New Directions In Psychohistory:

New Directions in Psychohistory Mel Albin, Robert James Devlin, Gerald A. Heeger, 1980 Psychological Undercurrents of History Henry Lawton, Jerry S. Piven, 2001 Psychological Undercurrents of History gathers together salient works of scholarship which endeavor to interpret the madness and imagination of our past from ancient religion to the Holocaust to Millennialism and Apocalyptic violence Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1980 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70 New Directions in European Historiography Georg G. Iggers, 1984-07 Impressive analytical essays on the transformation of historical studies in Europe In four impressively researched essays Georg Iggers recounts the transformation of historical studies in Europe during the twentieth century with particular emphasis on the historiography of the past fifteen years Although the book does survey a broad area of contemporary historical thought it is primarily a careful analytical examination of the methodological and theoretical reorientation of certain influential European historians The first essay discusses the emergence at German Universities during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries of the concept of history as a scientific discipline distinct from the classical tradition of literary history and the later broad acceptance of this mode of Enquiry in the Western world Against this background Mr Iggers then considers the challenge to this mode of the political social and intellectual upheavals of the twentieth century especially after World War II The three essays following examine important attempts to develop alternate paradigms for historical study the French historians of the Annales tradition the German political historians of the 1960s the various Marxist historians of France Poland East Germany and Great Britain In despite of the frequent insistence by philosophers and theorists of history that history is not a science in contemporary terms historians themselves have striven in recent years to strengthen the quantitative aspects of historical study moving away from traditional patterns of writing and adopting methods and concepts from the systematic social sciences Mr Iggers book is an excellent introduction to these contemporary changes in historiography and in its comparative analyses itself makes a contribution to historical studies Approaches to Political Thought William L. Richter, 2009-03-16 This book focuses on the ways in which major contemporary scholars approach political thought and writing from Plato to the present New Directions in Psychohistory , Fifty Key Works of History and Historiography Kenneth R. Stunkel, 2012-05-23 Fifty Key Works of History and Historiography introduces some of the most important works ever written by those who have sought to understand capture query and interpret the past The works covered include texts from ancient times to the present day and from different cultural traditions ensuring a wide variety of schools methods and ideas are introduced Each of the fifty texts represents at least one of six broad categories early examples of historiography e g Herodotus and Augustine non western works e g Shaddad and Fukuzawa Critical historiography e g Mabillon and Ranke history of minorities neglected groups or subjects e g Said and Needham broad sweeps of history e g Mumford and Hofstadter problematic or unconventional historiography e g Foucault and White Each of the key works is introduced in a short essay written in a lively and engaging style which provides the ideal preparation for reading the text itself Complete with a substantial introduction to the field this book is the perfect starting point for anyone new to the study of history or historiography

The Mass Psychology of Ethnonationalism Dusan Kecmanovic, 2013-11-11 Throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries ethnonationalism has left its indelible mark on Europe and every other continent The latest events in the Balkans in central and eastern Europe and in the former Soviet Union unequivocally testify to the power and influence of ethnonationalism at the end of the second millennium What forces make people so committed to their ethnonational groups that they are ready to ignore all other concerns first and foremost the rights and interests of people of other ethnicities What is the social psychological and anthropological underpinning of ethnonationalism And finally why and how do people adhere to nationalist attitudes and beliefs These questions are virtually impossible to avoid for anyone who has directly felt the impact of ethnonationalism but they also present themselves to anyone who has indirectly experienced the prejudices unleashed by ethnonationalist forces This book attempts to answer all these questions by focusing on national feeling and the social psychological and anthropological foundations that underlie the sense of belonging that is essential to nationalism No matter how qualitatively different nationalist attitudes and beliefs are from national sentiment the latter has to be considered in any study of nationalism
