Abstract

The journey of teaching and learning is continuous and lifelong. It is not only limited to what we learn in classroom settings but it is beyond that level. In this educational journey, teacher possesses a major role in building student's personality. By knowing that each learner has different strengths with different learning needs, it is the responsibility of a teacher to facilitate student in gaining knowledge, skills, and critical thinking by implementing various innovative strategies. Moreover, the positive and conducive environment along with teachers support creates a good milieu for student's lifelong learning. This paper addresses my teaching and learning philosophy under the perspective of student, teacher, learning environment, and teaching learning process.

1. Introduction

Philosophy is a determinant of what one thinks, values or believes. Every individual has its own distinct learning philosophy, but to learn one's philosophy is not easy. It requires a persistent reflection and a lot of work to reach and dig out the inner thoughts. My teaching and learning philosophy has emerged from values that are learnt from several exposures and life experiences i.e., from my parents, my teachers, and from my own experience of working as an instructor. In this paper, I am presenting my educational philosophy with the context of teachers, learners, teaching learning process and the learning environment.

As per my educational philosophy, learning is a life long journey that can never be separated from an individual's life. The role of teacher in learner's life is to foster motivation and build insight among students by becoming a role model for them. Their role is to assist and facilitate students in acquiring knowledge and skills. Along with this, a positive and secured academic learning environment is very essential so that students feel

Schulz,2014-08-01 This book presents a philosophy of science education as a research field as well as its value for curriculum instruction and teacher pedagogy It seeks to re think science education as an educational endeavour by examining why past reform efforts have been only partially successful including why the fundamental goal of achieving scientific literacy after several reform waves has proven to be so elusive The identity of such a philosophy is first defined in relation to the fields of philosophy philosophy of science and philosophy of education It argues that educational theory can support teacher s pedagogical content knowledge and that history philosophy and sociology of science should inform and influence pedagogy Some case studies are provided which examine the nature of science and the nature of language to illustrate why and how a philosophy of science education contributes to science education reform It seeks to contribute in general to the improvement of curriculum design and science teacher education The perspective to be taken on board is that to teach science is to have a philosophical frame of mind about the subject about education about one s personal teacher identity      Rethinking the

Rethinking Liberal Education Nicholas H. Farnham,Adam Yarmolinsky,1996-01-11 Liberal education has always had its share of theorists believers and detractors both inside and outside the academy The best of these have been responsible for the development of the concept and of its changing tradition Drawn from a symposium jointly sponsored by the Educational Leadership program and the American Council of Learned Societies this work looks at the requirements of liberal education for the next century and the strategies for getting there With contributions from Leon Botstein Ernest Boyer Howard Gardner Stanley Katz Bruce Kimball Peter Lyman Susan Resneck Pierce Adam Yarmolinsky and Frank Wong Rethinking Liberal Education proposes better ways of connecting the curriculum and organization of liberal arts colleges with today s challenging economic and social realities The authors push for greater flexibility in the organizational structure of academic departments and argue that faculty should play a greater role in the hard discussions that shape their institutions Through the implementation of interdisciplinary and collaborative approaches to learning along with better integration of the curriculum with the professional and vocational aspects of the institution this work proposes to restore vitality to the curriculum The concept of rethinking liberal education does not mean the same thing to every educator To one Rethinking School-University Partnerships Prentice T. Chandler,Lisa Barron,2021-05-01 Rethinking School University Partnerships A New Way Forward provides educational leaders in K 12 schools and colleges of education with insight advice and direction into the task of creating partnerships In current times colleges of education and local school districts need each other like never before School districts struggle with pipeline recruitment and retention issues Colleges of education face declining enrollment and a shifting educational landscape that fundamentally changes the way that teachers are trained and what local school districts expect their teachers to be able to do It is with these overlapping constraints and converging interests that partnerships emerge as a foundational strategy for strengthening the education of our teachers With nearly 80 contributors from 16 states and Jamaica representing 39 educational institutions the partnerships described in this book are different from the ways in which colleges of education and school districts have traditionally worked with one another In the past these loose relationships centered primarily on student teaching and or field experience placements In this arrangement

the relationship was directed towards ensuring that the local schools were amenable to hosting students from the college of education so that the student candidate could complete the requirements to earn a teaching license In our view this paradigm needs to be enlarged and shifted
