Reden Im Herbst:

, What Remains Gerald Fetz, Patricia Herminghouse, 2022-06-10 Arguably the most important and influential German woman writer of the last century Christa Wolf was long heralded as die gesamtdeutsche Autorin an author for all of Germany but after 1989 in unified Germany Wolf found herself suddenly embroiled in controversies that challenged her integrity and consigned her to an ideologically suspect identity as DDR Schriftstellerin GDR writer or Staatsdichterin state poet What Remains Responses to the Legacy of Christa Wolf asks the question of what truly remains of her legacy in the annals of contemporary German culture and history Unlike most of what appeared in the wake of Wolf's death however the contributions to this international volume seek neither to monumentalize her nor to dismantle her stature but to employ a range of methodologies comparative intertextual psychoanalytic historical transcultural to offer sensitive assessments of Wolf's major literary texts as well as of her lesser known work in genres such as film and essay When the Wall Came Down Harold James, Marla Stone, 2014-02-04 When the Wall Came Down provides a wide ranging compendium of responses in Germany and other countries to the events of 1989/90 and includes essays by Henry Kissinger Vaclav Havel Ralf Dahrendorf and Timothy Garton Ash Triumph of the Fatherland Brigitte F. Young, 2010-05-06 The East German uprising of 1989 was not a male revolution Indeed one of the most significant aspects of the fall of East Germany compared to that of other East European nations was the presence of women demanding a political role in the newly emerging social order As one slogan proclaimed Without Women There Is No State Yet despite the determination of these women and of West German feminist groups to help shape the future of the German state their influence remained in the end very limited In Triumph of the Fatherland political scientist Brigitte Young draws on in depth interviews archival sources newspapers and her own observations from 1989 to 1991 to study the goals strategies and eventual fate of the German women's movements during this tumultuous period Young focuses on the relationship between the state and its citizenry outlining the mobilization of women in four states the East German and West German states before unification the stateless state in East Germany after the collapse of the Wall and the West German state during unification Ultimately she finds that the political opportunity structures opened during the stateless state closed again with unification resulting in what Young calls double gender marginalization Brigitte Young is Associate Professor Department of Political Science Otto Suhr Institute Free University Berlin Germany Between Sarmatia and Socialism John P. Wiczorek, 2021-11-08 Interest in Johannes Bobrowski 1917-1965 has suffered from an impression of the complexity of his works and of the narrowness of his focus on The Germans and their Eastern European neighbours The current study re-examines aspects of Bobrowski's Sarmatian works especially their chronological development but places them within the wider context of the whole of his oeuvre It looks at the long period of development before he discovered his theme in the early 1950s and examines his development after Sarmatische Zeit and Schattenland Str me seeing the volume Wetterzeichen as moving increasingly away from the past and towards more contemporary issues His short stories and novels are related to the issues confronting him in East Germany and develop increasingly into responses to immediate poetic and social problems Far from being a remote and backward orientated Sarmatian Bobrowski emerges as a writer attempting to communicate with a society which he felt threatened to ignore basic human needs and aspirations The study makes use of material from Bobrowski's Nachlaß to present a figure looking for and offering patterns for orientation in his East German society but with renewed relevance for post unification Germany

Rifts in Time and in the Self Cheryl Dueck, 2021-11-01 The fall of the Berlin Wall in November 1989 marked the end of East Germany's socialist regime and a new beginning for a unified German Federal Republic Cultural historians agree that the event caused one of the deepest rifts in time and thinking seen by an entire generation of Germans a rift that left its mark on the psyche of every citizen challenging notions of the personal and the political and crashing traditional understandings of the individual and the collective self In this bold rethinking of the question Cheryl Dueck goes beyond the social political and psychological discourses that Marx and Freud Foucault and Lacan viewed as the initiators of modern socialist identities to explore the literature and discourse of the quest for unity of the female subject Reading such authors as Christa Wolf Brigitte Reimann Helga K nigsdorf and Helga Schubert Dueck traces the striking fissures which run through time and through the female self haunting women within the socialist project The book shows how two generations of women writers have struggled consciously and systematically in their letters aesthetic writings and literary production to create a new language to express their own sense of self within a restrictive socialist and patriarchal system Rifts in Time and in the Self offers an unprecedented look at the reconceptualizations of the female subject during several phases of GDR history and women writers persistent attempt to carve out spaces of identity and community

Christa Wolf Sonja E. Klocke, Jennifer R. Hosek, 2018-03-19 Interest in Christa Wolf continues to grow Her classics are being reprinted and new titles are appearing posthumously becoming bestsellers and being translated Energetic scholarly debates engage well known aesthetic and political issues that the public intellectual herself fore fronted This broad ranging introduction to the author her work and times builds upon and moves beyond such foundational interpretative frameworks by articulating the global relevance of Wolf's oeuvre today also for non German readers Thus it brings East German culture alive to students teachers scholars and the general public by connecting the socialist German Democratic Republic GDR and the lived experiences of its citizens to nations and cultures around the world The collection focuses on topical matters including the search for authenticity agency race cosmopolitanism gender environmentalism geopolitics war and memory debates as well as movie adaptations and Wolf's film work with DEFA marketing and international reception Our contributions by senior and emerging scholars from across the globe emphasize Wolf's position as an author of world literature and an important critical voice in the 21st century
