Signs Following Free Verse Editions:

Signs Following Ger Killeen, 2005-10-20 Signs Following explores how the language of poetry can engage with history temporality and the fact of embodiment in the physical world of change and difference while yearning for some transcendent guarantee of meaning
A Map of Faring Peter Riley, 2005 In this collection of free verse landscape and encounters become the vocabulary of a personal exploration of senses of time and passage and the fate of small localities in the spread of global forces

System and Population Christopher Sindt, 2016-11-01 Christopher Sindt's System and Population returns to the primary theme of Sindt's earlier collection The Bodies the impact of human desire on the natural world System and Population focuses on the proposed damming of the American River canyon in northern California working with source texts such as geologic studies government documents and the diaries of gold miners to study the intersections of personal experience scientific study and the politics of rivers and dams It is a personal eco poetics that embraces the tradition of the lyric experimenting with collage and the explicit inclusion of historic and scientific data System and Population meditates on human experiences such as parenthood and loss and also studies the dissociative effects of environmental damage and disaster

Overyellow, an Installation Nicholas Pesquès, 2017-01-01 This is a book about a color the vivid explosive yellow of the English broom that blooms outrageously uproariously all over the mountain that dominates the view from Nicolas Pesquès's window In this loping long poem Pesquès views this color as installation art as if the word YELLOW were written in enormous letters covering the hillside It's an installation that brings issues of language to the fore offering an occasion for the writer to juggle the immediate presence of color with the more mitigated presence created by language

Pilgrimage Suites Derek Gromadzki, 2016-10-01 Reading itself is travel in Derek Gromadzki's first book Pilgrimage Suites an outing across an insular medieval landscape as rich in its registers of language as in its flora or fauna This book is neither history nor story though it retains characteristics of each Like history it perpetuates retrograde speculation while maintaining the narrated sequencing of incident that is the common stock and trade of story In the heyday of medieval pilgrimages English underwent radical changes The Latinate speech of Church officialdom ran roughly up against a vernacular with deep Germanic and Brythonic roots These suites track an imagined journey over the landscape that staged the violence of this conflict whereon strikingly beautiful monuments stood in the aftermath To the cultural clashes and assimilations materially manifest in the Romanesque and Gothic cathedrals travelers still venerate today Gromadzki offers an overlooked parallel through creative strife with sound He uses the momentum generated in running the lexical and rhythmic possibilities of English's varied sources together to stretch and sustain the lyric over a pastoral background to push each of these two modes past its respective limits
The Flying House Dawn-Michelle Baude, 2008-02-25 From the ancient to the contemporary the personal to the literary The Flying House is an investigation of the relic in the largest sense of the term Written on site in the Middle East and Europe the poems inhabit a space at once contemporary and historical in which

current conflicts recall old wars and archeological artifacts rhyme with cutting edge fashions Puppet Wardrobe Daniel Tiffany,2006-09-27 Puppet Wardrobe is a pop up book surprise is in its element In search of the dateless lively heat that Shakespeare sourced to Cupid Daniel Tiffany finds the infamous promiscuity of things in broad display As watchword you have the poet s slang for the pink redoubt the chummy vulgarity beneath prosody s underthings say hello to the New Flesh

What Stillness Illuminated Yermiyahu Ahron Taub,2008-11-26 The poet really means his title This book was generated from an artist s model s intensely bodily experience of stillness observed stillness at that It is itself a series of brief formally invariable stills that shine a light on occult links among memory fragments littered over generations of suffering It is a kind of La Jet e in words But words it is still true to say can do even more and they can ask more of you Reading these poems feels almost like writing poetry and the poetry is of a seriousness and lightness that should inspire its readers to try the excellent and immortal game themselves Good poetry is contagious and this haunted haunting sequence is good poetry Mary Baine

Savett,2007-10-02 Child in the Road is a mother s response to the sudden death of her young daughter a rendering of the wide range of emotions experienced afterwards not description but an expression of grief from its center The poems pull vivid imagery from the deepest layers of the unconscious postcards from a sleepwalker unable to find rest waking again and again in the wrong story Who is alive and who is dead What does it mean to go on living eyes searching under the earth

Divination Machine F. Daniel Rzicznek,2009-08-19 We have confessional poets who write about themselves nature poets who write about place experimental poets who write about language And we have F Daniel Rzicznek who finds many centers to the world whose Divination Machine resists simplification into any one category Rzicznek is a poet for whom Everything is a piece of the vision H L Hix The Free Methodist ,1900 Current Lisa Fishman,2011-01-27 Lisa Fishman s Current follows The Happiness Experiment Ahsahta 2007 further into an experience of time as theater weather myth insect body plantlife transcription synchrony and figment Her poems are pressed into argument and song by means of attention to the moment and to cross currents of making of music over time Current enacts a poetics of the uncanny in very close touch with the actual creating a field of vibrations in which the possibilities and limitations of vision and art collide and change

The Thinking Eye Jennifer Atkinson,2016-01-01 Jennifer Atkinson's The Thinking Eye her fifth collection looks at the syntax of our living evolving world paying close attention to the actual quartz and gnats the goats and iced over onrushing rivers The poems also look at the looking itself how places and lives become landscapes and the ways the lenses of language art ecology myth and memory enlarge and focus our seeing If it's true as Gaston Bachelard says that whether a poet looks through a telescope or a microscope she sees the same thing then what Atkinson sees is an earth filled with violence and beauty human malice and ten thousand separate moments of joy Clearly in love with the earth and the English language all those inter dependent lives and forms Atkinson pays attention to both with a Bishoppy eye a Hopkinsy ear and an ecopoet's conscience Behind the book's sharp images and lush music creaks Chernobyl's rusty Ferris wheel

Under the Quick Molly Bendall,2009-08-26 In Molly Bendall's fourth book of poems the verbal underworld of doing and undoing oath love charm prayer curse becomes a refuge of tenderness and malediction One of her generation's most subtly imaginative poets Bendall overhears and whispers to the reader a lost language which is by turns brainy and promiscuous clueless and inscrutable bewitching and bereft a voice skirting a strange silence a goblin market of snares cures trifles and matters inconnus Under the spell of these poems worlds once imagined break into growls and fingersnaps undoing the rough magic of impersonation

Summoned Guillevic,2015-08-01 The sixteenth of the twenty five major works of Guillevic published by Gallimard since 1942 Summoned Requis represents a pivotal moment in his oeuvre and reaffirms his position as an essential and compelling voice in contemporary poetry A long poem composed of short lapidary verse that the poet calls quanta each in itself a miniature poem Requis distils familiar themes and motifs of the Guillevician universe within an expanded vision encompassing the outer reaches of space Within this poetic hurly burly at once totalising and fragmented arboreal and rhizomatic cadenced and discontinuous expansive and condensed there is a summons to bear witness to the human condition while heeding the injunction of notre toucher De l'illimit that seeks to transgress the boundaries of knowledge to abolish the dichotomies of presence and absence motion and stillness word and silence

Split the Crow Sarah Sousa,2015-01-06 The poems of Sarah Sousa's Split the Crow employ archaeology as a means of giving voice not only to the land but to long gone peoples We discover the objects that individuals were equipped with for their final journeys as well as witnessing their tales Sousa's work picks up where conventional history has left off giving voice to urgent testimonies The Lost People states On the train coming east not knowing what else to do boys sang the death songs our warriors sang riding into battle just one of many instances where Native American accounts find a ready home in Sousa's poetry Split the Crow is a collection of tremendous magnitude that calls upon the past as a way to reconsider our present moment
