Helicopter Parenting and Boomerang Children Anne West, Jane Lewis, 2017-10-12 Drawing an unfavourable contrast between the position of students and graduates with that of their baby boomer parents has become a staple for media comment. Indeed, student indebtedness and difficulties in finding graduate jobs and housing typically contrasts markedly with their parents' experiences. Broadening the investigation, Helicopter Parenting and Boomerang Children depicts how students and graduates are now likely to be close to their parents, receive considerable financial and emotional support from them, and upon graduation return home. Using qualitative data from two interview studies of middle class families, this title explores the impact of these changes on young people's transition to independence and adulthood, and on intergenerational and intragenerational equality. This enlightening monograph will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in fields such as Social Policy, Family Sociology, and Education.

The Women of the Talmud Judith Z. Abrams, 1995 In this unique volume, Judith Abrams, author of the highly regarded series The Talmud for Beginners, examines the episodes recorded in rabbinic literature that suggest the actions of the women of those times. By overlooking what the sages thought about women or what they believed women ought to do in theory, and by focusing upon the situational and behavioral patterns of these women, Abrams has constructed a credible and feasible account of what women belonging to the rabbinic era were actually like and the manner in which they conducted themselves on a daily basis. Upon looking at the materials presented, the reader will find that women were every bit as varied a group then as women are today: some were pious and respectful of the sages, and some disregarded them; some were poor and others rich; some longed to be married while others yearned for divorce. Perhaps the greatest surprise to the reader will be discovering the large amount of power and control women had over their own lives. Far from passive, these women were not the powerless figures the reader may have thought them to be.

Altschul-Yerushalmi Altschul-Yerushalmi, 2024-06-17 Sefer Brantshpigl is an important Yiddish religious ethical work first published in Cracow 1596. It was reprinted six more times into the beginning of the eighteenth century and is an important source for the social and religious life of Central East European Jewry in the Early Modern period. This volume is the first complete translation of this text into English with annotations and scholarly introduction. The author Moshe Henoch's Altschul Yerushalmi was a member of what has become to be known as the secondary intelligentsia. Little is known about his life other than that he lived in Prague. His son Henoch Altschul was the Shamash of the Jewish community of Prague from 1603-1633. He examined all aspects of Jewish social and religious life in seventy-six chapters. Each chapter discusses a specific topic. Not only does he describe what is good and critiques what he finds to be lacking but he buttresses his arguments with citations from the whole range of rabbinic literature. One aspect that is particularly interesting is his citation of kabbalistic sources in his arguments. He cites kabbalistic sources more than sixty times and even devotes a whole chapter to the kabbalistic night ritual of Tikkun Hazot.
