Handbook of Regional and Urban Economics Peter Nijkamp, E.S. Mills, P.C. Cheshire, 1986 Fifteen essays in this handbook are divided into four parts Part I surveys basic spatial and spatially related research Part II surveys literature on specific urban markets Part III is devoted to studies of urban development and problems in developing countries Part IV contains papers on specific urban problems and sectors Urban And Regional Analysis For Development Planning Richard Rhoda, 2019-03-20 Dr Rhoda concisely presents the wide range of analytical methods available to urban and regional development planners Focusing on the needs of the practitioner in each chapter he concentrates on a particular analytical issue describing several types of relevant analyses and offering guidelines for selecting appropriate techniques to solve speci

State of the World's Cities 2010/2011, 2010 One billion people worldwide live in slums and that figure is predicted to reach 2 billion by 2030 This new volume from UN HABITAT unpacks the complex social and economic issues using the novel conceptual framework of the urban divide Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions Undine Giseke, Maria Gerster-Bentaya, Frank Helten, Matthias Kraume, Dieter Scherer, Guido Spars, Fouad Amraoui, Abdelaziz Adidi, Said Berdouz, Mohamed Chlaida, Majid Mansour, Mohamed Mdafai, 2015-09-07 This book demonstrates how agriculture can play a determining role in integrated climate optimised urban development Agriculture within urban growth centres today is more than an economic or social left over or a niche practice It is instead a complex system that offers multiple potentials for interaction with the urban system Urban open space and agriculture can be linked to a productive green infrastructure this forms new urban rural linkages in the urbanizing region and helps shape the city But in order to do this agriculture has to be seen as an integral part of the urban fabric and it has to be put on the local agenda Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions takes the example of Casablanca one of the fastest growing cities in North Africa to investigate this approach The creation of synergies between the urban and rural in an emerging megacity is demonstrated through pilot projects design solutions and multifunctional modules These synergies assure greater resource efficiency particularly regarding the use and reuse of water and they strengthen regional food security and the social integration of multiple spheres A transdisciplinary research approach brings together different scientific disciplines and local actors into a process of integrated knowledge production The book will have a long lasting legacy and is essential reading for researchers planners practitioners and policy makers who are working on urban development and urban agricultural strategies Land Use and Urban Form Grant Ian Thrall, 2017-10-12 Originally published in 1987 The Consumption Theory of Land Rent or CTLR is a comprehensive model of the urban landscape developed by Grant Ian Thrall Working from the basic idea that the same underlying processes account for the spatial structure of all places Thrall shows how CTLR can be used as a tool to explain and predict the long term consequences of policy decisions by governments such as introducing light rail rapid transit or parameter changes in the economy such as a general rise in real income Thrall's methodology for the analysis of land rent and land use in a significant research accomplishment and a major analytical tool for students and professionals within city planning regional science urban geography and urban economics

State of the World's Cities 2010/11 Un-Habitat, 2010-08-12 The world's urban population now exceeds the world's rural population What does this mean for the state of our cities given the strain this global demographic shift is placing upon current urban infrastructures Following on from previous State of the World's Cities reports this edition uses the framework of The Urban Divide to analyse the complex social political economic and cultural dynamics of urban environments In particular the book focuses on the concept of the right to the city and ways in which many urban dwellers are excluded from the advantages of city life using the framework to explore links among poverty inequality slum formation and economic growth The volume will be essential reading for all professionals and policymakers in the field as well as a valuable resource for researchers and students in all aspects of urban development Published with UN Habitat

Governing Urban Regions Through Collaboration Joël Thibert, 2016-04-22 With the demise of the Old Regionalist project of achieving good regional governance through amalgamation voluntary collaboration has become the modus operandi of a large number of North American metropolitan regions Although many researchers have become interested in regional collaboration and its determinants few have specifically studied its outcomes This book contributes to filling this gap by critically re-evaluating the fundamental premise of the New Regionalism which is that regional problems can be solved without regional higher government In particular this research asks to what extent does regional collaboration have a significant independent influence on the determinants of regional resilience Using a comparative Canada U S mixed method approach with detailed case studies of the San Francisco Bay Area the Greater Montreal and trans national Niagara Buffalo regions the book examines the direct and indirect impacts of inter local collaboration on policy and policy outcomes at the regional and State Provincial levels The book research concentrates on the effects of bottom up state mandated and functional collaboration and the moderating role of regional awareness higher governmental initiative and civic capital on three outcomes environmental preservation socio economic integration and economic competitiveness In short the book seeks to highlight those conditions that favor collaboration and might help avoid the collaborative trap of collaboration for its own sake More specifically this research concentrates on the effect of bottom up state mandated and functional collaboration the moderating role of regional awareness governmental initiative and civic capital on environmental preservation socio economic integration and economic competitiveness In short the book seeks to understand whether and how urban regional collaboration contributes to regional resilience

looks at the complexity of the topic of industrial site planning Levels and actors are understood and discussed in terms of their mutual interaction There is no stable end state in any industrial sector At best these are states of balance in motion The aim is therefore to show paths and phases of development that help to overcome stagnation thresholds and to explore the triggering moments for new dynamics Technological justifications such as AI Industry 4.0 decarbonization are only one dimension Industrial policy cooperation models intercommunal for example in the case between market participants and producers as well as integrative planning activities both have socio-economic and ecological dimensions Based on various regional examples from central Germany and certain international comparisons this volume helps illustrate industrial location developments in the context of ongoing regional structural changes The author's architect and member of relevant specialist organizations MBA in Switzerland and the USA involvement with a wide variety of projects monuments university and industrial buildings residential construction etc over almost 40 years is based on design and construction practice Furthermore 7 technical experts have reflected on the diverse dimension of the subject presented in this volume Additionally deindustrialization scenarios are contrasted with the necessity and path to neo-industrialization
