The Evolution of Complex Hunter-Gatherers Ben Fitzhugh, 2012-12-06 In 1987 I had the good fortune to join in the excavation of a phenomenal archaeological site on the western coast of Kodiak Island in Alaska The New Karluk site aka Karluk One was perched on the edge of the small village of Karluk at the mouth of the river of the same name once one of the most productive salmon rivers in the North Pacific I had just completed my sophomore year of college and under the direction of Richard Jordan I enthusiastically joined several other students in the Kodiak Archaeology Projects New Karluk excavation I had participated in my father's archaeological research in Eastern Canada since early childhood but the Karluk dig was unlike any archaeology I had experienced before For three months we peeled back layers of grass wood and earth floors separated by remnants of ancient sod roofs Due to the unusual preservation and richness of the site at every turn we uncovered perishable items such as bent wood bowls masks dolls puffin beak rattles grass baskets fragments of fiber netting locks of hair and food waste Preservation was so excellent in fact that we often exposed grass blades still green after hundreds of years which once exposed to air would turn brown before our eyes Giinaquq: Like a Face Amy F. Steffian, Sven D. Haakanson, Jr., 2009-06-15 Masks are an ancient tradition of the Alutiiq people on the southern coast of Alaska Alutiiq artists carved the masks from wood or bark into images of ancestors animal spirits and other mythological forces these extraordinary creations have been an essential tool for communicating with the spirit world and have played an important role in dances and hunting festivities for centuries Giinaquq Like a Face presents thirty three full color images of these fantastic and eye catching masks which have been preserved for more than a century as part of the Pinart Collection in a small French museum These masks collected in 1871 by a young French scholar of indigenous cultures are presented for the first time in their complete cultural context celebrating the rich history of the Alutiiq people and their artistic traditions In addition to the stunning photographs Giinaquq Like a Face includes an informative text in three languages English Alutiiq and French in order to provide a cross cultural understanding of the masks traditional meaning and use This captivating and revealing book will be an essential resource for anyone interested in indigenous art and culture Archaeology and Capitalism Yannis Hamilakis, Philip Duke, 2016-06-03 The editors and contributors to this volume focus on the inherent political nature of archaeology and its impact on the practice of the discipline Pointing to the discipline's history of advancing imperialist colonialist and racist objectives they insist that archaeology must rethink its muted professional stance and become more overtly active agents of change The discipline is not about an abstract archaeological record but about living individuals and communities whose lives and heritage suffer from the abuse of power relationships with states and their agents Only by recognizing this power disparity and adopting a political ethic for the discipline can archaeology justify its activities Chapters range from a critique of traditional ethical codes to examinations of the capitalist motivations and structures within the discipline to calls for an engaged emancipatory archaeology that improves the lives of the people with whom archaeologists work A direct challenge to the discipline this volume will provoke discussion disagreement and inspiration for many in the field Indigenous Cosmopolitans Maximilian Christian Forte, 2010 Timely and original this volume looks at indigenous peoples from the perspective of cosmopolitan theory and at cosmopolitanism from the perspective of the indigenous world In doing so it not only sheds new light on both but also has something important to say about the complexities of identification in this shrinking overheated world Analysing ethnography from around the world the authors demonstrate the universality of the local indigeneity and the particularity of the universal cosmopolitanism Anthropology doesn't get much better than this Thomas Hylland Eriksen Professor of Anthropology University of Oslo Author of Globalisation Book Jacket Returns James Clifford, 2013-11-04 Returns third in a trilogy explores the ways people recover and renew their roots James Clifford looks at native peoples who have become not victims but inventive agents of a tangled open ended modernity Their returns to the land performances of heritage and diasporic ties are strategies for moving toward traditional futures Events, Exhibitions, and Programs National Endowment for the Humanities.
