Dialogue with Europe, Dialogue with the Past Justyna Olko, John Sullivan, Jan Szeminski, 2018-11-30
 Dialogue with Europe Dialogue with the Past is a critical annotated anthology of indigenous authored texts including the Nahuatl, Quechua, and Spanish originals through which native peoples and Spaniards were able to convey their own perspectives on Spanish colonial order. It is the first volume to bring together native testimonies from two different areas of Spanish expansion in the Americas to examine comparatively these geographically and culturally distant realities of indigenous elites in the colonial period. In each chapter, a particular document is transcribed exactly as it appears in the original manuscript or colonial printed document, with the editor placing it in historical context and considering the degree of European influence. These texts show the nobility through documents they themselves produced or caused to be produced, such as wills, land deeds, and petitions, and prioritize indigenous ways of expression, perspectives, and concepts. Together, the chapters demonstrate that native elites were independent actors as well as agents of social change and indigenous sustainability in colonial society. Additionally, the volume diversifies the commonly homogenous term cacique and recognizes the differences in elites throughout Mesoamerica and the Andes. Showcasing important and varied colonial genres of indigenous writing, Dialogue with Europe Dialogue with the Past reveals some of the realities, needs, strategies, behaviors, and attitudes associated with the lives of the elites. Each document and its accompanying commentary provide additional insight into how the nobility negotiated everyday life. The book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Mesoamerican and Andean history as well as those interested in indigenous colonial societies in the Spanish Empire. The Encomienda in New Spain Lesley Byrd Simpson, History and General Description of New France Pierre-François-Xavier de Charlevoix, 1866 Capturing the Landscape of New Spain Rebecca A. Carte, 2015-10-22 The son of an encomendero, Baltasar Obregón was twenty years old when he joined the 1564 expedition led by the first governor of Nueva Vizcaya Francisco de Ibarra The purpose of the expedition was to establish mining settlements in the borderlands of New Spain and to suppress indigenous rebellions in the region Although Obregón's role in the Ibarra expedition was that of soldier explorer and despite his lacking an advanced education he would go on to compose Historia de los descubrimientos de Nueva España a twenty years later expanding his narrative to include the years before and after his own firsthand experiences with Ibarra Obregón depicts the storied landscape of the northern borderlands with vivid imagery fusing setting and situation constructing a new reality of what was is and should be and presenting it as truth In Capturing the Landscape of New Spain Rebecca A Carte explains how landscape performs a primary role in Obregón's retelling emerging at times as protagonist and others as antagonist Carte argues that Obregón's textualization offers one of the first renderings of the region through the Occidental cultural lens offering insight into Spanish cultural perceptions of landscape during a period of important social and political shifts By examining mapping and landscape discourse Carte shows how history and geography past and present people and land come together to fashion the landscape of northern New Spain
