Reflection A Novel:

The Reflection Joe Bright, 2002      Reflection Willie Corbett, 1996-04-01      Reflection. A Novel Dorothy Alice Bonavia HUNT, 1937      Reflection in Sequence Sandra J. Schumm, 1999-07

The codes of conduct imposed on females by Spain's dictator Francisco Franco after the Spanish Civil War 1936-39 created a stifling environment for women until his death in 1975. Beginning with Carmen Laforet's 1944 Nadal Prize winning novel Nada, novels by women many of which explore female identity began to proliferate in Spain. The works examined in this study: Nada (Primera memoria 1960) by Ana Maria Matute, La placa del Diamant 1962 by Merce Rodoreda, Julia 1969 by Ana Maria Moix, El cuarto de atrás 1978 by Carmen Martín Gaité, El amor es un juego solitario 1979 by Esther Tusquets, and Questio d amor propi 1987 by Carme Riera feature female protagonists struggling for self-realization and by extension for change in a restrictive Spanish society. Schumm's analysis of the seven novels demonstrates how examination of metaphoric tropes and mirror images provides insight into the protagonists' development.

The Void of Ethics Patrizia McBride, 2006

In a pluralistic society without absolute standards of judgment, how can an individual live a moral life? This is the question Robert Musil (1880-1942), an Austrian-born engineer and mathematician turned writer, asked in essays, plays, and fiction that grapple with the moral ambivalence of modern life. Though unfinished, his monumental novel of Vienna in the febrile days before World War I, The Man without Qualities, is identified by German scholars as the most important literary work of the twentieth century. In a fresh examination of his essays, notebooks, and fiction, Patrizia McBride reconstructs Musil's understanding of ethics as a realm of experience that eludes language and thought. After situating Musil's work within its contemporary cultural philosophical horizon as well as the historical background of rising National Socialism, McBride shows how the writer's notion of ethics as a void can be understood as a coherent and innovative response to the crises haunting Europe after World War I. She explores how Musil rejected the outdated rationalistic morality of humanism while simultaneously critiquing the irrationalism of contemporary art movements including symbolism, impressionism, and expressionism. Her work reveals Musil's remarkable relevance today, particularly those aspects of his thought that made him unfashionable in his own time: a commitment to fighting ethical fundamentalism and a literary imagination that validates the pluralistic character of modern life.

Fact, Fiction, and Representation Louis Mackey, 1997

First ever full-length study of four works by Gilbert Sorrentino, the contemporary American novelist. Gilbert Sorrentino is the most innovative and experimental writer now working in America. In a long and still continuing series of novels, he has broken down the barriers of fictional realism in ways which undercut the traditional boundaries between fact and fiction, exposing the problematical character of representation. However, although his position in contemporary American fiction is assured, he has not yet received the serious critical attention his work deserves. This volume is the first full-length treatment of his work in depth and detail; it examines four novels published by Sorrentino in the 1980s: Crystal Vision, Odd Number, Rose Theatre, and Misterioso, aiming to identify the critical and philosophical problems raised in his work and assessing his achievements in dealing with them      The Reflections Series Books 1 - 7
