Raw Materials And Pacific Economic Integration:

Raw Materials and Pacific Economic Integration Sir John Grenfell Crawford, Saburō Ōkita, 1978 APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service, 1979 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list The Pacific Rim, Second Revised Edition Peter N. Nemetz, 1990-01-01 As the importance of the Pacific Rim as a global centre of large scale investment development and trade continues to increase so do the potential benefits that Canada and other countries could reap as a result of an increased presence in this diverse region This book a revised and to a large extent new version of The Pacific Rim Investment Development and Trade 1987 integrates a broad range of current economic data concerning the Pacific Rim with some of the more important theoretical issues in the area of economic development and trade It demonstrates the paradoxical combination of strength and fragility that characterizes the emerging integrated Pacific Rim economy and attempts to clarify the nature of the framework and constraints that face foreign investors and trading partners The historical background of Japan's trade with other Pacific nations is examined in the opening chapter which is complemented by a new article outlining in detail the nature of and rationale for the profound change in Japan's foreign direct investment in the 1980s Other articles analyze trade in the ASEAN countries Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand and discuss the emerging financial centres in the Pacific Rim New contributions deal with the policy environment for Pacific strategic management compare the financial centres of Hong Kong and Singapore as these face the challenge of strategic adjustment and repositioning in international financial markets during the 1990s and present a theoretical framework for comparing US and Japanese trade policies The second part of the book examines the critical role of energy in the future development of the Pacific Rim and its interdependence with other global regions New articles discuss the progress and prospects for energy cooperation in the Pacific Basin and the potential for further development of nuclear power while those dealing with the British Columbia coal industry and the changes in the energy systems of Japan and China have been updated to reflect current data Another new contribution seeks to explain the excess capacity in the coal industry coming to the conclusion that the experience of the past twenty years is unlikely to be repeated thanks to new technologies in steel production and the increased steel capacity of such Pacific Rim countries as Korea Taiwan and China Looking beyond its traditional ties with Europe and the United States Canada is in a particularly advantageous position to participate in the development and integration of the Pacific Basin Canada's geographic location coupled with its increasing economic and cultural ties to East Asia suggest that this country can have a profound effect upon and will be profoundly affected by Pacific Rim development in the coming decade While the risks may be high and the payback period long the potential return on investment is significant China's New Place in a World in Crisis Ross Garnaut, Ligang Song, Wing Thyee Woo, 2009-07-01 The world and China's place in it have been transformed over the past year The pressures for change have come from the most severe global financial crisis ever The crisis has accelerated China's emergence as a great power But

China and its global partners have yet to think or work through the consequences of its new position for the governance of world affairs China's New Place in a World in Crisis discusses and provides in depth analysis of the following questions How have China's growth prospects been affected by the global crisis How will the crisis and China's response to it impact China's major domestic issues such as industrialisation urbanisation and the reform of the state owned sector of the economy How will the crisis and the international community's response to it affect the rapidly emerging new international order What will be China's and other major developing countries new role Can China and the world find a way of breaking the nexus between economic growth and environmental sustainability especially on the issue of climate change The Australian Embassy in Tokyo and Australia-Japan Relations Kate Darian-Smith, David Lowe, 2023-03-02

Relations between Australia and Japan have undergone both testing and celebrated times since 1952 when Australia's ambassadorial representation in Tokyo commenced Over the years interactions have deepened beyond mutual trade objectives to encompass economic defence and strategic interests within the Indo Pacific region and beyond This special relationship has been characterised by the high volume of people moving between Australia and Japan for education tourism business science and research Cultural ties from artists in residence to sister city agreements have flourished Australia has supported Japan in times of need including the aftermath of the 2011 Tohoku earthquake This book shows how the Australian embassy in Tokyo through its programs and people has been central to these developments The embassy's buildings its gardens and grounds and above all its occupants from senior Australian diplomats to locally engaged staff are the focus of this multidimensional study by former diplomats and expert observers of Australia's engagement with Japan Drawing on oral histories memoirs and archives this volume sheds new light on the complexity of Australia's diplomatic work in Japan and the role of the embassy in driving high level negotiations as well as fostering soft power influences With a similar vision for the Indo Pacific region and a like minded approach to the challenges facing us Australia and Japan have become more intimate and more strategic as partners I am very pleased to see this slice of Australian diplomatic history so well accounted for in this book Jan Adams AO PSM Secretary Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade Australia's Ambassador to Japan November 2020 June 2022 Nationalism and International Society James Mayall, 1990-02-23

Geared to the interests of modern historians of world decolonization and economic nationalism this study of international relations will provide insight into issues relevant to nationalism and international society How Asia Got Rich Edith Terry, 2015-05-20 Within a few short months in 1997 Asian economies that had been considered not only healthy but miraculous suddenly fell off a precipice as investors withdrew massively first from Asian currencies and in rapid order from equity markets across the region On October 27 1997 the turmoil in Asian markets spooked Wall Street in the largest single day decline in history a drop of 550 points It was predicted that the Asian crash could drive the US trade deficit from 191 billion to 300 billion by 1998 creating huge new tensions in relations with some of the largest US trading partners These wrenching changes following a generation of success raise numerous questions about the steps that led to the crisis its likely outcome and the limits and constraints of Asian capitalism Edith Terry presents a blow by blow account of the crisis beginning with the 1996 collapse of the Bangkok Bank of Commerce In her overview she links the fall of the Asian miracle with the theme of globalization arguing that the crisis demonstrates the urgency of dismantling restraints to trade investment and financial services and that the United States should take leadership in pushing for new and sweeping reform through the World Trade Organization and in bilateral negotiations with its trading partners The final section of the book deals with the rise of the Asian miracle how the myth was created who created it why it succeeded for so long and is informed by analysis of the Japanese prototype

Japanese Studies from Pre-History to 1990 Richard Perren,1992 Australian Foreign Policy F. A. Mediansky,1997 Paperback edition of an introductory survey designed for tertiary students of politics international relations history and economics Addresses domestic interests and processes that shape foreign policy and also global regional and bilateral issues Includes references and index The contributors are academics in fields such as history political science and international studies The editor is an associate professor in the School of Political Science at the University of NSW His other publications include Australia in a Changing World Regionalism in the New Asia-Pacific Order Joseph A. Camilleri,2003-01-01 Regionalism in the Asia Pacific is a complex and rapidly evolving phenomenon This volume explores the relationship between globalization and regionalization between states markets and civil society and between US hegemony and Asian aspirations Trading Nation Mike Adams,Nicolas Brown,Ron Wickes,2013-12-01 From wool and gold to minerals and manufacturing Trading Nation reviews the history of Australia s trade and trade policy since Federation The book tackles a number of key questions which are central to the nation s future What is the future of our trade in minerals agriculture manufacturing and services How can trade policy help address our faltering productivity Is the Doha Round of multilateral trade negotiations dead and if not what can be done to conclude it What can we expect from new free trade agreements Is there more we could be doing in trade policy with Europe India and Latin America This comprehensive book also looks ahead at the options for Australia s future trade and trade policy China's Iron Ore Boom Luke W. L. Hurst,2016-07-01 China s emergence as the world s second largest economy has been driven by more than four decades of explosive growth To support this expansion China has required massive expansion in its steel production capacity which is highly correlated to its demand for iron ore imports The scale and pace of China s iron ore demand shock has pushed the global iron ore market into a historical adjustment Using economic frameworks this book brings to bare new data and field observations throughout Asia and Africa to investigate how the rapid growth in China s iron ore demand has affected the organisation and structure of the global iron ore market The research provides several important contributions to the extant literature including analysis of whether the Big Three Asian market iron ore exporters coordinated to sustain the profits arising from the price boom estimating the financial impact of the Chinese state s intervention in iron price negotiations and addressing the concerns arising from the Chinese state s provision of cheap financial support for its companies iron ore procurement Offering unique insights into China's economic rise and the structure of the iron ore market this book will be relevant to students and scholars of resource economics and the Australian and Chinese economies The North Pacific Triangle Michael G. Fry, John J. Kirton, Mitsuru Kurosawa, 1998-01-01 A collection of essays written by scholars and policymakers from the countries involved explores the evolving alliance among Canada Japan and the United States The book examines the three market oriented democracies in their changing roles toward each other and show how they have moved beyond their separate special bilateral relationships into a dynamic three way engagement Asia-Pacific Diplomacy Lawrence T. Woods, 1993-07-01 The emergence of Asia Pacific regionalism as witnessed by the increasing influence of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum and the annual ASEAN Post Ministerial Conference highlights one of the major trends in late twentieth century geopolitics and international relations Asia Pacific Diplomacy traces the evolution of the Pacific economic cooperation movement by examining the diplomatic contributions of three international nongovernmental organizations INGOs the scholarly Pacific Trade and Development Conference PAFTAD the business oriented Pacific Basin Economic Council PBEC and the multipartite academic business and government Pacific Economic Cooperation Council PECC Lawrence Woods also provides a historical perspective by assessing the work of the Institute of Pacific Relations forerunner of the INGOs This book makes an important contribution to the study of international political and economic institutions It argues that as the regional cooperation movement expands at the governmental level an understanding of the nongovernmental roots of that movement is required if the diplomatic contributions of the INGOs are to be retained Facing North Volume 2 David Goldsworthy, Peter Edwards, 2015-03-02 Facing North is the first substantial history of Australia's relations with Asia since Federation Volume 1 2001 chronicles Australian Asian relations from 1901 to the 1970s Volume 2 now carries the story through the last decades of the century Both make extensive use of official government sources and of the private collections of ministers and public servants This volume discusses the changing relations between Australia and Asia in the period from the 1970s to 2000 Over this time integration became a dominant theme as Australia looked increasingly to its near neighbours to form political social and economic alliances An important driving force behind this direction was the economic opportunities presented by Asia At the same time Australia championed the rights of Asian countries to self determination economic development and an independent role in international affairs The book combines the discussion of broad policy themes with detailed analysis of policy making in relation to particular issues such as human rights and episodes such as the crisis in East Timor At home a key concern was the question of difference between Australian and Asian values As Australia began accepting significant numbers of immigrants from the region the country's national identity and the extent to which it identified with Asia became matters of intense debate Australian society itself has changed as a result Facing North is essential reading for anyone who wants to better understand Australia's present relations with Asian countries and our future choices Exclusive Social,
