Reform Of Housing In Eastern Europe And The Soviet Union:

The Reform of Housing in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union Jozsef Hegedus, Ivan Tosics, Bengt Turner, 2005-11-04
First published in 1992 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Reform of Housing in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union Jozsef Hegedus, Ivan Tosics, Bengt Turner, 2005-11-04 The rapid political changes in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union have had repercussions for many elements of the socialist system Housing provision always an important part of the socialist agenda has undergone extensive changes These have solved some problems but given rise to others The studies in The Reform of Housing in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union highlight the various aspects of housing reform including such issues as rehabilitation private initiatives housing quality welfare requirements and home ownership While in some countries policy makers have adhered to the older methods of housing provision in others the number of massive state run projects has declined in favour of smaller privately funded enterprises The latest changes reflect the socio economic restructuring of the countries in general and thus housing can be seen as a spearhead for reforms throughout the system The contributors are active researchers in the former Eastern Bloc who analyse the latest reforms and academics from Western Europe who supply a context of broader housing issues They analyse the external factors that have influenced the reforms and assess the outlook for the future Housing Policy Reforms in Post-Socialist Europe Sasha Tsenkova, 2008-12-29 The book explores both theoretically and empirically the impacts of housing reforms on housing provision in the context of the transition from a centrally planned to a market based economy Fifteen years after the overthrow of state socialism housing policy has lost its privileged status of a political priority as most politically embedded systems had favoured market based solutions to housing problems This departure from state controlled housing policies with the aim of providing a dwelling for every family is significant particularly in some post socialist countries where no new housing policy has emerged The transition process embedded in the paradigm shift from central planning to markets has triggered off turbulence and adjustments with tangible outcomes in post socialist housing systems What has changed and what new housing systems have emerged during this dramatic transition to markets and democracy Are these systems more efficient and equitable These questions are the main focus of the book with an emphasis on diversity and change in housing reforms The book supports the hypothesis that notions of convergence are not really appropriate to the conceptualisation of post socialist housing systems It argues that different housing policy choices are going to map out increasingly divergent scenarios for future development Housing Policies in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union J. A. A. Sillince, 2014-04-08 Housing has enjoyed a high place on the agendas of most socialist countries However this place has not been undisputed and this book examines the internal and external forces which have influenced housing under central planning The East European Economy in Context David Turnock, 2003-09-02 Since 1989 the former communist countries of Eastern Europe have witnessed a profound and dramatic upheaval The economic coherence of this region formerly maintained through the

Wang,A. Murie,1998-12-16 An authoritative addition to comparative housing research adding to knowledge of housing policy in practice in China It demonstrates how Chinese housing provision and policy differs in important ways from that of the former state socialist regimes in Eastern Europe and from other developing countries with which China is often grouped The relationships to the Chinese political and social frameworks and the influences of Asian neighbours are outlined and assessed Private Rental Housing in Transition Countries József Hegedüs,Martin Lux,Vera Horváth,2017-09-12 This book presents an overview of private rented housing in selected new EU member states and other transition countries a topic scarcely researched to date as it is largely part of the informal economy and consequently often invisible to official statistics Part I presents the private rented sector in Western and Northern European countries the history of private renting under socialism in Central and Eastern Europe and thematic issues such as restitution and marginalized groups depending on privately rented housing Part II provides a series of country case studies from the Central and East European region Part III concludes with chapters on the possibility of utilizing the private rental sector in affordable housing provision through good practices in both old and new EU member states and sets out to further the housing policy debate on European housing regimes This
