Reaching Children In War Sudan Uganda And Mozambique:

Reaching Children in War Cole P. Dodge, Magne Raundalen, 1991 Psychiatry and Decolonisation in Uganda Yolana Pringle, 2018-12-06 This open access book investigates psychiatry in Uganda during the years of decolonisation. It examines the challenges facing a new generation of psychiatrists as they took over responsibility for psychiatry at the end of empire and explores the ways psychiatric practices were tied to shifting political and development priorities, periods of instability and a broader context of transnational and international exchange. At its heart is a question that has concerned psychiatrists globally since the mid twentieth century: how to bridge the social and cultural gap between psychiatry and its patients. Bringing together archival research with oral histories, Yolana Pringle traces how this question came to dominate both national and international discussions on mental health care reform, including at the World Health Organization, and helped spur a culture of experimentation and creativity globally. As Pringle shows, however, the history of psychiatry during the years of decolonisation remained one of marginality, and ultimately in the context of war and violence, the decolonisation of psychiatry was incomplete.

Internally Displaced, Refugees and Returnees from and in the Sudan Desirée Nilsson, 2000 Liguria is another country. They do things differently there, particularly when it comes to food. Lucio Galletto grew up in Liguria at the eastern end of the Riviera di Levante coast, where the rising sun He didn't realize how special his region was until he fell in love with an Australian girl and traveled 12 000 kilometers to be with her. In 2008 Lucio and writer David Dale, along with photographer Paul Green, returned to the birthplace of ravioli and pesto and wild greens pie to investigate how the cooking of Lucio's region had evolved during his 25 year absence. They found a new breed of chefs, farmers and fishermen adapting traditions to the environmental concerns of the 21st century. Still using the wonderful array of local herbs, vegetables and seafood, they apply a lighter touch and a more adventurous spirit. In this stunningly photographed book, Lucio brings us the fruits of his travels: 180 delicious recipes that respect the experience of the past and anticipate the demands of the future: dishes that are fun to cook, beautiful to look at, a pleasure to share and kind to the body. And importantly, that pay homage to the sunny Riviera di Levante from which Lucio's culinary journey began. This book was the winner of the 2008 Gourmand Award for Best Italian Cuisine Book, Australian Category, and the 2009 Cordon d'Or Cuisine Award for Best Illustrated Culinary Book.

Children and War James Marten, 2002-08-24 Children have always been involved in warfare. This text shows that they have contributed to home front war efforts and that war time experiences have always affected the ways children of war perceive themselves and their societies.

Encyclopedia of Human Rights Edward H. Lawson, 1996 Preface to the first edition

Africa Jeremy I Levitt, 2008-03-31 The principal aim of this work is to provide a forum for leading international lawyers with experience and interest in Africa to address a broad range of intellectual challenges concerning the contribution of African states and peoples to international law As such the volume addresses orthodox topics of international law such as jurisdiction and intervention but tackles them from an African perspective and seeks to ask whether in each case the African perspective is unique or affirms existing arrangements of international law The book cannot come at a more important time While international legal discourse has been captured by the challenge of terrorism since September 11 2001 there are clear signs that other issues are returning to the fore Political interest in Africa has undergone a global revival and the OAU has been transformed into the African Union Infrastructural challenges along with those taking place in regional contexts have effectively mapped a new politico legal landscape for Africa This and more is explored and the key normative questions are addressed in a series of essays by leading Africanist scholars This is a remarkable collection of essays that clearly and concisely demonstrates that Africa has and will continue to play a major role in fashioning new norms of international law and policy and contribute to its progressive development by affirming existing norms Professor Levitt is to be commended for having the vision leadership and intellectual prowess to produce this excellent text The book signals a major shift from the study of Africa as a basket case to a normative market place Akua Kuenyehia Vice President International Criminal Court Professor Levitt s work Africa Mapping New Boundaries in International Law is pathbreaking in the true sense of that word Through old and new voices it excavates the singular contributions of Africa to a discipline that is marked by Eurocentrism and imperial aspirations The authors taking their cue from the indefatigable and insightful Professor Levitt establish beyond a shadow of a doubt the enormity of the normative contributions that Africa has made to international law The book must therefore be seen as a defining contribution to the multiculturalization of international law It is for this reason that Professor Levitt is among the most important American academics working and thinking in international law today Makau Mutua Interim Dean SUNY Distinguished Professor State University of New York Buffalo Law School

The A to Z of Human Rights and Humanitarian Organizations Robert F. Gorman, Edward S. Mihalkanin, 2009-09-02 While the idea of human rights and humanitarian assistance has ancient roots evidence can be seen in such examples as the Ten Commandments the Bhagavad Gita and the teachings of Confucius and Socrates it wasn t until the 1800s that the first modern humanitarian and human rights organizations came to be The 19th century saw the beginning of the abolitionist movement the forming of a variety of women s suffrage organizations the formation and consolidation of national labor unions and the founding of the Red Cross This was followed by the inextricably intertwined story of war persecution violence and the growth of human rights and humanitarian organizations in the 20th century Bearing witness to some of the most horrific and blatant violations of human dignity the 20th century also beheld the first sustained global efforts to promote human rights at the international level The A to Z of Human Rights and Humanitarian Organizations follows major developments in the arena of human rights including the emergence of terrorism and international responses to it the establishment of an international criminal court the evolution of regional human rights bodies in Africa Europe and Latin America and the proliferation of new non governmental organizations and foundations dedicated to the promotion of human rights This is accomplished through a chronology an introduction appendixes photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries covering many of the key treaties agreements and definitions of human rights concepts important humanitarian organizations whether private governmental national or international and significant persons and events This realistic assessment of the advances in protection of human rights and the major difficulties still facing them is an excellent tool for students practitioners and libraries

Contested Terrains And Constructed Categories George Clement Bond, 2018-02-19 Contested Terrains and Constructed Categories brings together intellectuals from a variety of fields backgrounds generations and continents to deepen and reinvigorate the theoretical and intellectual integrity of African studies Building on recent debate within African studies that has revolved around the role of Africanists in the United States as gatekeepers of knowledge about Africa and Africans this volume of interdisciplinary essays focuses on the contested character of the production of knowledge itself In every chapter case studies and ethnographic materials drawn from such regions as South Africa Mozambique Zimbabwe the Malagasy Republic Angola Ghana and Senegal demonstrate the application of theory to concrete situations

Children and Youth on the Front Line Jo Boyden, Joanna de Berry, 2005-03-01 War leads not just to widespread death but also to extensive displacement overwhelming fear and economic devastation It weakens social ties threatens household survival and undermines the family's capacity to care for its most vulnerable members Every year it kills and maims countless numbers of young people undermines thousands of others psychologically and deprives many of the economic educational health and social opportunities which most of us consider essential for children's effective growth and well-being. Based on detailed ethnographic description and on young people's own accounts, this volume provides insights into children's experiences as both survivors and perpetrators of violence. It focuses on girls who have been exposed to sexual exploitation and abuse, children who head households or are separated from their families, displaced children and young former combatants who are attempting to adjust to their changed circumstances following the cessation of conflict. In this sense, the volume bears witness to the grim effects of warfare and displacement on the young. Nevertheless, despite the abundant evidence of suffering, it maintains that children are not the passive victims of conflict but engage actively with the conditions of war, an outlook that challenges orthodox research perspectives that rely heavily on medicalized notions of victim and trauma.

Prisoners of the Nuclear Dream M. V. Ramana, C. Rammanohar Reddy, 2003. In this book, some of South Asia's best minds address questions on the political, scientific, strategic, economic, and environmental aspects of India's decision to proceed with the nuclear weapons programme. The contributors include Kanti Bajpai, Admiral L. Ramdas, Amartya Sen, Amulya Reddy, and Jean Dreze. While much has been said in India in defense of the nuclear tests of 1998, there is also a strong body of opinion which questions India's decision to become a nuclear weapon state. The essays in this book are representative of this critique. They have been written for the general reader concerned about the important issue of the production of weapons of mass destruction in South Asia.

Encyclopedia of War Crimes and Genocide Leslie Alan Horvitz, Christopher Catherwood, 2014-05-14. Entries address topics related to genocide, crimes against humanity, and peace and human rights violations, profile perpetrators including Joseph Stalin, Pol Pot, and Idi Amin, and discuss institutions set up to prosecute these crimes in countries around the world.

The Legal Regime of the International Criminal Court José Doria, Hans-Peter Gasser, M. Cherif Bassiouni, 2009. This impressive and unique collection of essays covers important aspects of the legal regime of the International Criminal Court (ICC). The volume begins with an analysis of the historical development of the ICC, the progressive development of international humanitarian and international criminal law by the ad hoc Tribunals, and the work of mixed national/international jurisdictions. The legal and institutional basis of the ICC is then dealt with in detail, including the organs of the ICC, war crimes, crimes against humanity, and crimes of aggression, modes of liability before the ICC, and defences before the ICC. Part III focuses on the court at work, including its procedural rules, criminal proceedings at the ICC, penalties, and appeal and revision procedures. Part IV deals with the relationship of the ICC with states and international organizations. The contributors are established scholars in the field of international criminal and humanitarian law, many of whom are practitioners in the various tribunals.

Sleep Monsters and Superheroes Clare R. Johnson, Jean M. Campbell, 2016-09-26. World-renowned contributors across several disciplines reveal how dreams can aid and empower children in daily life. Children can feel powerless in waking life, a fact that is often reflected in their dreams. This book shows how to take an active role in guiding children's dreams to help grow their confidence and improve their coping skills for real.

life difficulties Contributors from across various fields provide simple techniques to help children utilize dreamwork as a conduit for creative discovery and empowerment Each chapter includes case studies and methods for working in practical ways with children explaining what may trigger nightmares for children and how monster dreams can be guided to become superhero dreams Essays encompass a spectrum of children s dreams with experts discussing dreams of trauma dreams as a reflection of emotional and physical development dreaming in the community spiritual or religious dreams lucid dreams dreams during wartime and dreams of death among others Throughout the work the narrative discusses the use of dreams as teaching aids for use in art therapy storytelling and self empowerment Growing Up in a Divided Society Sean Byrne,1997-03 One of the key unanswered questions related to youth violence and tolerance is the effect of social diversity on daily experience By examining children s political imagery this project significantly expands existing work on troubled and neglected youth in Northern Ireland South Africa and the Middle East The current changing political context within Northern Ireland reflects that a process of peace building has begun and that integrated schooling is an important cornerstone of that process Political Learning and Citizenship Education Under Conflict Orit Ichilov,2004-09-30 This book analyses social environments in conflict situations with a focus on Israel and Palestine and looks at the impact these environments have on the political learning and citizenship orientations of youngsters
