Claude McKay, Rebel Sojourner in the Harlem Renaissance Wayne F. Cooper, 1996-02 Cooper paints a meticulous and absorbing portrait of McKay's restless artistic intellectual and political odyssey The definitive biography on McKay Choice Although recognized today as one of the genuine pioneers of black literature in this century the author of If We Must Die Home to Harlem Banana Bottom and A Long Way from Home among other works Claude McKay 1890-1948 died penniless and almost forgotten in a Chicago hospital In this masterly study Wayne Cooper presents a fascinating detailed account of McKay's complex chaotic and frequently contradictory life In his poetry and fiction as well as in his political and social commentaries McKay searched for a solid foundation for a valid black identity among the working class cultures of the West Indies and the United States He was an undeniably important predecessor to such younger writers of the Harlem Renaissance as Langston Hughes and Countee Cullen and also to influential West Indian and African writers such as C. L. R. James and Aimé Césaire Knowledge of his life adds important dimensions to our understanding of American radicalism the expatriates of the 1920s and American literature Mr Cooper's most original contribution is his careful and perceptive analysis of McKay's nonfiction writing especially his social and political commentary which often contained prophetic statements on a range of important social political and historical issues New York Times Book Review
