

Sound Of Silence

Mute to words of reason,
Lost intention gropes
Dim in the memory
Of a past forbidden love and hope
That seem forever lost...

Echoes still persist,
Repeating the message
Delivered by suggestion
In the deafness of language...

Empty, empty canyons
Make louder wanting sounds
And their silent ways
Become vivid footprints
Of mindful grounds...

Tunes ardently played once,
Impressing within her ears,
The sphere of sound
That now she cannot longer hear...

Silence Spoken Here Poems:

Silence Spoken Here Samuel John Hazo, 1988 Silence Spoken Here Samuel Hazo, 1988 If architecture exists to create space the author reminds us poetry exists to create silence Not mere quietude Not solitude Rather it is a silence within and by the experience of the poem itself It inevitably exceeds the poem since though the poem can create it it cannot contain it Within this silence the imagination and the feelings are renewed and because of that renewal they live momentarily with a will and momentum of their own In such a silence we are returned to ourselves and we discover in ourselves the self that is common to us all This silence is in essence our indispensable oxygen the oxygen of our souls If we try to communicate its presence to others we do it best by not speaking at all by letting the eyes convey it in that international language that is understood by all without translation This silence is not the mere absence of words it is rather what the words evoke what their sound and heft and feel make palpable It exists most completely between the lines of a poem or in the pauses between words

The Holy Surprise of Right Now Samuel Hazo, 1996-01-01 For forty years Samuel Hazo has written a poetry of the world exactly as he sees it a place where struggles between family members friends and nations are endured and sometimes settled by calm assurance where art and the pursuit of one's talents require a special kind of bravery where change the birth of a child the passing of friends the death of heroes is a constant to be solemnly honored and often celebrated From his first book through the National Book Award finalist Once for the Last Bandit to his newest poems Hazo's themes have remained consistent With each collection he wonders anew at the persistence of mortality in the midst of vibrant living and of love in all our relations In this lithe metrical lines he writes with equal ease of Geneva Switzerland or Johnstown Pennsylvania of the matador Manolete in his dying moments or the innocent eyes of an eleven year old son of the rewards of creating great art or the frustrations and joys of driving a Roosevelt Coupe With The Holy Surprise of Right Now Hazo gives his readers a powerful summation of his work to date BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

And the Time Is Samuel Hazo, 2014-07-08 In this work Hazo casts his eye back upon a career devoted to poetry With works that are arranged loosely under the themes of love family and aging this volume affirms Hazo's status as one of the most compelling and enduring poets of his generation Poems appearing in this collection include works which have appeared in the Hudson Review Prairie Schooner the New York Times and the Saturday Review and ignored by the hearing This book is concerned with the process and history of that marginalization the constitution of a center from which the abnormal could be excluded and the vital role of visual culture within this discourse Based on groundbreaking archival and pictorial research Mirzoeff's exciting and intertextual analysis of what he terms the silent screen of deafness produces an alternative history of nineteenth century art that challenges canonical view of the history of art the inheritance of the Enlightenment and the functions status and meanings of visual culture itself Fusing methodologies from cultural studies poststructuralism and art history his study will be important for students and scholars of art history cultural and deaf studies and the history of medicine and will interest a general audience concerned with the relationship of the deaf and the larger society Nicholas Mirzoeff is Assistant Professor of Art History at the University of Wisconsin Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

As They Sail Samuel Hazo, 1999-01-01 With each new collection of poems Samuel Hazo explores themes of mortality and love passion and art courage and grace in a style that is unmistakably his own In As They Sail he writes with equal feeling and clarity about political and artistic figures and the complex synchronicity between life and art He is extremely interested in the wonderment and discovery that emerges in the act of writing in the movement toward wisdom that results from expression of feeling Questioning is always more important in his writing than answering Hazo has the ability to accomplish what he attributes to another poet Charles Causley in When Nothing's Happening Everything's Happening the poems borne of his pen help us to feel what we think He is able to achieve this felt thought without any trace of self absorption or sentimentality Whether Hazo is writing about Nixon Hemingway or Brando or simply about walking in France he finds the essence of language that gives rise to an emotional response In a time when poetry without emotion is praised and language is said to make sense simply because it exists on the page Hazo's clear voice and concern with the nature of love time change and the meaning of the past is uniquely refreshing

Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey, 2014-05-30 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9 11 anti Arab sentiments with poems of both lament and celebration in his sensual new collection Like a Man Gone Mad features much of the spare yet precise imagery of his earlier work Searing portraits a deft use of allegorical language and a wry sense of humor are all signatures of Hazo's unique voice Taking up the theme of time the poems carry the reader back and forth through personal and historical time offering glimpses of a wide range of figures from Pascal and Heraclitus to John F Kennedy and Clark Gable From each vantage point Hazo meditates on themes of vitality and longevity legacy and oblivion and the enduring folly of both the individual and society Accessible and eminently readable the poems in Like a Man Gone Mad embody a rich intellectual and emotional curiosity

Otrarse Juan Gelman, 2024-11-15 One of Latin American's most important poets of the twentieth century Juan Gelman 1930-2014 spent much of his life in exile from his native Argentina during the Dirty War Gelman was a child of Yiddish speaking Ukrainian immigrants and a significant seldom recognized portion of his poetry dealt with Jewish themes He established a dialogue across time with Santa Teresa de vila and San Juan de la Cruz the sixteenth century Spanish mystical poets whose ancestry was also Jewish He rewrote portions of the Bible medieval Hebrew poetry and even taught himself Ladino the language of Sephardic Jews and wrote a book of poems in it In this bilingual volume celebrated scholar Ilan Stavans retraces Gelman's regard for these poetic ancestors translating into English his Jewish oeuvre by carefully preserving the Hebrew Spanish and Ladino echoes of the originals The result is historically accurate and artistically exhilarating repositioning Gelman as a major Jewish writer of the last century

Hans-Georg Gadamer on Education, Poetry, and History Dieter Misgeld, Graeme Nicholson, 2016-02-24 In these essays appearing for the first time in English Gadamer addresses practical questions about recent politics in Europe about education and university reform and about the role of poetry in the modern world This book also includes a series of interviews that the editors conducted in 1986 Gadamer elaborates on his experiences in education and politics touching on the collapse of the Weimar Republic the early Frankfurt School Heidegger and the Nazis university life in East Germany and the prospects for Europe in the coming years Hans Georg Gadamer was probably Heidegger's leading interpreter in Germany and in the 1950s and 1960s he became the world's leading exponent of hermeneutics His hermeneutical theory explains how it is that ancient art and philosophy still speak to us today His influential idea of the fusion of horizons also shows how it is that we understand what is remote from our own culture
