Role in forming balanced assessments High-Risk Sexual Behavior Evvie Becker, Elizabeth Rankin, Annette U. Rickel, 2013-06-29 High risk sexual behavior has been linked to social problems such as substance abuse domestic violence homelessness and deprivation This volume s unique multidisciplinary biopsychosocial approach combines relevant medical information regarding disease states with the cultural social and psychological facets of successful prevention programs Becker and Rankin outline specific interventions that address the needs of particularly vulnerable populations women ethnic minorities and the gay community Useful chapter summaries which review the pros and cons of different approaches will aid both the student and the practitioner Stopping Domestic Violence Pamela J. Jenkins, Barbara Parmer Davidson, 2012-12-06 In the field of domestic violence community collaboration has been an essential part of both prevention and intervention However there have been vast differences in perspective methodology understanding interpretations and concerns among the various partners This volume examines models of collaboration between personnel in social service agencies women s centers domestic violence programs medical and mental health settings and law enforcement Techniques are detailed that allow knowledge about domestic violence and primary prevention to be integrated into a community response by all those involved Further the authors describe in detail how the possibilities for communities to respond to domestic violence victims is based on how these various groups perceive the victim how an individual agency personally responds and how it is possible to provide safety for women in their own homes and communities Stopping Domestic Violence How a Community Can Prevent Spousal Abuse is an excellent resource for educators social workers public health professionals clinicians medical and mental health professionals and law enforcement personnel Promoting Nonviolence in Early Adolescence Aleta L. Meyer, Albert Farrell, Wendy Northup, Eva Kung, Laura Plybon, 2012-12-06 In preparation for role play during a RIPP class 6th grade students consider the following conflict situation Sharon and Josie who are good friends tryout for the basketball team Josie makes the team but Sharon does not The week after tryouts Sharon tries to pick a fight with Josie calling her a cheater and some one the coach felt sorry for Josie is in a bind she wants to remain friends with Sharon but she is really angry with Sharon for treating her so badly What can Josie do in this situation What type of self talk will help her work out this problem with Sharon and keep the friendship During the role play Sharon calls Josie a cheater Then before Josie responds two students representing her positive and negative sides take turns whispering into her ear Negative self talk Boy is she a loser What if everyone believes her and thinks that I cheated to get on the team Positive self talk I know I worked hard to get on the team Sharon must really be hurt that she didn't make it I can talk to her later when she's cooled down and maybe we can do something together after practice Josie listens to the two voices and decides that the best approach is to ignore Sharon's comments for now and to call her later that day to see if they can do something together This description of students dealing with everyday conflicts is quite real Encyclopedia of Primary
