Pathologies Of The Modern Self Psychoanalytic Crosscurrents:

National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Subject and Agency in Psychoanalysis Frances Moran, 1993-05 Psychoanalysis works with words words spoken by a subject who asks that the analyst listen This is the belief that underlies Francis Moran s rewarding exploration of a central problem in psychoanalytic theory namely the separation of the concepts of subject and agency Subject and Agency in Psychoanalysis contends that Freud simultaneously employs two frameworks for explaining agency one clinical and one theoretical As a result Freud s exploration of agency proceeds from two logically incompatible assumptions The division between these assumptions is a part of Freud s psychoanalytic legacy Moran reads the Freudian inheritance in light of this division showing how Klein and Hartmann s theoretical concepts of subject are adrift from the subject who speaks in analysis Moran also shows that while Lacan s subject provides more focus on this issue Lacan reverts to the Freudian division in his use of logically contradictory assumptions concerning the location of agency Drawing on contemporary theory development from Lacanian innovations to the social theories of Anthony Giddens Moran proposes a new and fertile approach to a fundamental problem significantly narrowing the gap between psychoanalytic theory and practice

Self and Other Robert Rogers, 1991 In Self and Other Robert Rogers presents a powerful argument for the adoption of a theory of object relations combining the best features of traditional psychoanalytic theory with contemporary views on attachment behavior and intersubjectivity Rogers discusses theory in relation both to actual psychoanalytic case histories and imagined selves found in literature and provides a critical rereading of the case histories of Freud Winnicott Lichtenstein Sechehaye and Bettelheim At once scientific and humanistic Self and Other engagingly draws from theoretical clinical and literary traditions It will appeal to psychoanalysts as well as to literary scholars interested in the application of psychoanalysis to literature

Pathologies of the Modern Self David Michael Kleinberg-Levin, 1987-01-01 Psychoanalysis and Development Massimo Ammaniti, Daniel N. Stern, 1994-10 Examines the growth of representation and narratives in the history and practice of psychoanalysis Explores the close and necessary relationship between Freud s theories of representation the building of an internal mental world allowing us to give meaning to our experiences and narration the idea that personal experience might assume the character of a narrative and illustrates how they have developed the language of therapy and affected the practice of both psychoanalysis and developmental psychology Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Idea of the Past Leonard J. Lamm, 1997-08 The advancement of psychoanalysis in America has reached an impasse Scientists are pitted against hermeneuticists theorists against practitioners and narrative truth against historical truth reflecting and refracting the role of the past in theory and therapy through a host of competing approaches Leonard Lamm argues against the impossible task of unifying psychoanalysis into a homogenous discourse proposing instead the acceptance of a pluralist model in which different modes of discourse are applicable and appropriate in different circumstances This innovative work sets out to unravel the opaque idea of the psychoanalytic past as expressed in countless theoretical voices from object relations to Lacanianism to ego psychology Dr Lamm redraws the map of American psychoanalytic argument and takes a fresh look at current debates on narrative truth metapsychology and the role of the past in psychoanalysis A thoughtful model emerges in which historical scientific and practical discourses and constructions of the past do not compose a hierarchy in psychoanalytic understanding Instead they are voices in a conversation in which they may differ without disagreeing
