scholars provide instructive models of in depth critical analysis and of the competing art historical methods that have crucially reshaped the field Contributors Carol Armstrong T J Clark Stephen F Eisenman Tamar Garb Nicholas Green Robert L Herbert John House Mary Tompkins Lewis Michel Melot Linda Nochlin Richard Shiff Debora Silverman Paul Tucker Martha Ward Art and Religion in

Eighteenth-Century Europe Nigel Aston, 2009-07-15 Eighteenth century Europe witnessed monumental upheavals in both the Catholic and Protestant faiths and the repercussions rippled down to the churches religious art forms Nigel Aston now chronicles here the intertwining of cultural and institutional turmoil during this pivotal century The sustained popularity of religious art in the face of competition from increasingly prevalent secular artworks lies at the heart of this study Religious art staked out new spaces of display in state institutions palaces and private collections the book shows as well as taking advantage of patronage from monarchs such as Louis XIV and George III who funded religious art in an effort to enhance their monarchical prestige Aston also explores the motivations and exhibition practices of private collectors and analyzes changing Catholic and Protestant attitudes toward art The book also examines purchases made by corporate patrons such as charity hospitals and religious confraternities and considers what this reveals about the changing religiosity of the era as well An in depth historical study Art and Religion in Eighteenth Century Europe will be essential for art history and religious studies scholars alike Opera and Society in Italy and France from Monteverdi to Bourdieu Victoria Johnson, Jane F. Fulcher, Thomas Ertman, 2007-05-03 This edited volume brings together academic specialists writing on the multi media operatic form from a range of disciplines comparative literature history sociology and philosophy The presence in the volume s title of Pierre Bourdieu the leading cultural sociologist of the late twentieth century signals the editors intention to synthesise advances in social science with advances in musicological and other scholarship on opera Through a focus on opera in Italy and France the contributors to the volume draw on their respective disciplines both to expand our knowledge of opera's history and to demonstrate the kinds of contributions that stand to be made by different disciplines to the study of opera The volume is divided into three sections each of which is preceded by a concise and informative introduction explaining how the chapters in that section contribute to our understanding of opera Desire and Excess Jonah Siegel, 2021-05-11

In this fascinating look at the creative power of institutions Jonah Siegel explores the rise of the modern idea of the artist in the nineteenth century a period that also witnessed the emergence of the museum and the professional critic Treating these developments as interrelated he analyzes both visual material and literary texts to portray a culture in which art came to be thought of in powerful new ways Ultimately Siegel shows that artistic controversies commonly associated with the self consciously radical movements of modernism and postmodernism have their roots in a dynamic era unfairly characterized as staid self satisfied and stable The nineteenth century has been called the Age of the Museum and yet critics art theorists and poets during this period grappled with the question of whether the proliferation of museums might lead to the death of Art itself Did the assembly and display of works of art help the viewer to understand them or did it numb the senses How was the contemporary artist to respond to the vast storehouses of art from disparate nations and periods that came to proliferate in this era Siegel presents a lively discussion of the shock experienced by neoclassical artists troubled by remains of antiquity that were trivial or even obscene as well as the anxious aesthetic reveries of nineteenth century art lovers overwhelmed by the quantity of objects quickly crowding museums and exhibition halls In so doing he illuminates the fruitful crises provoked when the longing for admired art is suddenly satisfied Drawing upon neoclassical art and theory biographies of early nineteenth century writers including Keats and Scott and the writings of art critics such as Hazlitt Ruskin and Wilde this book reproduces a cultural matrix that brings to life the artistic passions and anxieties of an entire era

A Cultural History of the Violin in Nineteenth-Century London Tom Wilder, 2025-03-18 Examines the violin's evolution as not just instrument but valued objet d'art through the eyes of musicians collectors makers dealers connoisseurs journalists auctioneers and traders The nineteenth century saw developments in the composition performance and reception of classical music that led to an unprecedented shift in how the violin was appreciated from humble craft object to one of art A utilitarian tool defined in 1800 by its tonal properties became by century's end an expensive objet d'art classified almost exclusively in terms of physical visible properties In London's vibrant musical life Cremonese violins acquired special significance and in turn helped shape the beliefs knowledge and behaviour of the disparate actors connected to the instrument musicians collectors makers dealers connoisseurs journalists auctioneers and traders By 1880 London had supplanted Paris as the centre of the international violin trade One firm in particular W E Hill Sons emerged as a major presence in both the local musical community and the global violin market The Hills were makers restorers dealers and connoisseurs They were also writers collectors and melomaniacs deeply implicated in London's instrument auction and exhibition scene The mutually reinforcing nature of these activities which they consciously turned to account for commercial reasons bear witness to events and developments earlier in the century Their story illuminates this first study of the violin s nineteenth century journey from simple musical instrument to mystified work of art

British Romanticism and the Reception of Italian Old Master Art, 1793-1840 Maureen McCue, 2016-05-23 As a result of Napoleon s campaigns in Italy Old Master art flooded into Britain and its acquisition became an index of national prestige Maureen McCue argues that their responses to these works informed the writing of Romantic period authors enabling them to forge often surprising connections between Italian art the imagination and the period s political social and commercial realities Dr McCue examines poetry plays novels travel writing exhibition catalogues early guidebooks and private experiences recorded in letters and diaries by canonical and noncanonical authors including Felicia Hemans William Buchanan Henry Sass Pierce Egan William Hazlitt Percy Shelley Lord Byron Anna Jameson Maria Graham Callcott and Samuel Rogers Her exploration of the idea of connoisseurship shows the ways in which a knowledge of Italian art became a key marker of cultural standing that was no longer limited to artists and aristocrats while her chapter on the literary production of post Waterloo Britain traces the development of a critical vocabulary equally applicable to the visual arts and literature In offering cultural historical and literary readings of the responses to Italian art by early nineteenth century writers Dr McCue illuminates the important role they played in shaping the themes that are central to our understanding of Romanticism

Civilizing Rituals Carol Duncan, 2005-06-20 Illustrated with over fifty photos Civilizing Rituals merges contemporary debates with lively discussion and explores central issues involved in the making and displaying of art as industry and how it is presented to the community Carol Duncan looks at how nations institutions and private individuals present art and how art museums are shaped by cultural social and political determinants Civilizing Rituals is ideal reading for students of art history and museum studies and professionals in the field will also find much of interest here

The Aesthetic Relation Gérard Genette, 1999 One of the best known continental theorists writing today Gérard Genette here explores our aesthetic relation to works of art Through an analysis of the views of thinkers ranging from David Hume and Immanuel Kant to Monroe C Beardsley Arthur Danto and Nelson Goodman Genette seeks to identify the place of the aesthetic in a theory of artistic appreciation His discussion is rich in detailed examples drawn from all of the arts The Aesthetic Relation is a companion volume to The Work of Art Immanence and Transcendence published by Cornell in 1997 Taken together the two books offer a comprehensive theory of art which addresses the work of art as at once object and action Genette maintains that our aesthetic relation to all types of objects presupposes that special attention is paid to their outward aspect rather than to their usefulness when appraising them Such appraisals while wholly subjective and temporary are expressed as objective and universal judgments about the items in question Further he asserts that our aesthetic relation to works of art in particular is based on an awareness of an aesthetic intention that defines an object as a work of art as well as on an awareness of a work s position in its historical and generic field

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
