Silk Roads The Asian Adventures Of Andre And Clara Malraux:

Silk Roads Axel Madsen, 2015-03-17 One of the greatest art theft stories of the 20th century Andr Malraux French novelist art theorist and eventually France s Minister of Cultural Affairs and his wife Clara traveled to Cambodia in 1923 planning to steal and smuggle artifacts out of the country and sell them in America The Cambodian treasure hunt promised to be a mix of cultural sleuthing for important antiquities and risk taking on the fuzzy edge of the laws that governed historical sites The jungle expedition ended in arrest and for Andr trial and conviction But it also led to a second Asian venture the launching of a Saigon newspaper L Indochine dedicated to the aspirations of the indigenous population Madsen follows the couple from this fateful adventure that so shaped their future to the end of their marriage and after Asian Heritage Management Kapila D. Silva, Neel Kamal Chapagain, 2013 The prevalent global heritage discourse has been primarily Euro centric in its origin premise and praxis Diverse cultural historical and geographical contexts such as that of Asia call for more context specific approaches to heritage management This book explores this complexity of managing the cultural heritage in Asia Case studies include sites of Angkor Himeji Castle Kathmandu Valley Luang Prabang Lumbini and Malacca and the book uses these to explore the religious worldviews heritage policies intangible heritage dimensions traditional preservation practices cultural tourism and the notion of cultural landscape that are crucial in understanding the cultural heritage in Asia It critiques the contemporary regulatory frameworks in operation and focuses on the issues of global impact on the local cultures in the region The book goes on to emphasize the need for integrated heritage management approaches that encompass the plurality of heritage conservation concerns in Asian countries Themes are discussed from the vantage point of heritage scholars and practitioners in the South Southeast and East Asia This book thus presents a distinctive Asian perspective which is a valuable source for students and practitioners of heritage within and beyond the Asian context Figuring the East Marie-Paule Ha, 2000-01-01 Examines the ambiguous constructions of the Orient in the works of four major twentieth century French writers Multicultural Writers from Antiquity to 1945 Alba Amoia, Bettina L. Knapp, 2001-10-30 The final decades of the 20th century have seen an explosion of interest in multiculturalism But multiculturalism is more than an awareness of the different cultures comprising contemporary societies For centuries people from around the world have come in contact with cultures other than their own and their exposure to multiple cultures has fostered their creativity and ability to make lasting contributions to civilization The effects of multiculturalism are especially apparent in literature since writers tend to be particularly aware of their environments and record their experiences This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries for more than 100 world writers from antiquity to 1945 who were significantly influenced by cultures other than their own Included are entries for major canonical Ancient and Modern writers of the Western and Eastern worlds Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of multicultural themes and contexts a summary of the writer s critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies By illuminating the shaping influence of multiculturalism on these writers the volume points to the lasting value of multiculturalism in the contemporary world

Architectural Conservation in Asia John H. Stubbs, Robert G. Thomson, 2016-11-10 At a time when organized heritage protection in Asia is developing at a rapid pace Architectural Conservation in Asia provides the first comprehensive overview of architectural conservation practice from Afghanistan to the Philippines The country by country analysis adopted by the book draws out local insights experiences best practice and solutions for effective cultural heritage management that will inform study and practice both in Asia and beyond Whereas architectural conservation in much of the Western world has been extensively documented this book brings together coverage of many regions where architectural conservation has been understudied Following on from the highly influential companion volumes on global architectural conservation and architectural conservation in Europe and the Americas with this book the authors extend their pioneering global examination to the dynamic and evolving field of architectural conservation in Asia Throughout the book the authors and regional experts provide local case studies and profile topics that bring depth and insight to this ambitious study As architectural conservation becomes increasingly global in practice this book will be of considerable assistance to architectural conservation practitioners site managers and students of architecture planning archaeology and heritage studies worldwide

A Heritage of Ruins William R. Chapman, 2013-07-31 The ancient ruins of Southeast Asia have long sparked curiosity and romance in the world's imagination They appear in accounts of nineteenth century French explorers as props for Indiana Jones adventures and more recently as the scene of Lady Lara Croft's fantastical battle with the forces of evil They have been featured in National Geographic magazine and serve as backdrops for popular television travel and reality shows Now William Chapman's expansive new study explores the varied roles these monumental remains have played in the histories of Southeast Asia's modern nations Based on more than fifteen years of travel research and visits to hundreds of ancient sites A Heritage of Ruins shows the close connection between ruins conservation and both colonialism and nation building It also demonstrates the profound impact of European derived ideas of historic and aesthetic significance on ancient ruins and how these continue to color the management and presentation of sites in Southeast Asia today Angkor Pagan Bagan Borobudur and Ayutthaya lie at the center of this cultural and architectural tour but less visited sites including Laos's stunning Vat Phou the small temple platforms of Malaysia's Lembah Bujang Valley the candi of the Dieng Plateau in Java and the ruins of Mingun in Burma and Wiang Kum Kam near Chiang Mai in northern Thailand are also discussed All share a relative isolation from modern urban centers of population sitting in park like settings serving as objects of tourism and as lynchpins for local and even national economies Chapman argues that these sites also remain important to surrounding residents both as a means of income and as continuing sources of spiritual meaning He examines the complexities of heritage efforts in the context of present day expectations by focusing on the roles of both outside and indigenous experts in conservation and management and on attempts by local populations to reclaim their patrimony and play a larger role in protection and interpretation Tracing the history of interventions aimed at halting time's decay Chapman provides a chronicle of conservation efforts over a century and a half highlighting the significant part foreign expertise has played in the region and the ways that national programs have in recent years begun to break from earlier models The book ends with suggestions for how Southeast Asian managers and officials might best protect their incomparable heritage of art and architecture and how this legacy might be preserved for future generations

Political Corruption and Political Geography Peter J. Perry, 2018-12-20 First published 1997 this volume examines the way in which political corruption remains neglected as a matter of scholarly enquiry and research There is still a powerful and traditional taboo which is quite out of the step with the topic's real world significance and the increasing attention it receives from serious sections of the media The book aims by systematic exposition and case study to break down that taboo and to demonstrate the topic's importance within a framework provided by the discipline of geography The novelty of the book is then that it considers a formerly unconsidered factor corruption as part of the world's geography as both part of the geographical context in which human activity takes place and as a spatially variable condition explicable at least in part in terms of other geographies The conclusion is that much geographical scholarship ignores this factor at the risk of its credibility

Smuggling Simon Harvey, 2016-04-15 A cellar door creaked open in the middle of the night or a hand slipping quickly into a trenchcoat the most compelling transactions are surely those we never see Smuggling can conjure images of adventure and rebellion in popular culture Han Solo knew all about it as did Al Capone but as Simon Harvey shows in this fascinating book smuggling has had a profound effect on the geopolitics of the world Shining a light onto seven centuries of dark history he illuminates a world of intrigue and fortunes hinged on outlaw desires and those who have been willing to fulfill them Harvey tells this story by focusing on the most coveted contrabands of their time In the Age of Discovery these were silk spices and silver During the days of western empires they were gold opium tea and rubber And in modern times it has been of course drugs To the side of these major commodities he looks at a wide array of things that have always been in smugglers trunks from guns to art to the most dangerous of all ideas Central to this story are the not always legitimate forces of the Dutch and British East India Companies the luminaries of the Spanish Empire Napoleon Bonaparte the Nazis Soviet trophy brigades and the CIA all of whom have made smuggling at one point or another part of their modus operandi Beneath this Harvey traces out the smaller time smugglers the micro economies of everyday goods precious objects and people drawing the whole story together into a map of a subterranean world crisscrossed by smugglers paths All told this is the story of the unrelenting drive of markets to subvert the law of the invisible seams that have sewn the globe together

André Malraux Gino Raymond, 1995 André Malraux was pre eminent among his contemporaries in his passionate espousal of left wing causes and was the French writer who enjoyed the highest reputation during the 1930s for his attempts to reconcile the imperatives of literary creation with those of political action However of the many studies devoted to Malraux few have analyzed the politics depicted in his fiction in relation to the politics he proclaimed in an effort to establish the extent to which they informed or subverted each other Bibliographic Index ,1992
