SIGNS OF SHARING Sue F. V. Rakow, Carol B. Carpenter, 1993-01-01 SIGNS OF SHARING is a unique set of materials that provides educators whose responsibilities include the integration of hearing impaired children with a multifaceted tool to teach sign language and deaf awareness Included is an initial section on mainstreaming deaf children in regular classrooms which is followed by a section on deaf awareness that provides complete information goals necessary materials and step by step activities for a class to learn by the hands on approach The main section of the book is a complete teacher s guide to teach sign language to preschool through third grade students in classrooms and organizations There are 28 lessons designed to provide creative exciting and fun ways to learn and use sign language Each lesson includes a list of signs to be introduced materials needed and numerous activities to present and practice the signs Each lesson contains sign cards sign sheets and activity or song sheets Suggestions for the use of these materials are given in each lesson The lessons are arranged to follow the natural progression of a school year The drawings used to teach the signs are appealing clear easy to understand depictions of multicultural children thus creating a child oriented curriculum for learning about the world of deafness

Signs of Sharing Sue F. V. Rakow, Carol B. Carpenter, 1993-01-01 The Complete Directory for Pediatric Disorders Laura Mars, 2002

The Complete Directory for Pediatric Disorders Grey House Publishing, 2007 Ending Discrimination in Special Education Herbert Grossman, 1998 The assessment instruction classroom management and counseling approaches currently in practice are for the most part inappropriate for the numerous poor non European American immigrant refugee migrant rural and limited English proficient students in special education programs because they have been designed for European American middle and upper class English proficient students Prejudice toward these children although often unconscious is yet another form of discrimination When teachers refer students for evaluation for possible placement in special education programs they are more likely to refer poor and non European American students for placement in programs for students with disabilities and less likely to refer them to programs for the gifted and talented Doctor Grossman discusses the forces that create and perpetuate these and other discriminatory assessment instructional classroom management and counseling approaches and provides readers with workable solutions for eliminating them though the ideas suggestions and conclusions described are controversial

Sign Languages and Linguistic Citizenship Ellen Foote, 2020-12-30 This critical ethnographic account of the Yangon deaf community in Myanmar offers unique insights into the dynamics of a vibrant linguistic and cultural minority community in the region and also sheds further light on broader questions around language policy The book examines language policies on different scales demonstrating how unofficial policies in the local deaf school and wider Yangon deaf community impact responses to higher level interventions namely the 2007 government policy aimed at unifying the country s two sign languages Foote highlights the need for a critical and interdisciplinary approach to the study of language policy unpacking the interplay between language ideologies power relations political and moral interests and community conceptualisations of citizenship The study's findings are situated within wider theoretical debates within linguistic anthropology questioning existing paradigms on the notion of linguistic authenticity and contributing to ongoing debates on the relationship between language policy and social justice Offering an important new contribution to critical work on language policy the book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in sociolinguistics linguistic anthropology and language education
