Morning Streets:

Cockfighter Charles Willeford, 2013-08-11 In the criminal underbelly of the 1960s rural South a silent iron willed man is ready to sacrifice anything to rise to the top A former professional boxer actor horse trainer and radio announcer Charles Willeford 1919 1988 is best known for his Miami based crime novels featuring hard boiled detective Hoke Moseley including Miami Blues and Sideswipe His career as a writer began in the late 1940s but it was his 1972 novel Cockfighter that announced his name to a wider audience Frank Mansfield is the titular cockfighter a silent and fiercely contrary man whose obsession with winning will cost him almost everything Mansfield haunts the cockpits bars and roads of the rural South in the early 1960s adrift but always capable of nearly anything First published in complete form in 1972 and adapted by Willeford for a Monte Hellman film in 1974 which became infamous for its use of real animals in the fight scenes the novel Cockfighter has been out of print for nearly 20 years Praise for Charles Willeford and Cockfighter One of our most skilled interesting accomplished and productive writers Jonathan Yardley Washington Post Charles Willeford renders the sport of cockfighting with such knowledge and attention to detail that I had the almost inexpressible impression of being on my knees again beside the great fighting pits of the southern circuit Harry Crews No one writes a better crime novel than Charles Willeford Elmore Leonard Entertaining every step of the way Willeford opens up for most of us a whole undiscovered world and conveys it wonderfully Publishers Weekly

Two Faced A. R. Ashworth, 2018-07-10 DCI Elaine Hope barely survived her last case Someone is still determined to put an end to her But could the culprit be one of her London Metropolitan Police colleagues Detective Chief Inspector Elaine Hope still bears the scars both physical and emotional of the devastating assault that nearly ended her life nine months ago Now she wants two things to salvage a police career in tatters and to get payback But who is the ultimate culprit Is it Anton Srecko capo of the brutal gangsters who attacked her Or is it someone within the London Metropolitan Police who failed to send backup when she most needed help Put on desk duty while she recovers from the attack Elaine runs her rogue investigation in secret Despite the crime chart on her bedroom wall a slate of clandestine informers and a list of likely suspects she hits a maddening dead end Meanwhile former members of Elaine s team Detectives Philip Bull and Simon Costello find themselves assigned to what appears to be a vicious gangland execution that has taken place in the posh neighbourhood of Kensington The victim bears a tattoo that links him to the Sreckos and a mysterious barefoot blonde woman was seen fleeing the scene Their new DI seems to be quashing the investigation When they turn to Elaine for help she s given one last chance to save her career But she ll have to give up her off the books investigation and work closely with an old nemesis Can she As Elaine is pushed closer and closer to the edge the evidence grows ever more perplexing and chilling Building on A R Ashworth s acclaimed series debut Two Faced is the second Elaine Hope mystery to deliver nonstop suspense leading to an unexpected and spectacular climax

The Silent Observer Marcus Whitmore, The rain drummed against the windows of the surveillance center with a steady rhythm that Marcus Chen had grown to find almost comforting over the past three years Almost Tonight however the sound seemed more ominous like fingers tapping impatiently on glass demanding entry into his carefully controlled world Marcus adjusted his headset and leaned back in his ergonomic chair studying the wall of monitors that stretched before him like a digital constellation Each screen displayed a different slice of the city street corners building lobbies parking garages even some private residences whose owners had voluntarily joined the Enhanced Safety Network The program promised peace of mind through constant vigilance and the citizens of New Haven had embraced it with surprising enthusiasm Another quiet night in paradise muttered his colleague Sarah from the workstation beside him She was scrolling through footage from the downtown district her tired eyes reflecting the blue glow of her screens Marcus nodded but didn't respond He'd learned that small talk made the work harder somehow made it more personal It was better to maintain professional distance from both his colleagues and the subjects he monitored The training manual called them subjects never people Marcus understood why A soft chime indicated an incoming priority assignment Marcus's stomach tightened as he opened the encrypted message Priority assignments were rare and usually unpleasant They involved monitoring specific individuals deemed persons of interest by the city's algorithmic threat assessment system The file that appeared on his screen contained a photograph of a woman in her early thirties with auburn hair and intelligent green eyes Her name was Dr Elena Vasquez a research psychologist at New Haven University According to the brief she'd been flagged for suspicious research activities and potential dissemination of anti-surveillance propaganda

The Five Gates of Hell Rupert Thomson, 2012-08-01 There were very few land burials in Moon Beach It was considered old-fashioned unhealthy and something that only happened to the poor Instead the dead were buried in ocean cemeteries twelve miles out A special festival was held every year in their honour Children loved it They were given white chocolate bones marzipan skulls and ice cream coffins on a stick There were costume parties too You had to wear something blue because that was the colour people went when they were buried under the sea You could paint your hands and face if you liked or even dye your hair That's what people did in Moon Beach Turned blue once a year And then they turned blue forever

Bread and Salt Connie Biewald, 2005-10 At the very beginning of the First World War when many folk in Germany still had enough to eat there lived three hungry sisters Sofie the oldest had restless gray eyes the color of the ocean on a stormy day Amalia's eyes were the steady brown of newly plowed potato fields Dora's shone blue as the Virgin Mary's robes At ages nine eight and seven these girls didn't have to be told the world was dangerous They knew from their mother's worried face and how she said it would be only for a short while but they had to be good no trouble to anyone and spend their days locked safely in the room rented from Frau Becker a tight white room with a bed a chamber pot some crates that served as table and chairs one high shelf a plain wooden crucifix and the necessary nearness of sisters

Arc Of The Mercenary Christian Stewart, 2021-09-10 In a universe where magic exists the natural societal progression of various species has been radically altered Humanity has split into two main factions The Arc Alliance uses a type of energy developed from magic to power all sorts of technological marvels Then there is the Holy Empire of the Eternal Light which relies on the power of their god and the miracles that it allows them to perform The two factions are currently at war with each other and have been so for three hundred years However both sides have agreed to specific rules so fighting is contained in a contained area known as the War Belt It is on an Alliance controlled planet within the War Belt where the main character lives Mordred is a young woman in her early twenties who works as a mercenary As she was abandoned as a child and forced to live on the streets along with the planet she is on Outlier is a very impoverished planet There was little other work she could do She also has another reason for being a mercenary finding her father who disappeared seventeen years ago After a complicated mission Mordred finds herself entangled in the schemes of forces much larger and more powerful than she could possibly imagine She encounters many allies along the way but the lines between friend and foe start to blend as things are not exactly what they seem Mordred is faced with many challenges and will be forced to confront herself along with the reality she resides within As the drums of war grow louder and tensions start to rise Mordred will be forced to decide that will affect everything she knows
