Regional Security Structures In Asia:

Regional Security Structures in Asia Ashok Kapur, 2003 Ashok Kapur argues that explanations of international relations in Asia in the post Second World War period have relied too much on the Cold War as a key explanatory factor and outlines alternative concepts that may have wider explanatory powers

Regional Security Structures in Asia Ashok Kapur, 2018-10-24 Kapur argues that explanations of international relations in Asia in the post Second World War period have relied too much on the Cold War as a key explanatory factor and have not given enough emphasis to the useful concepts of regional power formation conflict formation and conflict resolution The author outlines these concepts and goes on to elaborate on them and to apply them to three key Asian regions northeast southeast and south Asia discussing practical strategic issues in an historical perspective and arguing that these concepts and other concepts which he discusses are extremely helpful in making sense of the complex pattern of international relations in Asia

Regionalism and Multilateralism Amitav Acharya, 2003 These essays written between 1990 and 2000 cover the most significant phase of multilateral institution building in the Asia Pacific region They deal with the emergence of regionalism in Southeast Asia ASEAN's transition to the post Cold War era the role of the ASEAN Regional Forum the engagement of China the changing relationship between sovereignty and regionalism and prospects for the regional institutions such as ASEAN APEC and the ARF after the Asian economic crisis The essays address the most challenging issues of regional order and articulate an institutionalist understanding of international relations in the region This updated second edition includes four new chapters and two revised chapters

Regional Security in South Asia and the Gulf Umer Karim, Saloni Kapur, 2023-02-24 As we move towards a world without superpowers the dynamics within and between regions are of growing significance Against this backdrop this book explores the links between South Asia and the Gulf which have existed for centuries but are undergoing important shifts in the transition to multipolarity With a special focus on India Pakistan Iran Bangladesh Saudi Arabia the United Arab Emirates Sri Lanka and Oman this volume brings together scholars from across these regions to investigate what the decentring world order means for the relationship between South Asia and the Gulf It employs Regional Security Complex Theory to examine the changing global patterns of power and their impact on the inter regional patterns of amity and enmity between states in South Asia and the Gulf It employs both constructivist and realist approaches seeking to understand how power and social processes influence the political and security linkages between these regions

The Transformation of Security in the Asia/Pacific Region Desmond Ball, 2013-10-14 The security architecture of the Asia Pacific region is in a profound transformation Such changes are not without problems which are discussed here

Regional Security in Southeast Asia Mely Caballero Anthony, 2005 The book examines ASEAN's mechanisms in managing challenges and threats to regional security Its extensive analyses of the ASEAN story of managing regional security cover the different phases of ASEAN's development as a regional organization and explore the perceptible changes that have occurred in regional mechanisms of conflict management The book also examines the roles of relevant actors beyond the states of ASEAN and the key interactions that have evolved over time which have been instrumental in moving regional mechanisms beyond the ASEAN way The book argues that the ASEAN way has not been impervious to change As the association finds its way through periods of crises and continues to confront the many challenges ahead ASEAN and its mechanisms are already being transformed beyond the narrow confines of the modalities associated with the ASEAN way The changes in the political and security landscape of the region as well as the democratic transitions taking place in some member states have set the stage for a much more dynamic set of regional actors and processes that bring into question the kind of regionalism that is now taking place in the region the way regionalism is changing in Southeast Asia Central Asia and Regional Security Mr P L Dash, Ms Anita Sengupta, Mr Murat M Bakhadirov, 2014-02-15 While security concerns have assumed salience across the globe Afghanistan's proximity to Central Asia has meant that security or perceptions of insecurity dominate the strategic discourse in the region Issues that stand out include the challenges that the Central Asian states will face in terms of stability ethnic tensions radicalization of youth destabilization of commodity flows and energy security and the impact that these could have on Central Asian society However security cannot just be defined in terms of security at the borders It needs to be defined in cosmopolitan terms through an array of issues like movements across borders radicalism within states the sharing of water and various multilateral attempts at combating insecurity This volume is an attempt to focus on some of these issues that reflect on perceptions of security principally from Indian and Uzbek positions It examines shifts over the last two decades from debates on the geopolitical importance of the region from a great game perspective to the salience of new engagements within the international arena Strategic Multilateralism and the Regional Security Architecture of the Indo-Pacific Thomas S. Wilkins, The Architecture of Security in the Asia-Pacific Ronald Huisken, 2009-10-01 We cannot expect in East Asia over the foreseeable future to see the sort of conflation of sovereign states that has occurred in Europe We must anticipate that for the foreseeable future the requirement will be for the sensible management and containment of competitive instincts The establishment of a multilateral security body in East Asia that includes all the key players and which the major powers invest with the authority to tackle the shaping of the regional security order remains a critical piece of unfinished business Afghanistan and Central Asia: NATO's Role in Regional Security Since 9/11 O. Tanrisever, 2013-02-15 Instability in Afghanistan has had a considerable effect on regional security in Central Asia particularly in the aftermath of the events of 9/11 and this has meant that the importance of NATO and its contribution to security in this area has increased considerably A detailed analysis of this topic is precisely important because it could highlight the areas where the Central Asian countries could increase their security contributions to Afghanistan's security through enhancing their cooperation with NATO This book presents the fully revised and updated versions of papers presented at the NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW NATO the Fight against International Terrorism in Afghanistan and Security Situation in Central Asia since 9 11 held in Ankara Turkey in April 2011 This ARW was supported by the NATO Science for Peace and Security Programme The book takes a comprehensive approach to the regional security complex in Central Asia by emphasizing the human security socio political and energy dimensions in addition to the traditional military dimension of the fight against international terrorism in and around Afghanistan The findings of the book enhance our understanding of the root causes of international terrorism and the effective ways of coping with the security challenges in this region The book is divided into five parts First NATO s Contribution to Lasting Security in Afghanistan Second Responses of the Central Asian States to Political Instability Organized Crime and International Terrorism in Afghanistan Third Energy Security in and around Central Asia Fourth International Competition and Co operation over Afghanistan and Central Asia and Last but not least Regional Security Organizations and the Fight against International Terrorism in Afghanistan

Asia-Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2024 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2024-05-31 The Asia Pacific Regional Security Assessment APRSA examines key regional security policies and challenges relevant to the proceedings of the IISS Shangri La Dialogue Asia s premier defence summit convened by the International Institute for Strategic Studies IISS It is published and launched at the Dialogue and the issues analysed within its covers are central to discussions at the event and beyond This eleventh edition comes as the APRSA celebrates its first decade A dozen IISS experts reflect on a decade of change and continuity across major security policies and challenges facing the Asia Pacific region Three themes materialise across six chapters the pressure and constraints surrounding great power competition the enduring value of alliances and partnerships and the impact of advanced and emerging technology for regional security dynamics In addition to the introduction the APRSA will now feature a special topic chapter providing a deeper analysis of an enduring security policy and challenge The other five chapters investigate further key dimensions of the regional security environment supported by maps graphs charts and tables The six chapters of this year s APRSA cover the following topics Combined military exercises in the Asia Pacific Crisis management between the United States and China India s defence partnership in the Asia Pacific Diplomatic approaches to managing the Myanmar conflict Disinformation campaigns in the Asia Pacific The Asia Pacific air to air challenge Asia-Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2017 Tim Huxley,William Choong,2023-05-31 This book offers an analysis of the four central regional security themes relevant to the policy focussed discussions at the annual IISS Shangri La Dialogue Namely The evolving roles of the United States and China in Asia Pacific security Responses by the US and regional states to regional security tensions particularly in the South China Sea Emerging security questions relating to nuclear weapons missiles and military cyber capabilities The prospects for regional security cooperation including the challenges for the ASEAN centred architecture The Security Environment in the Asia-Pacific Hung-Mao Tien,Ten-jen Cheng,2016-09-16 Multilateral security forums in the Asia Pacific region have evolved but bilateral defence alliances continue to form the principle pillars of national security for most nations in the region This text presents a survey of issues confronting the Asia Pacific region as it enters year 2000 Bilateral Perspectives on Regional Security W. Tow,R. Kersten,2012-08-31 This book assesses the key factors underlying such Australian Japanese cooperation and those policy challenges that could impede it Experts offer critical insights into why their two countries traditionally the two key spokes in the US bilateral alliance network spanning Asia are moving toward a security relationship in their own right Security Politics in the Asia-Pacific William T. Tow,2009-10-15 In this book leading experts present research on the evolution of key issues in Asian security Northeast Asia Regional Security and the United States Military ,2002 This is the 47th volume in the Occasional Paper series of the United States Air Force Institute for National Security Studies INSS Among its many contributions to United States security two noted repositories of strategic expertise within the United States Army are its foreign area officer cadre and the Department of Social Sciences faculty at the United States Military Academy This collection of papers on Northeast Asian regional security taps the combined strength of both its authors are four Army officers with demonstrated regional expertise all currently or formerly assigned to West Point s Department of Social Sciences The combined set of papers covers a broad and relevant swath of territory both geographic and conceptual The first paper by Jay Parker addresses the regional security context with special emphasis on that strategic landscape as viewed from the perspective of Japanese security and the United States role both in Japanese security and within the broader region Sue Bryant then fits the Korean peninsula into that regional security context adding special emphasis on the Korean road toward unification and on the continuing U S military presence in Korea both for peninsular and regional security reasons Finally Russ Howard and Al Wilner add China to the mix and also add the third level of analysis their focus is on post September 11 2001 issues and opportunities and the specific military to military dimension of the United States overall military presence and policy Together the papers cover the region as well as policy recommendations from macro U S security and military policy to force presence to the significant roles of individual service members

Asia-Pacific Security Cooperation: National Interests and Regional Order See Seng Tan, 2014-12-18 New developments in the Asia Pacific are forcing regional officials to rethink the way they manage security issues The contributors to this work explore why some forms of security cooperation and institutionalisation in the region have proven more feasible than others This work describes the emergence of the professions in late tsarist Russia and their struggle for autonomy from the aristocratic state It also examines the ways in which the Russian professions both resembled and differed from their Western counterparts Russian Security Policy in the Asia-Pacific Region: Two Views , Asia's New Institutional Architecture Vinod K. Aggarwal, Min Gyo Koo, 2008-02-04 Can regional and interregional mechanisms better institutionalize the creasing complexity of economic and security ties among states in Nor east Southeast and South Asia As the international state system und goes dramatic changes in both security and trade relations in the wake of the Cold War s end the Asian financial crisis and the attacks of Sept ber 11 2001 this question is now of critical importance to both academics and policymakers Still little research has been done to integrate the ana sis of both regional security and economic dynamics within a broader c text that will give us theoretically informed policy insights Indeed when we began our background research on the origin and e lution of Asia s institutional architecture in trade and security we found that many scholars had focused on individual subregions whether Nor east Southeast or South Asia In some cases scholars examined links tween Northeast and Southeast Asia and the literature often refers to these two subregions collectively as Asia artificially bracketing South Asia Of course we are aware that as products of culture economics history and politics the boundaries of geographic regions change over time Yet the rapid rise of India and its increasing links to East Asia especially those formed in the early 1990s suggest that it would be fruitful to examine both developments within each subregion as well as links across subregions
