Looking For Life The Role Of Theo Ethical Reasoning In Pauls Religion:

The Holy Spirit and Ethics in Paul Volker Rabens, 2013 Volker Rabens answers the question of how according to the apostle Paul the Holy Spirit enables religious ethical life In the first part of the book the author discusses the established view that the Spirit is a material substance which transforms people ontologically by virtue of its physical nature In order to assess this Stoic reading of Paul the author examines all the passages from the Hebrew Bible early Judaism Hellenism and Paul that have been put forward in support of this concept of ethical enabling He concludes that there is no textual evidence in early Judaism or Paul that the Spirit was conceived as a material substance Furthermore none of these or any of the Graeco Roman writings show that ethical living derives from the transformation of the substance of the person that is imbued with a physical Spirit The second part of the study offers a fresh approach to the ethical work of the Spirit which is based on a relational concept of Paul s theology Rabens argues that it is primarily through initiating and sustaining an intimate relationship with God the Father Jesus Christ and with the community of faith that the Spirit transforms and empowers people for ethical living The author establishes this thesis on the basis of an exegetical study of a variety of passages from the Pauline corpus In addition he demonstrates that Paul lived in a context in which this dynamic of ethical empowering was part of the religious framework of various Jewish groups

Looking for Life John Goddard Lewis, 2004 Looking for Life John G. Lewis, 2005-04-30 Through exegetical studies of 1 Corinthians and Galatians John Lewis shows how Paul synthesises theology and ethics which interpreters frequently separate as integrated aspects of Christian thinking and living This fusion becomes evident in Paul s complex process of theological moral reasoning that lies beneath the surface of his letters for which we have coined the phrase theo ethical reasoning The book also examines how Paul encourages his churches to apply this theo ethical reasoning in the community practice of spiritual discernment a dialogical comparative process of reasoned reflection on behaviour and experience Through this practice of looking for life community members are led by the Spirit as they reason together attempting to associate the manifestations of new life with conduct that faithfully portrays Christ s self giving pattern This correlation of conduct with experience grounds Paul s own proclamation of Jesus Christ in word and deed It also becomes the foundation for believers faith and hope as they come to know Christ and experience the power of God Thus the book concludes that the practice of spiritual discernment by means of theo ethical reasoning lies at the centre of Paul s religion

Paul's Eschatological Anthropology Sarah Harding, 2016-02-01 In this study Sarah Harding examines Paul s anthropology from the perspective of eschatology concluding that the apostle s view of humans is a function of his belief that the cosmos evolves through distinct aeons in progress toward its telos Although scholars have frequently assumed that Paul s anthropological utterances are arbitrary inconsistent or dependent upon parallel views extant in the first century world Harding shows that these assumptions only arise when Paul s anthropology is considered apart from its eschatological context That context includes the temporal distinction of the old aeon the new aeon and the significant overlap of aeons in which those in Christ dwell as well as a spatial dimension that comprises the cosmos and the powers that dominate it especially sin and the Holy Spirit These eschatological dimensions determine the value Paul attaches to any particular anthropological aspect Harding examines the cosmological power dominant in each aeon and the structures through which in Paul's view these influence human beings examining texts in which Paul discusses nous, kardia and soma in each aeon The Nature of New Testament Theology Christopher Rowland, Christopher Tuckett, 2008-04-15 This volume brings together some of the most distinguished writers in the field of New Testament studies to provide an overview of discussions about the nature of New Testament theology Examines the development, purpose and scope of New Testament theology Looks at the relationship of New Testament theology with other branches of theology Considers crucial issues within the New Testament such as the historical Jesus, the theology of the cross, eschatology, ethics and the role of women Offers fresh perspectives which take discussion of the subject further in key areas Includes a foreword by Rowan Williams The Ordering of the Christian Mind Martin Westerholm, 2015-11-12 The adequacy of Karl Barth's conception of theological reasoning is a decisive point of contention in assessments of the legacy and potential of twentieth century theology Barth's work is a formative point from which other twentieth century figures take their orientation later thinkers have most often taken their leave from his work by suggesting that it reflects an underdeveloped conception of the activities of human reason The regularity with which other thinkers orient themselves in relation to Barth by pointing to a positivism, faith subjectivism or fideism in his work elevates the question of theological reasoning to a decisive point in the comprehension of twentieth century theology The Ordering of the Christian Mind facilitates evaluation of Barth's work by reconstructing his conception of the activities of reason It does so first by reframing the question Martin Westerholm shows that Barth's understanding of the moral structure of the relation between God and creatures demands that the question of theological reasoning be approached through an ethical inquiry into the proper ordering of the activities of the mind Secondly Westerholm deploys a new set of categories through which Barth's work can be described He shows that by working through an account of the noetic corollaries of faith and of the understanding of faith Barth develops a coherent and compelling account of the standpoint orientation and freedom of theological reasoning Development of this material is accompanied by new accounts of Barth's earlier theology of the resurrection, his theological development and the significance of his engagement with Anselm

Worship that Makes Sense to Paul Nijay K. Gupta, 2010-07-19 This book examines Paul's use of temple priesthood and sacrificial metaphors from a cognitive and socio-literary perspective The final conclusion of a number of scholars in this area of research is that Paul's cultic metaphors have the theological and rhetorical purpose of encouraging community formation and moral living Such evaluations however often take place without paying sufficient attention to the complexity of Paul's cultic imagery as well as from a methodological standpoint what metaphors are and how they are used in thinking and communicating Utilizing the tools and insights of conceptual metaphor theory this study seeks to approach this topic afresh by attending to how metaphors constitute a necessary platform of cognition Thus they have world constructing and perception transforming utility In this study we conclude that far from being merely about ethics or ecclesiology Paul s cultic metaphors act as vehicles for communicating his ineffable theology and ethical perspective By anchoring his converts new experiences in Christ to the world of ancient cult and its familiar set of terms and concepts he was attempting to re describe reality and develop a like minded community of faith by articulating logik latreia worship that makes sense

Image and Glory of God Michael Lakey,2010-03-11 This hermeneutical case study illustrates the complexities of using biblical materials to shed light upon present day concerns The specific situation addressed is the recent evangelical controversy regarding gender roles A significant strand of this debate concerns the relationship between gender and the doctrine of God This proposition is derived from 1 Corinthians 11 Whilst aspects of this argument are criticized Lakey also argues that questions of God and gender are related 1 Corinthians 11 2 16 articulates sexual difference using the metaphysical language of antiquity thereby situating the sexes vis vis each other as microcosms of God and Christ vis vis the cosmos For Paul the Church circumscribes that part of the cosmos able to express its creaturely relationship to God However modern interpreters arguably cannot share Paul s cosmological and anthropological assumptions Lakey points us towards forging a solution for how to interpret as Christian Scripture a text that invites its readers to assume a stance that is now problematic for many modern Christians

Being 'in Christ' in the Letters of Paul Teresa Morgan,2020-11-05 In this study Teresa Morgan offers a radically new interpretation of in Christ and related expressions in the undisputed letters of Paul Starting from a reassessment of Deissmann s Die neutestamentliche Formel in Christo Jesu she argues that Deissmann s philology is flawed the Schweitzerian concept of participation in Christ which is indebted to it is problematic and many contemporary accounts of participation are better understood in other terms Through close readings of each letter Teresa Morgan shows how Paul uses en Christo language instrumentally to speak of what God has done through Christ by Christ s death and encheiristically to speak of the life the faithful now live in Christ s hands in Christ s power under his authority under his protection and in his care This creative use of en Christo language forms part of and connects Paul s soteriology eschatology and Christology shaping his narrative of God s intervention in the world the relationship between God Christ and the faithful the lordship and work of Christ between the resurrection and the parousia and God s ultimate triumph This narrative is closely connected with Paul s ecclesiology and ethics where life in Christ s hands is envisaged as the this worldly dimension of the new creation an aspect of eternal life already active in the present time In Christ s hands the faithful not least Paul himself live a new life in communities with a distinctive structure and dynamic In Christ s hands they hope to remain in right standing with God and serve God until Christ s return

The Ritual World of Paul the Apostle Michael Lakey,2018-12-27 Michael Lakey explores the theological significance of the rituals of Baptism and the Lord s Supper in Pauline theology with the argument culminating in an analysis of the significance of ritual dining in 1 Corinthians 10 14 22 and the Lord s Supper in 1

Corinthians 11 17 34 By contrast with social world forms of comparison between rituals in the Pauline communities and other communities in antiquity this study focuses primarily upon the theologically integrating function these rituals perform in relation to Paul s theology and ethics Lakey builds upon Clifford Geertz s systemic understanding of religion by showing how for Paul Baptism and the Lord s Supper facilitate specific connections between his metaphysics on the one hand and the form or pattern of life he enjoins upon his churches on the other This volume considers precisely what given his theological and ethical premises Paul s underlying beliefs regarding these ritual events may have been allowing for a preliminary discussion of specific lines of post interpretation in the early patristic period
