The New Golden Land Anthology Judith Elkin, 1983 Smoothing the Ground Brian Swann, 1983 A compilation of essays and translations in which leading scholars in the fields of linguistics folklore ethno poetics and literary criticism discuss the continuing American Indian oral tradition as literature Native Americans invested the spoken word with reverence and power and the oral literature that resulted from the fusing of language and event into vital force is extraordinarily rich and potent Authors such as Dell Hymes Karl Kroeber Dennis Tedlock Jarold Ramsey and John Bierhorst address the many aspects of the study of this literature from the problem of translation and of the role of the literary critic to the interpretation of specific stories ISBN 0 520 04902 0 12 95 The Challenge of American History Louis P.

Cornelius Van Minnen, John F Sears, 2016-01-30 Pastoral Cities James L. Machor, 1987 What has the city meant to Americans James L Machor explores this question in a provocative analysis of American responses to urbanization in the context of the culture s tendency to valorize nature and the rural world Although much attention has been paid to American rural urban relations Machor focuses on a dimension largely overlooked by those seeking to explain American conceptions of the city While urban historians and literary critics have explicitly or implicitly emphasized the opposition between urban and rural sensibilities in America an equally important feature of American thought and writing has been the widespread interest in collapsing that division Convinced that the native landscape has offered special opportunities Americans since the age of settlement have sought to build a harmonious urban pastoral society combining the best of both worlds Moreover this goal has gone largely unchallenged in the culture except for the sophisticated responses in the writings of some of America s most eminent literary artists Pastoral Cities explains the development of urban pastoralism from its origins in the prophetic vision of the New Jerusalem applied to America in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries through its secularization in the urban planning and reform of the 1800s Machor critiques the sophisticated treatment of urban pastoralism by writers such as Emerson Whitman Hawthorne Wharton and James by skillfully by combining cultural analysis with a close reading of urban plans travel narratives sermons and popular novels The product of this multifaceted approach is an analysis that works to reveal both the strengths and weaknesses of the pastoral ideal as cultural mythology

Milton's Imperial Epic J. Martin Evans, 2018-10-18 Written during the crucial first phase of English empire building in the New World Paradise Lost registers the radically divided attitudes toward the settlement of America that existed in seventeenth century Protestant England Evans looks at the relationship between Milton's epic and the pervasive colonial discourse of Milton's time Evans bases his analysis on the literature of exploration and colonialism The primary sources on which he draws range from sermons about the New World justifying colonization and exhorting virtue among colonists to promotional pamphlets designed to lure people and investment into the colonies Evans's research allows him to create a richly textured picture of anxiety and optimism guilt and moral certitude The central question is whether Milton supported England's colonization or covertly attempted to subvert it In contrast to those who attribute to Paradise Lost a specific political agenda for the American colonies Evans maintains that Milton reflects the complexity and ambivalence of attitudes held by English society Analyzing Paradise Lost against this background Evans offers a new perspective on such fundamental issues as the narrator's shifting stance in the poem the unique character of Milton's prelapsarian paradise and the moral and intellectual status of Adam and Eve before and after the fall From Satan's arrival in Hell to the expulsion from the garden of Eden Milton's version of the Genesis myth resonates with the complex thematics of Renaissance colonialism

Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa ElizabethA. Sutton, 2017-07-05 Using Pieter de Marees Description and Historical Account of the Gold Kingdom of Guinea 1602 as her main source material author Elizabeth Sutton brings to bear approaches from the disciplines of art history and book history to explore the context in which De Marees account was created Since variations of the images and text were repeated in other European travel collections and decorated maps Sutton is able to trace how the framing of text and image shaped the formation of knowledge that continued to be repeated and distilled in later European depictions of Africans She reads the engravings in De Marees account as a demonstration of the intertwining domains of the Dutch pictorial tradition intellectual inquiry and Dutch mercantilism At the same time by analyzing the marketing tactics of the publisher Cornelis Claesz this study illuminates how early modern epistemological processes were influenced by the commodification of knowledge Sutton examines the book s construction and marketing to shed new light on the social milieus that shared interests in ethnography trade and travel Exploring how the images and text function together Sutton suggests that Dutch visual and intellectual traditions informed readers choices for translating De Marees text visually Through the examination of early modern Dutch print culture Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa expands the boundaries of our understanding of the European imperial enterprise
